Troops Pour Into Mid-East

Lebanon Parliament Opposes U.S. Entry

Ike, Lloyd Have Similar Views

U. S. Supports British Troops In Jordan, But Won't Send Own

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Eisenhower and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd Thursday reviewed British-American military moves in the seething Middle East and reported "a close identity of views."

The two leaders met in an hour-long emergency conference at the White House as the United States proclaimed its support of British troop landings in pro-West Jordan.

This country emphasized that no American forces will be sent to join British paratroop units in Jordan's capital of Amman for the present at least.

Jordan's young King Hussein has appealed to both Western powers for help in averting what he calls a plot similar to the one that overthrew the Iraq government Monday.

The White House conference followed four hours of intensive talks between Lloyd and Secretary of State Dulles. The British foreign secretary flew from London to coordinate American - British military moves.

In a joint statement referring particularly to Jordan and Lebanon, Eisenhower and Lloyd reported they had discussed the combined efforts of their governments to "assure the independence and integrity of these two small countries by giving them assistance requested by their lawful governments."

Lloyd and Dulles, accompanied by their military advisers, hurried back to the State Department late Thursday to continue the virtually nonstop talks that began within minutes after Lloyd's plane landed here shortly before noon.

Diplomatic reports from overseas indicated the pro-Egyptian rebels who seized the Iraq government Monday were in firm control of most of the country, including the capital of Baghdad where King Faisal and his top civilian leaders were reported killed.

The State Department in a terse report acknowledged that Iraq army units controlled by the rebels are protecting American lives and property in Baghdad. It gave no details.

The United States began landing Marines in Lebanon Tuesday but made it clear Thursday that despite some diplomatic reports to the contrary there will be no movement of American troops into Jordan.

The formal announcement, that was aimed at scotching reports U.S. troops would move into Jordan immediately, came two hours after Dulles and Lloyd began emergency talks.

"There is no plan for United States troops to go into Jordan," said an announcement. "This does not seem warranted at this time."

2,000 Russians Voice Protests Before Embassy

MOSCOW (AP)—More than 2,000 Russians howled protests outside the U. S. Embassy Thursday against the landing of U.S. Marines in Lebanon. Their raucous, but nonviolent demonstration lasted more than three hours.

The demonstrators drove up in buses and trucks, marched in well-organized columns to the embassy, and plastered the railings in front with placards and posters.

Then they stood around waving banners, shaking their fists, whistling, shouting and singing revolutionary songs.

Two windows in the embassy were shattered. A young demonstrator kicked in one—a basement window — when he clambered up the railing to paste a placard on the wall.

This was the second recent demonstration by Russians outside the embassy. On June 25 a crowd swarmed to the embassy in retaliation for a demonstration outside the Soviet U.N. delegation headquarters in New York. The issue then was the execution of Hungary's Imre Nagy.

Other mass protest meetings against the U.S. action in the Middle East were reported from Kiev and Leningrad. The Soviet news agency Tass said the protests spread to a number of collective and state farms throughout the Soviet Union.

Peiping radio reported half a million Chinese demonstrated in the capital of Red China.

Demonstrators started gathering here about 4:30 p.m., when most Soviet factory workers knock off work. Many of the crowd looked like factory workers.

Madame Chiang Blames Soviet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The First Lady of Nationalist China blames the Soviet Union for the Middle East crisis. She said the Soviets made that area serve Communist purposes "by whipping arab nationalism to a blind excitement."

Madame Chiang Kai-shek made the statement Thursday in a prepared speech to the National Press Club on the "Continuing Challenge of Communism."

She recalled that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev predicted in 1956 that the West would be booted out of the Middle East. Iraq, she said, became a victim of international communism and "what happened in Iraq cannot but whet the appetite of the voracious Russian bear."

Should Jordan and Lebanon also go Communist, Israel's position would become untenable, Mme. Chiang Kai-shek said.

Soviet Pilots Receive Gifts

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government gave grateful thanks and gifts Thursday to the Soviet pilots and radar operators who forced down an American Air Force plane in Soviet Armenia June 27.

The military newspaper Red Star said the Defense Ministry commended the men for "successful fulfillment of tasks of command."

U.S. Charges Master Plot In Mid-East

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States charged Thursday there is a master plot to take over the Middle East by indirect aggression and the U.N. may fall apart unless it copes with it.

The charge was made by U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge in the 11-nation Security Council as it pressed toward a vote on rival Soviet and U.S. proposals on the Middle East crisis.

Ambassador Arkady A. Sobolev served notice the Soviet Union would demand an emergency meeting of the 81-nation General Assembly if the Council refuses to order immediate withdrawal of U.S. forces from Lebanon and British forces from Jordan.

Lodge did not refer to President Nasser of the United Arab Republic in making his charges, but he said the plot stemmed from one source, "and you can read all about it in the Cairo newspapers."

The council recessed at 5:20 p.m. (EST) until 7:30 p.m. with each side determined to press for a vote on its resolution.

There were these additional developments:

1. Jordan accused Nasser's United Arab Republic of instigating a plot aimed at overthrowing the pro-Western monarchy of King Hussein and said it was forced to call for British military aid to meet the threat to Jordan's independence.

2. Britain informed the Council formally of the dispatch of troops to Jordan and said they would be withdrawn when Jordan's independence is no longer threatened.

Goldfine Completes His Testimony Before Probers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard Goldfine finished his testimony before a House investigating subcommittee Thursday and promptly complained, "Every possible attempt was made to smear me."

Republican subcommittee members devoted much of the eighth and final day of Goldfine's testimony to trying to show the gift-giving Boston millionaire behaved no differently toward Democratic than toward Republican office holders.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) insisted the inquiry has been nonpartisan.

Goldfine testified he visited and telephoned John R. Steelman when Steelman was assistant to President Harry S. Truman more than he did his friend Sherman Adams, assistant to President Eisenhower.

The hearings have been aimed at finding out whether Adams exerted influence in Goldfine's behalf. Goldfine repeatedly denied it, as Adams had done before the subcommittee just a month ago.

Goldfine said he contributed heavily to both party funds—probably $100,000 over the years.

Steelman told a newsman his contacts with Goldfine were above board discussions of a project that came within Steelman's jurisdiction as head of the National Securities Resources Board.

Goldfine was interested at the time in federal financing for a project, never carried through, to construct a big underground parking garage in Boston. Steelman has said the Truman administration was interested in the possibility that such a project could be used as an emergency bomb shelter.

Goldfine's windup session with the committee was stormy throughout, with words like "doubtful credibility,' 'contemptible" and "remarkable exploitation of assets" flying back and forth. But after the session ended, Goldfine shook hands with almost everyone he could reach.

Harris, who had been visibly angered by some of the arguments, stalked off to another meeting after adjourning the hearings indefinitely, refusing to discuss future plans.

Pro-Western Leaders Back Protest Move

Speaker Plans Call Of Special Session To Hear Complaints

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Many pro-Western members of parliament Thursday were reported rallying to speaker Adel Osseyran in opposition to the landings of U. S. Marines in Lebanon.

A quick check of the membership indicated that these include deputies normally friendly to President Camille Chamoun but now opposing his invitation that brought the Marines ashore.

Osseyran has protested the landings to President Eisenhower and to the U.N. He claimed that a majority in parliament back his protest and said he plans to call a special session to consider the complaints.

One report said almost two-thirds of the entire Parliament have lined up behind Osseyran. Although pro-Chamoun and pro-West, some complained Lebanon's independence and sovereignty have been infringed on by the landings.

Rejoice At Customers

Many merchants in the capital rejoiced over new customers. The Marines, their guns unfired, are dug in around International Airport and along Beirut's Gold Coast and are buying soda pop at 50 cents a bottle.

Rebel leaders also opposed the landings and have vowed to fight it. Their opposition stems from other grounds, chiefly their fight against Chamoun succeeding himself as president. They deny they are backed by the United Arab Republic of President Nasser and insist they are only an internal political opposition.

The normally pro-Western Osseyran said he had cabled a protest against the landings to President Eisenhower and U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld. The protest was read to the Security Council in New York by the delegate of the United Arab Republic.

Counted On Support

Apparently Chamoun figured he could count on his majority in Parliament for support on the issue. In launching their revolt more than two months ago, the rebels said Chamoun planned to use his parliamentary majority to amend the constitution so he could seek re-election.

Deputy Emile Bustani, pro-Western member, said he counted only 26 out of the 66 members of Parliament who supported Chamoun's decision to call on the United States for help.

Assad Ashkar, pro-Western head of the Syrian Social National party, denounced the troop arrivals as unnecessary. He said his followers, if given arms, could have crushed the revolt against the government in Lebanon.

Wealthy Couple Shot To Death

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The wealthy daughter of the Republican national committeewoman from Texas and her oilman husband were found shot to death in their luxurious Dallas home Thursday.

Mrs. Jean Black Hill, an attractive 36-year-old brunette, was shot four times with a .22-caliber pistol. Her husband, Charles H. Hill Jr., 43, was shot once. The gun lay near Hill's body.

Justice of the Peace Glenn Byrd held that Hill killed his wife and then committed suiride.

The bodies were found in an upstairs bedroom by the couple's 13-year-old daughter, Carol, after she heard shots at 8 a.m.

A family source said Hill, an oil investor, had been under medical care.

Mrs. Hill, once active in Dallas society, was the daughter of Mrs. John R. Black of Dallas, national Republican committeewoman from Texas.

Senate Beats Down Trade Law Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Thursday night defeated 85-4 a proposal of Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa) to make permanent the 24-year-old reciprocal trade law.

Leaders said it still was uncertain whether final action on the bill would come Friday or next week. Several more lengthy speeches remained to be delivered.

The Clark move did not win any general backing even from supporters of President Eisenhower in the trade program fight. As the Senate inched toward this first vote in two lengthy days of debate, it heard hours of oratory aimed in large part at the voters back home.

Sen. Chapman Revercomb (R-WVa) asked the Senate to accept restrictions written into the trade pact extension by the Finance Committee, over the objections of the administration.

Revercomb said the trade program has dealt heavy blows to the coal, glass and pottery industries of West Virginia.

On the other hand, Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich), told the Senate it would be tragic for Michigan if the bill were not enacted in line with the House version—which gave the administration about what it wants.

The program authorizes the President to negotiate tariff cuts with other nations willing to cut their tariffs on U.S. goods. The House has voted to grant a five-year extension, with authority for the President to cut tariffs up to 25 per cent.

Ike Is Pleased At Nations' Backing

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has expressed his appreciation to the leaders of Turkey Iran and Pakistan for backing the United States decision to send troops to Lebanon.

The White House made public a message Eisenhower sent Wednesday which said:

"I am profoundly gratified by your support for this action, taken in accordance with the principles of the United Nations Charter which recognizes as inherent the right of all nations to work together and to seek help when necessary to preserve their independence."

He was sentenced in May to serve up to eight months for larceny.

Missile Fired, Cone Recovered

CAPE CANAVERAL Fla. (AP) —The Army completed another successful re-entry test Thursday by firing a mighty Jupiter Missile 1,500 miles through space and recovering its nose cone in the Atlantic Ocean 1½ hours later.

It was the second time in two months that a full-scale nose cone was retrieved intact after it streaked from space through the earth's red-hot atmosphere without burning up.

The latest success bolstered the claims of missile experts that the United States now has no problem getting a missile warhead back to earth after a swift journey through space.

The flight also logged another successful mission for the Jupiter intermediate - range ballistic missile—IRBM—which is expected to provide the first-stage vehicle for the Army's moon rocket.

The Jupiter conquered the IRBM re-entry challenge for the first time May 18 when a full-scale nose cone weighing 1½ tons was recovered.

The current nose cone was located and recovered by a Navy search unit stationed near the impact area off Antigua Island, several hundred miles east of Puerto Rico.

House Passes States Rights Bill, 240 To 155

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ingoring veto threats, the House passed a bill Thursday designed to prevent the Supreme Court from knocking out state laws not in direct conflict with federal laws on the same subject.

The bill, cleared by a roll-call vote of 240-155 after three days of debate, now goes to the Senate where indications were it wouldn't be nearly so popular.

There were predictions during House debate that the states rights measure would be vetoed if it gets to President Eisenhower's desk, since the Justice and Labor departments have opposed it.

The bill was introduced by Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va) on the opening day of Congress last year and was approved by the House Judiciary Committee last month by a split vote. It had the backing of Southern Democrats and most Republicans. They said it was necessary to preserve the constitutional rights of state legislatures.

Opponents called it an open invitation to state legislatures to enact laws removing the teeth from federal statutes dealing with labor, civil rights, railroads, agriculture and integration.

This contention was denied emphatically by proponents, who beat off all efforts to limit the bill's scope.

In brief, the bill says that unless Congress specifically says so, no federal law shall be interpreted as superseding state laws on the same subject unless the state act is in direct and positive conflict with the federal law and the conflict cannot be reconciled.

It would apply, if finally enacted, to almost all past acts of Congress since few of them contained an antipreemption clause. An amendment by Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) to prevent the measure from applying to past federal laws was beaten by a voice vote.

Lebanon Rebels Capture, Quiz Two U.S. Marines

BEIRUT (AP)—Two U.S. Marines reported Thursday night they had been captured by Lebanese rebels and released after three hours of questioning.

The men told their story to a hastily summoned news conference in the presence of Marine commander Jack Pillsbury, public information officer on Adm. Staff.

The two Marines are Sgt. Raymond M. Garren, 29, of Nanticoke, Pa., and Pfc. James J. Ward, 22, a British subject of Northern Ireland who went to the United States in October 1956 and joined the Marines last year. Here is their story:

They were riding in a jeep toward a Marine command post in the port area at 9:30 a.m. They made a wrong turn.

Ward, who was driving, reported a small panel truck appeared opposite them, suddenly blocking their way. The truck contained six men, some uniformed, some not.

Two men got out of the truck and flagged the Marines with automatic guns. The Marines did not resist since they did not know whether the party was friendly or otherwise, and they were under instructions to be cooperative with Lebanese forces.

The two Marines were ordered out of the jeep and pushed roughly toward a shack 100 yards away.

A man who said he was a schoolmaster questioned the two Marines. They were treated in a friendly manner, given cigarets and soft drinks.

The Marine jeep was stripped of its contents. These were later returned when the jeep was escorted by Lebanese military policemen back to the Beirut port area.

During the questioning two good looking women, one of whom spoke English, were present. Sgt. Garren, under questioning, added that from the shack they were taken to a doctor's office and questioned some more.

Britain Flies Paratroopers Into Jordan

Units Of French, U.S. Fleets Are In Lebanon Waters

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Britain rushed 2,000 paratroopers to Jordan Thursday to help young King Hussein face up to new threats to his throne. The British thus joined the United States in a massive military buildup in the smouldering Middle East.

King Hussein asked for the British help, charging President Nasser's United Arab Republic had plotted to overthrow him. He feared a pro-Nasser coup such as the one which killed his cousin, King Faisal II, in Iraq Monday. That coup sent the Middle East to its present crisis.

The Soviet Union massed land, sea and air forces along its southern frontiers and announced maneuvers will begin Friday in areas bordering Turkey and Iran.

U. S. Navy jet fighters made a low-altitude demonstration flight over Jordan in connection with the British landing.

Return To Carriers

A Pentagon spokesman in Washington said more than 50 planes from the carriers Saratoga and Essex made the 70-minute run along the Jordan River Valley "to let it be known they were there." All returned to carriers without incident.

There were more than 8,000 U.S. and British troops in Lebanon, Jordan and Turkey.

With 3,400 Marines already ashore in Lebanon and more than 1,000 paratroopers in Turkey, the United States sent two aircraft carriers, a heavy cruiser and 16 destroyers into Lebanese waters. There they joined 25 other units of the U.S. 6th Fleet. The French cruiser De Grasse anchored off Beirut. Britain sent the 43,000-ton carrier Eagle into the eastern Mediterranean.

British Already There

More U.S. paratroopers were being flown to the Middle East from their NATO bases in West Germany, and reinforcements were on the way for the German bases from the United States.

Britain already has a submarine squadron, three destroyer squadrons and an amphibious warfare squadron in the eastern Mediterranean.

Hussein said the Iraqi uprising surprised Jordan and the world and was carried out with barbaric crimes. This was a reference to the killing of Faisal, Crown Prince Abdul Ilah, and Premier Nuri Said, strong man head of the Iraq-Jordan Federation.

Rebels Lash Back

The Iraqi rebel regime lashed back, calling on Jordanians in a broadcast from Baghdad to overthrow Hussein. Baghdad said Jordan is being occupied by "the forces of imperialism." It asserted Hussein "is disrupting our effort to get rid of imperialism."

Uneasiness spread through the seething Middle East. Iran placed guards on the frontier with Iraq after getting reports Iraqi border guards had been reinforced with tanks and armored cars.

Passport Ban Talks Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse (R-Ore) forced the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Thursday to suspend hearings on a bill which would permit the State Department to refuse Passports to Communists and their backers.

Morse opposes the bill and he took advantage of a Senate rule to win a delay at least until next week. The rule says a committee may not meet, except by unanimous consent of the Senate, when the Senate is in session.

By raising an objection, Morse was able to delay another hearing until Monday morning. He can raise further objections whenever the Senate is in session.

President Eisenhower asked urgently for the bill, which would overthrow a Supreme Court decision in the passport field. Morse contends the bill would violate constitutional rights of individuals; he described it as an "unconstitutional house of legislative illfame."

Toothpaste Claims Said Misleading, Exaggerated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dental and therapeutic claims made for toothpastes are misleading and exaggerated.

Brushing the teeth is what counts, they told a congressional committee, not the brand of toothpaste that goes on the brush.

Several spokesmen for the American Dental Assn. appeared before a House Government Operations subcommittee to urge legislation which would permit the federal government to control reckless claims in toothpaste advertising.

The subcommittee is investigating advertising of dentrifices and the record of regulatory agencies in protecting the public from deception.

Dr. Ralph E. Craig of Cleveland, a member of the Dental Assn.'s Council on Legislation, said the Federal Trade Commission concedes it is powerless to halt unsupported advertising claims for dentifrices.

Dr. Sholom Pearlman of Chicago, a member of the association's Council on Dental Therapeutics, testified no dentifrice now available has been demonstrated to be of significant value by itself in preventing oral disease.

"The brushing is what counts," he said.

Earth Tremors Felt

SALONIKA, Greece (AP) — A series of earth tremors shook the Salonika area Thursday. No casualties were reported but a dozen houses collapsed and scores were damaged in nearby villages.

U.S. Tightens Security On Cuban Base

GUANTANAMO, Cuba (AP) — U.S. naval authorities at the southeast Cuba base tightened security Thursday in readiness for any emergency action in the crises spreading from Mideast conflicts.

The immediate idea here is that no more Cuban rebel shenanigans will be tolerated and U.S. Navy men and families must watch their step.

The rebels handed back four U.S. servicemen during the day.

Fourteen of the busload of 29 American sailors and Marines kidnaped by the rebels June 27 still are held in a mountain stronghold. They are expected to be released within the next few days.

The base has been placed on a four - hour alert. New orders were issued that no officers or men can leave the big base area to go into nearby Guantanamo City or elsewhere without a special pass.

Sailors and Marines were keeping round-the-clock watch on all strategic entrances to the base.

Families of base personnel were brought into the base from Guantanamo City as a precaution against further kidnap attempts.

The tightened security was prompted by small bands of rebels that approached within a mile of the main gate of the base within the last day, stopping cars and searching for weapons needed by the rebel guerilla forces.

The hostages released Thursday and flown back to the base by Navy helicopter are:

Hannibal E. Holmes Jr., Richmond, Va.

Albert H. Matthews, New York City.

Merrit H. Stuck, Grand Rapids Mich.

Robert C. Gerringer, Downington, Pa.

Nasser Sends Out Messages

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—President Nasser sent personal messages Thursday to Prime Minister Nehru of India, President Sukarno of Indonesia, and Premier Chou En-lai of Red China.

A spokesman said acting Foreign Minister Ali Sabry had delivered the messages to ambassadors of the three countries for relay. The contents were not divulged, but obviously the notes dealt with the Middle East situation.

Nasser was due home Thursday or Friday from his 12-day visit to Yugoslavia. He sailed Monday from Brioni.

In a statement Wednesday, Nasser said American troop landings in Lebanon constituted a "danger to Middle East peace" and a "threat to Arab countries."

Sabry also conferred with envoys of the United States, the Soviet Union, and Italy. Acting President and War Minister Field Marshal Abdel Hakim Amer conferred with the Soviet air force chief of staff, Marshal Serge I. Rudenko, here on a 10-day visit.

State Police Head Answers Jury's Charges

CHARLESTON — State Police Supt. Hazen Fair said he has written all members of the Grant County grand jury for further information about traffic and liquor law violations.

Fair sent out the letters yesterday after receiving a recommendation from the grand jury that these laws be more rigidly enforced.

The recommendation — first of its kind Fair has received — contained a statement that it was not meant as a criticism of the department, or any of its members.

The jury's communication mentioned a two-man detachment in Grant County, but Fair said actually three men were assigned to that county — a corporal and two troopers. He said that under existing circumstances, such as budget limitations, the size of the detachment could not be increased at this time.

He pointed out that the three state policemen provide a ratio to Grant County's population, which is about 8,750, three times higher than that for the average in the state.

The superintendent said further that reports from the county do not indicate an abnormal number of highway accidents or liquor law violations. In fact, he continued, property damage and injury accidents, as well as fatalities, all ran lower for the first six months of this year than for the same period of 1957.

Fair added that some neighboring counties — he named Pendleton and Tucker — have fewer state policemen assigned to them than Grant County.

In his letter to the grand jurors, Fair expressed appreciation for their interest in law enforcement. Commenting Wednesday, he added that he would be pleased to get expressions from other counties.

Pro-Western

From the rebel side came a warning from national front leader Saeb Salem that his rebels would "seek aid of all kinds from all free nations of the world" to "repel this aggression with all means at our disposal." He said no foreign troops were needed in Lebanon to protect foreign lives.

Stunned Rebellion

It seemed for the time being the presence of U.S. Marines had stunned the rebellion into a temporary paralysis. There was no reason to believe that the rebels had called it quits.

The overthrow of Faisal in Iraq bolstered Lebanese rebels when they seemed to be faltering. Quite likely, the rebels might have attempted to finish off the Chamoun government had the Marines not landed.

Fighting in this revolt-torn capital has practically died out since the troop arrivals. Some sporadic shooting broke out in the Moslem quarter Wednesday night but that could have been Salem's way of laying to rest the rumors that he had ordered a cease-fire.

In this background, U.S. special envoy Robert Murphy flew into Beirut in a huge U.S. Air Force KC135 jet tanker on a nonstrip flight from Westover Field, Mass. He expressed the hope the U.S. forces can contribute to peace and stability in the Middle East.

Two Women Testify They Got Threats

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Chicago women testified Thursday they were threatened with broken bones unless they joined a restaurant workers union.

Appearing before the Senate Rackets Committee, they pointed out Dan Leonardi as the man they said told them they might be "pushed down the stairs" unless they signed up. They joined.

Leonardi is a business representative of Local 450, which was described by Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, as a shakedown local interested only in feathering the nests of its officials.

The local's recruiting practices were described by Mrs. Beverly Sturdevant, a red-haired hostess, and Mrs. Mae Christiansen, a waitress. They work in the Embassy Restaurant, formerly known as Sramek's, on Czermak Road in Chicago.

Leonardi invoked the Fifth Amendment against self - incrimination and refused to testify about anything material when he was called to the witness stand.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) told him the committee had received evidence "that you are a cheap racketeer, hoodlum, muscle man and extortionist." He asked Leonardi whether he wanted to deny it. Leonardi didn't.

Iraqi Troops Protect U.S. Lives, Property

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. citizens and property in Baghdad were reported Thursday to be under the protection of elements of the Iraqi army which are in control of the new revolutionary regime.

A State Department spokesman said that such information as has been received here "indicates that American lives and property are being protected by elements of the Iraqi army."

Press officer Lincoln White told questioning reporters these elements are under control of the regime which Monday killed King Faisal and other officials of his government and seized control of the country.

Britain Flies

out. Home guards armed with submachineguns walked Damascus streets. The population was told to get ready for air alerts.

Many American citizens living in Jordan left for Israel, presumably on the advice of the U.S. Embassy.

Prime Minister Macmillan told Parliament that paratroopers had been flown from Cyprus to Jordan at King Hussein's request to head off a plot fused to explode Thursday against the young monarch's government.

Macmillan said the plot was hatched by Nasser's U.A.R. of Egypt and Syria. He said Syrian troops were seen marching toward Jordan's frontiers.

Britain's Parliament split on familiar party lines in approving the troop movement, 314-251. The minority Labor Party voted in opposition. Labor leader Hugh Gaitskell appealed to the government to consider Mideast peace talks with the Russians.

British government sources said the paratroopers flew over Israel to Amman, Jordan, with permission of Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion. While Israel has feuded with Jordan, it fears Nasser's Arab nationalism far more.

Hussein, in a broadcast to his people, said the British landings were authorized by an emergency session of Parliament.

Thus he asked the British to return less than two years after he told them to get out during a wave of Arab nationalism.

Britain set up Jordan as a sovereign state in 1946 and had a treaty of defense and friendship. This was scrapped by Jordan last year.

Hussein, in his broadcast, declared "evil agents" had begun to smuggle arms into Jordan from Syria and the Gaza Strip administered by Egypt.

"The ambitions of international communism," he said, "have reached our country through certain leaders who gave themselves to the devil and became Communist tools for the destruction of Arab natjonalism."

The 23-year-old monarch said that after the revolt in Iraq, "traitors" had turned their efforts against Jordan. He urged all Iraqis to stand united to save their country.

Hussein has proclaimed himself legal successor to Faisal as chief of state in the Iraq-Jordan Arab Federation, now declared dissolved by the rebel regime in Iraq.

If Hussein planned to send his army, built around the old British-trained Arab Legion, against the Iraqi rebels he gave no sign. The old Legion once was the best Arab fighting force in the Middle East. It backed Hussein when he threw out his leftist, pro-Nasser government last year.

Solons Clash Over House Rapist Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa) and John M. Butler (R-Md) clashed Thursday over a House-passed bill to counter a Supreme Court decision freeing a confessed rapist because of delay between his arrest and his arraignment.

In the exchange, criticism was directed at Atty. Gen. Rogers for not having taken a stand on the legislation.

Clark, testifying before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee in opposition to the bill, said he doubted Congress could act wisely because of "the controversy raging" over other recent rulings of the Supreme Court.

Clark referred to a bill sponsored by Butler and Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind) to curb the court's review powers and to overcome the effects of its decisions in several Communist cases.

Butler, a subcommittee member, demanded to know if Clark thought that Congress was incapable of dealing with the situation created by the court's ruling last year overturning the conviction here of Andrew Mallory, the confessed rapist.

"Murderers and rapists are being set at large" as a result of the Supreme Court decision, Butler said. "Do you think Congress should sit idly by and see this happen?" he asked.

Clark replied that he and Butler disagreed "so vitally" that any extended argument between them would not shed much light on the issue. Clark suggested that he and Butler sit down together at lunch some day and talk it over.

The House bill provides that confessions shall not be inadmissable as evidence solely because of delay in taking an arrested person before a committing magistrate.

Boy, 15, Dies In Police Chase

BETHESDA, Md. (AP) — A 15-year-old boy was fatally injured early Thursday when a motorcycle on which he was riding crashed during a police chase.

Donald L. Whiting, of Bethesda died in Suburban Hospital.

The driver of the motorcycle was identified by police as Edmund W. Wettengel Jr., 20, of Bethesda. Police said he tried to elude them because he lacked a motorcycle license.

Wettengel, who was not injured, was charged with manslaughter, failure to observe a stop sign, operating a motorcycle without a permit, driving an unreasonable speed, and failing to obey the signal of a police car. He was released under $10,000 bond for a hearing July 30.

Jobless Benefit Claims Show Increase In State

BALTIMORE (AP) — Claims for Maryland unemployment benefits increased 6.6 per cent last week over the previous week, while hirings decreased 3.5 per cent.

Robert B. Kimble, executive director of the Department of Employment Security, announced Thursday that 43,253 Marylanders filed claims for unemployment pay last week, compared to 40,560 during the week ending July 5.

Benefits were paid to 32,426 persons, an increase of 2.4 per cent over the previous week. Kimble said the difference between the number filing claims and the number drawing benefits consists of those filing their first claims, those ineligible or disqualified and those whose right to benefits is disputed and must be resolved through hearings.

Employers in industry covered by the Maryland unemployment insurance law reported the hiring and rehiring of 14,355 workers last week, a drop from the 14,870 given jobs the previous week.

Kimble said another 1,057 Marylanders last week exhausted the full 26 weeks of benefits to which they were entitled. This brings the total to 21,878 since last October.

Under a temporary extension program authorized last month by a special session of the General Assembly, those exhaustees still out of work are eligible for an additional 13 weeks of benefits.

Kimble said claimants were paid a total of $1,016,802 last week, an increase of 2.3 per cent over the $993,617 payment of the previous week.

Son Didn't Follow His Dad's Footsteps

BALTIMORE (AP) — Edward Leo Brownell has been a Baltimore policeman for 16 years. His son's career on the force came to an end Thursday after two weeks.

The junior Brownell was convicted Thursday morning of assaulting Myrtle Johns, 23-year-old Negro maid. Magistrate Henry L. Rodgers fined Brownell $100 and suspended a 60-day jail sentence.

The fine was paid by the elder Brownell.

His son was promptly dismissed from the police force. He was made a probationary policeman July 3.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Fur Finery

Little furs continue to be a big fashion. No longer do they hibernate in the summer months; instead, they travel all over the world. Women find them the most glamorous wrap for comfort in different climate and air conditioning temperature changes.

The way furs stand the 12-month test of time depends on how you handle them. During the sunny months you need to take extra precaution. Fur shouldn't be exposed to strong sunlight for long periods at a time since it's likely to fade and bleach. Heat is an enemy of fur. It dries out the natural oils of the leather and makes it brittle.

Should your fur wrap get wet—shake it. Blot with a clean towel and hang up. After it is dry, fluff it by again shaking it gently or by using the blower attachment of a vacuum on it. Never place near heat to dry. Don't comb or brush the skins, either.

Furs can't stand being crowded in a closet. Be sure you never jam them among other apparel. Crowding crushes the pile and they'll mat, which adds more wear to their looks than you can by wearing them. Always hang them on wide, well-constructed padded hangers that conform to the shape of the fur wrap's neck and shoulders.

Friction also takes it's toll. Never carry packages or handbags that will rub the fur. Books and jewelry can damage fur, too, by constant rubbing.

Little fur wraps should be cleaned at least once or twice a year because accumulated dust, dirt and grime will reduce the strength of the pelt. Send all larger wraps to a competent furrier for summer hibernation at controlled temperature and humidity.

Tax Office Is Attempting To Find Owners Of Checks

A list of names of local and area taxpayers who are entitled to refunds on their 1957 Maryland returns but have not received their checks has been received at the local office of the State Comptroller.

Edward V. Welsh, office manager, said yesterday that the checks could not be delivered because the taxpayers apparently had moved without leaving a forwarding address.

Included on the list are:

John S. Fee, 104 Decatur Street; Martin L. and Ollie E. Getz, city; Frederick and Helen M. Hinckle, 255 Pennsylvania Avenue; Wayne A. and Celeste C. Lough, Box 962, city.

John K. Mackert, 706 Schriver Avenue; Walter J. and Mary L. Moore, 1605 Simmit Avenue; Elizabeth Perdew, 4504 Cedargarden Road; Leo E. and Mary Robinette, RFD 1, Box 5, city.

Patricia A. Shepherd, 55 Baltimore Street; William C. Shryock, RFD 1, Box 122, city; C. Genevieve Stephens, Main Street; Carl L. Valentine, 233 Humbird Street, and Charles B. Wright, Brooks Hotel, Baltimore Street.

Area taxpayers include:

Pasquale Mallozzi, 623 Elm Street, Frostburg; Urban Porter, RFD 1, Box 159, Frostburg; Harry E. Meese, Keyser; Ruth Oates, Keyser; Betty J. Pratt, P O Box 341, Armstrong Street, Mineral, W. Va. (apparently Keyser); Daryl P. Roderick, Route 3, Keyser.

Leonard H. Myers, Box 325, Lonaconing; Thomas F. Turney, 49 Alder Street, Oakland; George A. Williams, Box 173, Luke, and Stella E. Dawson, Accident.

Mr. Welsh said that taxpayers may receive their tax refund, if they have one coming to them, today or tomorrow or maybe not until the 15th of November.

The task of processing the returns and breaking them down alphabetically takes quite a long time, he said. Persons whose names appear on the above list should write to the "Comptroller of the Treasury, Income Tax Division, Annapolis, Md.," giving their name, former address, present address and Social Security number to get their money.

Many Visit State Parks Over Holiday Weekend

On the Fourth of July about 6,000 persons took advantage of the outdoor recreation facilities of Swallow Falls and Herrington Manor located northwest of Oakland in Garrett County.

William H. Johnson, district forester, said the other recreation areas and state parks had plenty of visitors on that day.

About 8,500 persons visited Savage River Forest during the week of July 1 to July 7. There were almost 3,000 picnickers, 700 fishermen and 323 campers.

Some 2,332 persons visited Gambrill State Park in Frederick County from July 1 to July 5 and this included 1,300 picnickers, 910 sightseers and about 122 campers.

The superintendent of Cunningham Falls State Park reported that 2,917 persons visited there July 1 to July 5. Included in that number were 1,400 sightseers, 950 picnickers, 325 fishermen and 242 campers.

Mr. Johnson said that the largest number of persons visit the various areas on Sundays and holidays of the summer season and that all facilities are heavily used.

The peak attendance is in the summer although quite a few visitors come to the areas during hunting season. Each week the area superintendents file attendance reports with Mr. Johnson.

Blue Cross

a continuing decline in the plan's reserves which are essential in guaranteeing the ability of Blue Cross to meet its obligations. This limited increase — about three-fifths of the amount requested — will slow this decline. I do not see, however, how it can stem it."

The Blue Cross request for a rate increase was projected to be adequate for two years. It was based on a prediction that hospital admissions of subscribers will increase at the rate of 2 per cent annually over the next two years and the length of the average hospital stay will increase 1 per cent.

Jackson said evidence presented at the six-day hearing and uncovered by a management consultant firm he hired supports this prediction "under present conditions."

Cites Rising Costs

But, he said, "I have estimated that if 'unnecessary' hospital usage is diminished as much as possible," the incidence of admissions will not increase more than 1 per cent and the length of stays will not increase more than one-half of one per cent.

Blue Cross cited rising hospital costs as the major reason it needed a rate increase. It estimated these costs will increase by 5 per cent each year, and Jackson used the same figure.

The insurance commissioner allowed Blue Cross 5 per cent of its annual income for operating cost —substantially the figure requested, but he cut the request for a contingency reserve from four per cent of the projected gross rate to 2 per cent.

Jackson said "an increased rate of hospital usage does not justify a rate increment without consideration of the reasons for the increase of hospital use. Blue Cross should be alert to detect faulty use of hospital facilities because the subscribers' rates depend upon hospital in-patient costs. 'Unnecessary' admissions and stays may have serious impact upon pre-payment plan costs."

Cites Misapprehension

The insurance commissioner rehashed testimony presented at the hearing to the effect that many days of hospitalization could be eliminated if the Blue Cross contract did not limit coverage of diagnostic service to hospital inpatients.

But he said there is no conclusive evidence that such unnecessary use of hospital facilities is carried on to a "significant extent."

Jackson said one cause of hospital admissions "primarily for diagnosis" is the patient's demand for benefits to which he thinks he is entitled under his contract.

"This misapprehension is due in part to the failure of Blue Cross to inform subscribers about contract exclusions in as loud a voice as they are told of inclusions," he said.

But he noted that efforts by Blue Cross to reduce unnecessary hospital admissions and stays "can never be effective unless hospitals and doctors recognize their responsibility and . . . cooperate to control hospital cost."

D'Alesandro Slams Beall's Explanation

BALTIMORE (AP) — The explanation Sen. Beall (R-Md) gave for voting to do away with federal controls on natural gas insults the intelligence of Maryland voters, Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro said Thursday.

D'Alesandro is the Democratic nominee trying to unseat Beall in the November election.

Beall, in explaining why he supported the gas bill passed by congress but vetoed by President Eisenhower, said no one "should have his production regulated by the federal government."

D'Alesandro, in his criticism, said it was a "feeble and ineffectual excuse for his attempted sell-out of some 2,000,000 Maryland gas consumers."

Unemployment Up

CANBERRA (AP) — Unemployment increased in Australia last month. At the end of June, 67,144 persons registered as job hunters. That number, up nearly 1,200 from May, represents 1.7 per cent of the labor force.

Randolph Speaks On Brotherhood

FRANKLIN, W. Va.—Jennings Randolph told an audience near here at Mt. Zion Methodist Church this week that "the best hope for the survival of mankind is to foster a brotherhood of all peoples. This is particularly important among the nations of growing power. We must teach the worth of individual human personalities. They must be told again and again of God's transcendant love over the hatred which too often comes from materialism."

Randolph, former United States representative from the Second District, spoke at the annual Lough family reunion. He was introduced by Jesse Simmons, Ridgeley, a resident of the Lough Association.

"Americans, and citizens of other freedom practicing countries, must fight for a lasting peace — not against the Russian people or the Chinese people — but against the ideas implanted in them by Communism. We must use ideas which can counterbalance the doctrine of Soviet leaders who preach a better life for workers, but actually have as their control objective an extension of selfish power rather than human brotherhood.

"We are interdependent, not only with our neighbors in the immediate community, but among peoples in all parts of the world. No final progress will be wrought in our country which comes through the plight of other nations. World peace can never be won on the tyrannical rule of despots but comes only through the sacredness of individual good will. No really permanent peace can endure which is builded on materialism. Spiritual strength can and shall be triumphant." concluded the U.S. Senate candidate.

Plan To Continue Scientific Work

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP)—Commerce and Industries Minister Philip Holloway reports New Zealand will continue for at least two more years its scientific work in the antarctic Ross Dependency. He said four American scientists will be put up at Scott base while studying earthquakes, glaciers and the aurora with equipment to be transferred when the Little America base is evacuated.

Most weed-killers work best when the weeds are small and growing actively.

Teen-Agers Need Responsible Parents

According to Mrs. Jeanne Moehn, extension family life specialist, University of Maryland, what parents say isn't nearly as important as what they do and the kind of people they are. When the teen-ager reacts loudly and sometimes violently he may be reflecting his parents' personalities, she says. Parents need to be mature persons who know how to get along successfully, themselves, and with other adults.

If the home and parental attitudes are a large share of the teen-agers problems, as many surveys show, what then do teen-agers want from the grown-ups close to them? Mrs. Moehn says they want and need to be among adults who inspire their confidence. They want to be able to trust their parents. They need freedom to make many of their own decisions along with the good advice that parents or teachers can give. Mrs. Moehn points out that while teen-agers often say they want complete freedom, deep down inside they welcome guidance and limits set on their behavior when competently given by adults. The teen-age youngster expects a reasonable degree of consistency from his parents. When "do" and "don't" are applied to similar situations with no logical reason on the part of the parent, youngsters get discouraged and confused.

Encouragement and practice are an important part of a teen-ager's life. When adults expect the best, teen-agers are likely to put forth more effort to achieve worthwhile goals. Teen-agers like a time and place to be alone, and respect for their individual rights as human beings. Lastly they need parents who try to understand modern youth, says Mrs. Moehn. What father did when he was 16 doesn't always fit today's world.

Seven Persons Are Bitten By Dogs

Dog season has apparently swept down on Cumberland, with the city's two hospitals reporting being rushed with persons being bitten by dogs.

Wednesday Memorial Hospital handled four cases, while Sacred Heart Hospital had three cases.

Attaches at both institutions said yesterday that the number of cases of people being bitten by dogs has been unusually heavy during the past two weeks.

At Memorial Wednesday three-year-old Deborah Wright, Potomac Park, was treated after being bitten on her nose. Patricia Rowe, 11, Ridgeley, was treated as was Bobby Emerick, nine, Ellerslie, who sustained a bite on his shoulder.

Wednesday evening Debbie Taylor, 7, of 1610 Piedmont Avenue, was also treated for a dog bite.

Glenn White, aged six, of 89 Beall Street, Frostburg, was admitted after being struck in the eye with a rock.

Sacred Heart Hospital yesterday reported treating three persons for dog bites.

The cases included Tim Woolard, age four, of 216 Knox Street; James Stitcher, 42, of 621 Maryland Avenue, and Leo Seibert, also of this city.

Heart and blood disease and cancer account for about 75 per cent of deaths in the United States.

One-third of the average American family budget goes into the three categories of food, liquor and tobacco.

Pair Charged In Jobless Pay Fraud

Two unusual criminal cases will be tried this morning in Trial Magistrate's Court.

Trial Magistrate Morris Baron will hear the cases at 10 a. m. involving two Lonaconing residents.

Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney, said yesterday Charles H. Dohm and Anna M. Rankin, both of Lonaconing, have been charged with making false and fraudulent statements in order to obtain unemployment compensation benefits.

Mason said both made application for unemployment benefits and stated that they were unemployed and had no earnings.

In fact, they were both employed and received wages during the period of time, Mason charged.

The discrepancies were discovered by audits made by the Department of Employment Security when they cross checked employers reports of employes and their earnings with claims filed by employes.

Mason said Dohm received four weekly unemployment checks of $19 each in 1957 after he applied and stated no earnings for the four-week period. However his employer's records showed he earned $60 a week or a total of $240 for the same four-week period he reported no earnings.

The assistant state's attorney said Anna Rankin reported no earnings for an eight-week period in 1956 and received eight weekly checks of $11 each for a total of $88. Her employer's reported she had earnings for the same eight-week period totaling $106.50.

Mason said it is therefore alleged that Dohm fraudulently received $76 and Mrs. Rankin $88 by making false statements.

The penalties under law for this offense is a fine of $50 to $500 or 90 days in jail or both for each offense.

Local Church Is Renovated

Central Methodist Church is in the midst of the third stage of a three-part improvement project to its property on South George Street.

Rev. J. D. Elliott, pastor, said the congregation has hired the Joseph J. Graciano Company of Pittsburgh to clean the brick of the church.

The Pittsburgh firm, known here for the City Hall, Liberty Trust Building and First Presbyterian Church exterior renovating jobs, is also repointing brick and doing stone restoration.

The first part of the overall project began in 1952 under the pastorate of Rev. Crates Johnson, D.D., who is now pastor emeritus of the church.

That job was the excavation of the basement and converting the quarters into class rooms and a social section.

The second project was the general restoration of the sanctuary, Rev. Mr. Elliott reported.

Club To Hold Fish Rodeo

The tenth-annual fishing rodeo, a joint operation of the Cumberland Outdoor Club, the Oldtown Sportsman's Club and the City Rec Department, will be Saturday, August 9, at the Battie Mixon Fishing Pond in Oldtown. The pond is located in back of Oldtown High School.

Prizes will be given for the event which is for youngsters between 8 and 17 years in the Greater Cumberland and Oldtown area. Among those who attend the rodeo are boy and girl scouts and a group from the Allegany County League for Crippled Children.

Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, stocks the pond.

Last summer 1,500 participated and a total of 144 fish were caught and registered. One-hundred prizes were distributed.

Gene Mason, city recreation director, said that final plans for the rodeo will be made at a meeting within the next two weeks.

Beall Approves Of Marine Landing

BALTIMORE (AP) — The landing of U.S. Marines in Lebanon served as "notice to the world that no longer are we to be shoved around," Sen. Beall (R-Md) declared yesterday.

"We must face up to the Middle East problem," he said. "We cannot bury our heads in the sand like ostriches and refuse to see and meet the situation.

"We have pussyfooted here, backed off there and compromised—all in the good cause of peace. That's all very well, but let us not fool ourselves.

"From the way things have been going, I am convinced that if we are not to succumb, sooner or later we must take a firm stand, and it seems to me that the sooner we do this the better.

"If we are firm now, I believe that another world war can be avoided."

Beall spoke to men who have been through two world wars, members of the American Legion in Maryland attending their 40th annual convention.

The legionnaires Wednesday heard Maj. Gen. William W. Quinn say the Lebanon landing proved the need for such mobile forces as the new Strategic Army Corps.

The staff member of the Army's pentomic reorganization program said the corps set up for limited action probably would have been sent to Lebanon except that the Marines already were in the area with the 6th Fleet.

Alert Exercise Is Being Held In Frostburg

The Marines have landed in Lebanon and the Army is landing in Frostburg.

Big Army helicopters, for the second summer in a row, have started to make their "milk run" trips from the east into Frostburg.

The first were seen Wednesday morning and the flights continued through the day and yesterday.

The population of Frostburg has been enlarged somewhat with personnel of an unknown federal government agency.

The exercise is a part of Operation Alert. The first phase of this was carried out in May when key governmental bureaus, agencies and departments dispersed from Washington following a simulated attack on a large number of important U. S. cities.

The second phase is now being undertaken. Theoretically, this is supposed to be the immediate aftermath of the mass enemy attack and is to test the ability of the government to reorganize.

It is called the federal evaluation phase when a program is being carried out to determine how quickly and effectively the agency can restore its communications, and start functioning again.

Federal authorities are keeping all details from the press and specifically from identifying the federal bureau relocated in Frostburg.

The agency has set up its emergency headquarters on the second floor of the American Legion building there.

It was learned from Frostburg that an extensive communications center has been installed there.

The Gunter Hotel and motels in the area have many guests for this week who are driving District of Columbia cars.

There is a shuttle service of two autos running from the Legion home to the campus of Frostburg State Teachers College where the big helicopters have been landing.

Permission to land there was received earlier, it was learned.

The helicopters attracted much attention last July when a similar exercise was carried out.

There was the widespread report that President Eisenhower was scheduled to be flown to Frostburg. However, it was never revealed whether the Chief Executive made the flight.

Another agency, together with several hundred officials and employes, are operating in similar fashion in Morgantown.

SS. Peter, Paul Parish Picnic Set Sunday

The annual parish picnic of the SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association of the school, will be this Sunday at the Mt. Calvary grounds on Mason Road.

Games and entertainment will be provided in addition to bus service for those without transportation. The bus will start at the Central YMCA at 11 a. m.

From the "Y" it will take a route to Baltimore Street, Greene Street to the Dingle, to Fayette, to Allegany, to Cumberland. to Valley, to North Centre, to Franklin, to Columbia, to Holland, to Shawnee, to Franklin, to Shriver, to Pulaski, to Fairview, to Valley, to Columbia, to Bedford streets. From there it will go out Bedford Road, across Nave's Crossroads to Mason Road and the picnic grounds.

The bus will leave at 7:10 p. m. for the return trip which will back track the morning route.

The picnic will help to defray expenses of the PTA for the rewiring and installation of new lights in all the classrooms.

Band Concert Set Sunday

The season's second outdoor concert will be given Sunday, 7:30 p. m., at the Constitution Park Amphitheater by the Cumberland Municipal Concert band, under the direction of Frank Gamble who will conduct in the absence of Dr. Ward Cole.

The Sunday concert will feature many favorite marches and modern arrangements of "Donkey Serenade," "Deep Purple," and "Alexander's Ragtime Band." Featured overture will be Sigmund Romberg's "Desert Song."

The band is composed of 40 musicians from Cumberland and the tri-state area.

W.Va. Chamber Of Commerce Plans 23rd. Annual Session

CHARLESTON—(AP)—The West Virginia Chamber of Commerce will open its 23rd annual meeting at the Greenbrier in White Sulphur Springs August 28.

The organization announced Thursday that this year's program for the three-day affair substantially will duplicate that of last year and 1956.

Meetings of the Chamber's nine standing committees, board on resolutions will be on the Aug. 28 agenda. The president's reception will be held that night.

Elkins Airport Revenue Bonds Are Redeemed

ELKINS (AP) — The Elkins airport became the property of this Randolph County community Thursday when an attorney for the U. S. Northern District Court delivered $75,000 in cancelled revenue bonds to Mayor Harry E. Wilmoth.

Roderick A. Devison of Fairmont brought the cancelled bonds here. They were issued in the early 1940s and purchased by the old Reconstruction Finance Agency to provide Elkins with funds to purchase a site for its airport.

The bonds were taken over by the House and Home Finance Agency when the Reconstruction Finance Agency was disbanded about two years ago.

Elkins bought the bonds back recently for $7,500 when the government offered that figure for settlement of the debt. Part of the bonds had been in default before the settlement was reached.

Chapman Urges Tariff Barrier To Help W.Va.

State's Industries Hurt By Imports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Economic woes of West Virginia's coal, glass and pottery industries were cited Thursday by Sen. Chapman Revercomb (R-WVa) in urging greater tariff protection.

Revercomb told the Senate many advocates of the reciprocal trade program emphasize trade at the expense of reciprocity.

"What is 'reciprocal' about legislating American industries out of business by allowing cheap foreign products to overrun domestic markets?" he demanded.

"But this is exactly the fate of the American pottery and glass industries, and I refer to them in particular because they are of the utmost importance to my state of West Virginia, and to the entire country," he continued.

Discussing imports of residual oil, used mostly for industrial heating, Revercomb said it is obvious that the voluntary program for reducing oil imports has not provided adequate protection for the coal industry.

Beckley Lawyer Is Reprimanded By W.Va. Bar

CHARLESTON (AP) — Beckley attorney Brown H. Payne has been reprimanded publicly for "unprofessional conduct" by the committee on legal ethics of the West Virginia State Bar.

The committee's chairman, R. E. Stealey of Parkersburg, reported to the State Bar offices here that the reprimand was given for solicitation of business involving five children injured in a 1956 bus accident in Greenbrier County.

The mothers of the children testified at a hearing for Payne on July 12 that they had not authorized him to call on them after the accident. One of them was quoted that, in addition, she had not even known Payne prior to that time.

Canon 27 of the legal ethics promulgated by the Supreme Court establishes that it is unprofessional for any attorney to solicit employment by unsought interviews not warranted by personal relationships.

Payne was quoted that he investigated the accident for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, which suspected possible violation of desegregation rulings. He maintained his contacts with the parents of the children arose from this assignment.

Liquor Store Machined To Short Change

W.Va. Continues Statewide Probe

CHARLESTON (AP) — A "one-armed bandit" rigged to short-change customers at state liquor stores was the centerpiece of a news conference at the statehouse today.

It was used to explain why the State Liquor Control Commission is cautioning customers everywhere to count their change when the leave the cashier's window.

Liquor Commissioner Robert S. Judge called the news conference in his office, attended also by area supervisors for the liquor control agency.

Reviewing some recent unpleasant history of the commission, Judge said the dishonest machine was discovered in the Matewan liquor store.

The managers and cashiers of the stores at Matewan and Kermit, both in Mingo County, were suspended and subsequently resigned after irregularities were turned up by a surprise audit on July 4.

Irregularities also were discovered at Pineville, and the area supervisor for Mingo County resigned.

Judge and M. Jerome Muntzing, general field supervisor, explained that the larcenous change-maker, an automatic device, was discovered by emergency personnel sent into the Matewan store after suspension of the top officials.

The commission officials explained that the machine held back about 35 per cent of the sales price whenever change was made.

Just how much may have been held back over how long a period, nobody could say. Judge said no charges had been filed, adding: "We are not an enforcement agency."

He did say, however, that in addition to warnings to customers to count their change, the commission is engaged in a program of converting to cash registers which note the exact sales price on stickers placed on the merchandise. In this way, the liquor store patron can check later as to the exact amount of the purchase and how much he was given back in change.

Judge said about 120 of these cash registers are now on order.

The commissioner said the recent flurry of scandals apparently had put a stop to whatever other irregularities may have been going on at state stores.

"We shall," he added, "continue to be on the lookout for dishonesty and will expose it."

Defense Issues Boom; Market Surges Ahead

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels and other defense issues boomed as the stock market surged to a new high for 1958 in heavy trading Thursday.

It was the biggest rise in 2½ months. An estimated $2,187,000,000 was added to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange based on the rise in The Associated Press average.

Volume was 3,180,000 shares compared with 3,240,000 Wednesday. It was the third straight three-million-share day.

Leading stocks rose from fractions to well over two points.

Six of the 15 most active stocks were steels. Aircrafts, coppers, chemicals, rubbers, shipbuilding stocks, rails and domestic oils gained. International oils were unchanged to slightly lower. Gold mining stocks declined.

The role the United States has assumed in the Middle East prompted expectations of greater defense spending. At the same time, Wall Street seemed to become reassured that a shooting war could be avoided.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced $1.70 to $178.00, a new peak for the year. The industrials rose $2.90 and the rails $2.00, new 1958 highs for these components. The utilities were unchanged.

Of 1,172 issues traded, 617 rose and 350 declined. New highs for the year totaled 99 and new lows 8.

Twelve of the 15 most active stocks rose, one fell and two were unchanged.

American Stock Exchange prices were generally higher on volume of 730,000 shares compared with 870,000 Wednesday.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (AP)—A strong flurry in the final few minutes of trading flipped most grain futures prices into new highs for the season on the Board of trade Thursday.

The buying, set off mainly by the landing of British troops in Jordan, popped open several nests of stop-loss buying orders as prices climbed and these added considerably to the already brisk demand. Prices still were climbing when trading ended.

Hitting new season highs were all except the July contract for corn, all except the July contract for oats, the December, March and May contracts for oats, all but the July contract for soybeans, and May wheat.

Some lard deliveries also were at new highs, and some other grain contracts were near previous peaks.

W.Va. Pilot Survives Jump In Nova Scotia

GREENWOOD, N. S. (AP) — An American pilot who parachuted from his jet fighter plane Tuesday over Southwestern Nova Scotia leaves here Thursday by plane for his base at Myrtle Beach, S. C.

An RCAF spokesman said Lt. Clark Morgan, 25, of Charleston, W. Va., was returning by a United States Air Force transport plane. Morgan telephoned officials here yesterday from a Nova Scotia village to say he had found his way out of the bush where he landed and was uninjured.

Morgan abandoned his jet 35 miles northeast of Yarmouth, N. S., after being unable to get together with an aerial tanker for refueling.

It was Morgan's first jump in his three years with the USAF. He said he considered himself "real lucky" in escaping with nothing more than cuts and bruises.

He spent Tuesday night in a rowboat on a shore of the lake and walked to safety Wednesday while search planes crisscrossed the area where he was last seen.

Fleming To Inspect Firefighting Facilities

Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming will take a "first hand" tour of the Cumberland Fire Department this morning.

Fleming, Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker and Mayor J. Edwin Keech will meet Cumberland's 61 firemen and look over the department's equipment and installations.

Chief Parker said yesterday the purpose of the tour is to familiarize the new commissioner and mayor with the firemen, equipment and overall operation of the Fire Department.

Fleming will be instructed on how calls and boxes are handled in Central Station and will also inspect the department's radio transmitter on Haystack Mountain.

Two-way radios are installed in Central's ladder truck, two pumpers and deck gun truck, two pumpers at West Side and in first-line pumpers at East Side and South End. These radios are serviced from the transmitter.

The mayor and commissioner will also study how the various calls are handled out of the station houses.

For example at Central Station, which covers the "High Valley District," the hook and ladder answers all first alarms along with the pumper, and when Central receives a second alarm firemen from West Side automatically fill in.

The new commissioner and mayor will also inspect the $32,000 ladder truck and new $25,000 pumper at Central. Also housed at Central is the chief's car and deck gun truck which carries approximately $2,000 worth of equipment.

The group will also see West Side's $20,000 engine, East Side's $15,000 engine and South End's new $18,000 engine and $2,500 little Fox.

The various routes which firemen use in answering an alarm will also be explained by Chief Parker.

Man Sentenced In Juvenile Court

A 21-year-old local man was fined $25 and given a suspended jail sentence yesterday in Juvenile Court.

Juvenile Magistrate Fred H. Anderson found the man, Robert S. Clanagan, 21, of 179 Wineow Street, guilty of contributing to the delinquency of minor boys.

Clanagan was apprehended by City Police earlier this week after the parents of the boys complained to authorities that the man gave their sons wine on the Lamont Street Playground.

Magistrate Anderson suspended the jail term, but committed Clanagan to jail in default of the $25 fine.

The magistrate also warned the boys about being of good behavior.

Heavy, Heavy Hangs The Budget Deficit

When President Eisenhower proposed a federal budget of $71.8 billion in January, 1957, there was a loud outcry that the administration had surrendered the fiscal principles which had made it popular with the American people.

Those principles had resulted, during the early years of Mr. Eisenhower's incumbency, in a reduction of the federal budget and in a token income tax cut across the board.

Conservatives of the President's own party voiced their protests and the Democratic Congress made motions of reducing the President's proposed outlays. That Congress had little success is indicated by the fact that high spending has continued following Russian Sputniks and Congressional enactments to meet recessionary trends. The government wound up the fiscal year on June 30 with a deficit instead of the expected surplus.

Now budget experts say the deficit next June 30 will top $10 billion. That would be the country's largest deficit of any peacetime year. The figure could be higher or lower. If Congress continues to reduce revenues, as it did by repeal of the 3 per cent freight tax, the deficit will be higher. If business recovery comes as quickly as some oracles predict it will, the deficit will be lower.

The only factor that could change the gloomy outlook would be denied of some proposed spending programs and a reduction in others. Only by such a course will the government be able to wipe out deficits and build up a surplus to permit those tax reductions for which all American citizens yearn.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Western States

The Republican Party in California is split into the Knight faction and the Knowland faction but from the standpoint of Republican national politics, it is important that William Knowland should be elected Governor of California. If Knowland fails of election, it will affect the position of Vice President Nixon, for no candidate can be regarded as strong whose home state is uncertain.

The Republican leaders in Washington recognize that 1958 is a bad year but they are not willing to concede that 1960 is bound to be. The generally accepted candidate for 1960 is Vice President Richard Nixon and at present there is no other candidate. Harold Stassen, who was troublesome for Nixon, has been finally eliminated by his defeat in the Pennsylvania primaries. William Knowland, who had the Taft basic strength in the party, cannot be nominated as long as Nixon is a candidate. President Eisenhower is said to have hoped to make General Gruenther his heir, but that is now beyond possibility. At one time, there was some talk of Sherman Adams and Dr. Milton Eisenhower but there is none of that sort of conversation left. By every process of elimination, it is Nixon.

Senator Knowland has still to wage his campaign and everything that a political party can put into a fight will go into electing William Knowland as Governor of California. It is unthinkable politically that the present incumbent, "Goodie" Knight, will sabotage his party, although in California some very unthinkable things have been done over the years.

In Arizona, Barry Goldwater is running for re-election as United States Senator. Goldwater is the most constructive conservative the Senate has had in many years. No die-hard reactionary, he stands for positive principles of American economy which he knows how to state understandably and with courage. Goldwater has an advantage which is rarely to be found in the Senate, in that he is a retail merchant. Most Senators are lawyers and professional politicians. Goldwater is a department store owner and operator. He not only understands mass psychology but he has a firm grasp of the needs and wants and opinions of grass-roots folks. He therefore brings to the Senate a closeness to the ordinary person upon the understanding of whom his private and public career depend.

The Republicans need Goldwater in the Senate because he is an unwavering Republican who builds a record of ideas and principles with the sureness of a leader. His running quarrel with Walter Reuther has done the Republican Party no harm and has made "the right to work" issue an important one for 1960.

In Nevada, Senator George Malone comes up for re-election. Like Goldwater and Knowland, Malone comes out of a profession other than the law. Malone is a mining engineer and he has been successful in his profession. Unaccustomed to the ways of politicians, he sometimes upsets the political apple-cart by offside remarks, but his record shows substantial work of an extraordinarily high quality, particularly when he is dealing with subjects to which an engineering mind may address itself with advantage.

His analysis of the American position in the economic world is probably the best that has been made anywhere and his report on our accessibility to raw materials reads like a text-book. His questioning of witnesses before the Senate Finance Committee this session was acute, understanding and far beyond the usual efforts of Congressional committees to adduce information of a technical nature.

Just as it is important for the Republican Party for Knowland to be elected Governor and for Goldwater and Malone to be re-elected to the United States Senate, so will the Democratic Party fight for their defeat. Therefore the campaigns in California, Arizona and Nevada are likely to be among the most bitter in the country.

While partisans in California on all the various sides are sure of the course of the battle and its ultimate result, those who do not live in California can only regard the outcome from the standpoint of national affairs and from that standpoint the defeat of these three stalwarts of the Republican Party would be a calamity to it because these men represent the character of the party prior to 1952, which is what the voters are likely to be talking about in 1960. For how will one make a distinction between the Republican and the Democratic parties?

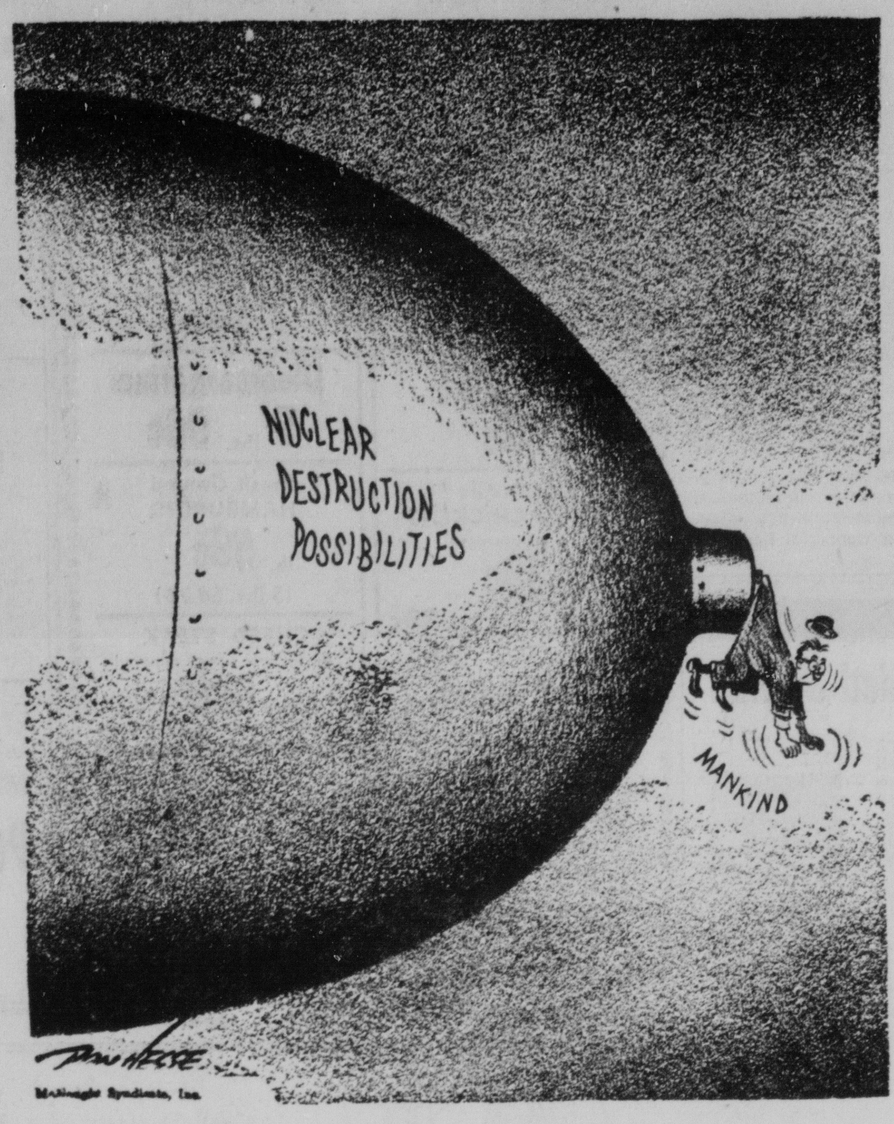
Case Of The Tail Wagging The Dog



Commander Of U. S. Sixth Fleet Is Diplomat And Brilliant Naval Officer

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Adm. Charles R. Brown, Commander of the 6th Fleet, upon whom the fate of the free world depends in the Near East, is a fighting naval officer with a sense of humor and the techniques of a diplomat.

Every mayor along the Mediterranean, whether he be Greek, Turk, Spaniard, Frenchman, or Italian, knows "Cap" Brown and looks forward to the time his flagship, the USS Salem, will anchor offshore. Its arrival not only means money spent with local merchants, but American sailors of the 6th Fleet under Admiral Brown have been trained to be good-will ambassadors. Their behavior ashore has been amazingly good.

It was in 1917 that young Charley Brown, a callow youth from Tuscaloosa, Ala., arrived at the Union Station in Washington carrying two heavy suitcases, en route to Annapolis to join the Navy. In the station he saw two Marines. And the Admiral now tells the story, "I almost put my two suitcases down and told them 'I'm going to be a Marine too'."

Brown didn't become a Marine, and at first he did not take naval fighter training. He did go into naval aviation, and while at Pensacola, Fla., in 1924, was told by his commander to take fighter training.

"Yes, sir," said young Brown. He did not reply, "Aye, aye, sir," a reply which implies obedience.

Some days later, the commander asked him: "Why didn't you take fighter training?"

"My wife asked me not to."

"You take fighter training," admonished the commander as if that were the end of it.

Some days later, in class, the commander again challenged Brown: "I told you to take fighter training. Why aren't you doing it?"

"My wife told me not to," the young naval officer repeated.

"Who is running this school?" snapped the commander, "your wife or me?"

"Who has to live with her?" replied Brown, "you or me?"

Good-Will Ambassador

Later, however, Brown did become a fighter pilot, and has flown from the decks of most of the airplane carriers of the Navy. Only two officers remain who have flown from the Navy's first carrier, the Langley. One is Adm. Mel Pride, Commander of the Naval Air Force in the Pacific, and the other is Admiral Brown.

Last fall, from the bridge of the USS Franklin D. Roosevelt off the coasts of Greece and Italy, I watched jet fighters landing on the deck of the FDR with clockwork precision. One by one, a minute apart, they roared in out of the night, gauged their distance by the red fire ball at the end of the runway, caught the hook on the belly of their plane on the steel arresting cable, and roared to a screeching stop.

Their precision performance gave you confidence in the ability of the U. S. 6th Fleet to meet any challenge in the Mediterranean.

Admiral Brown and the fleet have been not only a great fighting force but a great floating embassy of good will. American sailors, on going ashore, are instructed by the Admiral: "In port our mission is to promote international friendship . . . Peace is marked by such things as good will, understanding, cooperation . . ." His men have given more clothes and money to orphanages along the Mediterranean, thrown more Christmas parties, made more children happy, than most Americans have back home.

Big Russian Fleet

But while spreading good will, Admiral Brown and the officers of the 6th Fleet have been constantly alert, constantly worried over the fact that just a few hundred miles north from Lebanon, in the Black Sea, Russia has three times as many ships as the 6th Fleet. Why they are there, no one exactly knows. I asked Admiral Brown last fall. He could only speculate.

In the relatively short time since World War II, Russia has become the world's second largest naval power, even surpassing England. "Jane's Fighting Ships" lists her as having twenty 15,000-ton ships of the Sverdlov class, all newer than the Salem, plus seven heavy cruisers, plus excellent new destroyers, and over 500 submarines, mostly new.

In addition, Russia now has three submarine bases in the Mediterranean—one in Albania, one in Egypt, and one in Syria, the latter just a few miles north of the point where American troops are landing in Lebanon.

Talking to me in Kansas City two years ago about the danger of Russia's penetration of the Mediterranean, Harry Truman said: "For centuries the Czars of Russia have been trying to come down into the warm waters of the Mediterranean, but first Britain stopped them. Then, later, our aid to Greece and Turkey stopped them. Today Russia has three submarine bases in the Mediterranean. Stalin must be laughing in his grave."

"What would you have done to stop Russian arms from going to Syria and Egypt if you were in the White House?" I asked.

"I would have used the 6th Fleet," he replied with typical Truman bluntness.

The 6th Fleet is now being used.

Truman's remark, of course, was made two years ago—before sputnik and before Russia had developed the IRBM. A lot has happened during the two years that have intervened. Russia has not only sent arms to her Near East satellites, but has trained men, controls the pipelines, the Suez Canal, and has won over half the Arabs of the Near East. In two years the United States has lost more prestige than in 200 years. Can the 6th Fleet, with all its courage, all its training, all the skill of its commander, now do what it could have done two years ago?

Present Crisis Warns Of War Which Could Come

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—It isn't a war, but the warning of a war which could come unless the Soviet government abandons its aggression and subversion in the Middle East—this is the true meaning of the present crisis.

The United States government now has put the blame for the downfall of the government of Iraq and for the rebellion in Lebanon squarely on the Soviet government.

There are two basic points upon which the United States feels justified in using military force. Both were stated in a single paragraph by President Eisenhower in his message to Congress on Tuesday, as follows:

"United States forces are being sent to Lebanon to protect American lives and by their presence to assist the government of Lebanon in the preservation of Lebanon's territorial integrity and independence, which have been deemed vital to United States national interests and world peace."

The language and the order of stating the two issues are fraught with great significance. For it will be noted that, first, American Marines are in Lebanon to protect 2,500 American citizens and, second, it is "by their presence" that help will be given to preserve Lebanon's territorial integrity. The second point is really the "Eisenhower Doctrine," which was approved by a joint resolution of Congress. As for the first point, no Congressional action at this time is needed, because a president is always empowered to take the initial steps to protect American lives and property.

It was on the issue of seeking further military authority to protect American lives that President Wilson asked Congress in 1917 to recognize the existence of a "state of war" because the submarines of the Kaiser's government were killing American citizens who were traveling in unarmed passenger ships on the high seas. Only secondarily was the issue of "making the world safe for democracy" introduced in that presidential message to Congress.

Today the United States government stands primarily on its right, under international law, to send in military forces to protect American lives and incidentally to comply with the request of the existing government in Lebanon for military help in preserving its territorial integrity and independence.

The situation in Iraq, on the other hand, while not identical, is sufficiently similar for the United States to send military forces in there also to protect the many Americans resident in that country. The legal government of Iraq has been overthrown in the last few days and its successor, an improvised rebel junta, has been promptly recognized by the Communists and their allies. This is in contradiction of all precedents in international law, which require that a government should at least be in supreme military control of a large part of the country before recognition is given.

The Soviet government, of course, is blasting forth its denunciation of the American intervention. But this is being done to hide the true guilt of the Communists. President Eisenhower is outspoken in his charge of Soviet complicity. In his message to Congress he described the start of the revolt in Lebanon along the Syrian border two months ago, and said:

"This revolt was encouraged and strongly backed by the official Cairo, Damascus and Soviet radios, which broadcast to Lebanon in the Arabic language. The insurrection was further supported by sizable amounts of arms, ammunition and money and by personnel infiltrated from Syria to fight against the lawful authorities."

This is the President's public indictment of both the Moscow and Cairo governments. It forms the basis for future action by the west. The President summarized it succinctly as follows:

"Indirect aggression and violence are being promoted in the Near East in clear violation of the provisions of the United Nations Charter."

This puts up to the U.N. the issue of whether it will again denounce, as it did in its Korean resolution in 1950, the crime of "fomenting of civil strife in the interest of a foreign power." So, while the United States is asking the U.N. to intervene and take over the problem, the government here is prepared nevertheless to form a "collective security group under Article 51 of the U.N. Charter and take the action that such a group is permitted, under the charter—irrespective of security council votes—to carry on until peace is restored. The policy of the United States is enunciated as followed by the President: "We must be prepared to meet the situation, whatever be the consequences."

This is a solemn warning to the Soviets that America means business. It is a warning also that the United States will not let the Middle East fall into Soviet hands through the plotting of Nasser or any other puppet regime in Syria, Iraq, or anywhere else.

It looks like the beginning of a long struggle. There will be no big war, however, unless the Soviets precipitate it. There will be no local war either if the U.N. has the courage to squelch the intrusions of Soviet agents in the Middle East.

At last, the west has come to grips with the Soviet method of warfare—its subversion and bribery, its bold use of lies over the controlled radio stations of the Communist allies in Egypt and Syria and over the captive radio stations of eastern Europe.

It's going to be a highly ticklish business and a nervous time for peoples everywhere. But most imperative at the moment is the need for small-minded politicians in the United States and in Britain and elsewhere in the parliaments of the West to keep muzzled. For if the Soviets become convinced that the western countries lack internal unity, risks may be taken and a dangerous situation might arise that could bring on the major war which neither the East nor the West really wants.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

At 10, I got out of bed, slipped the yellow bathrobe over nothing, and lit a cigaret. This is my time for yawning and scratching. It requires time to remember that I am in Encino, California, that this is another sunny day, that Gayle has finished breakfast and is swimming, that my shoulder hurts, that the cigaret tastes like a horse's bed, that life isn't worth the struggle.

The light on the phone blinked. There was a knock on the door. It was Mrs. Wilma Morris, asking what I wanted for breakfast. "Orange juice, corn flakes, tea and a kind word," I said. I picked up the phone. It was Len Riblett, city editor of the Los Angeles Examiner.

"Don't be alarmed, Jim," he said, "but two young ladies were accosted on the grounds of U.C.L.A. last night by a man who said that he was Jim Bishop, a columnist." It took time to sink in. Don't be alarmed. Don't be alarmed. By the way, just where was I last night? Tracy Barrett went home, and Alma Ross stopped in for a short visit.

We talked awhile and Len said it was nothing to worry about, that these things happen, and that the police were tracking the impersonator. After Len signed of, I began to awaken. I told Wilma to hold the breakfast for awhile. She said it isn't too difficult to hold corn flakes.

Captain Nick Janise of the University of California at Los Angeles Police Department said that some young man — "tall, dark, goodlooking and about 25" — (I'm none of those) was sitting on the steps of the Psychiatric Building. He saw the two girls cutting across the campus from an afternoon movie called "No Time for Sergeants."

"Ah-ha," he is alleged to have said. "Two teen-agers. Now I can complete my survey." The girls, who must be slightly giddy to permit themselves to be stopped by a stranger, said: "What survey?"

"I," said the handsome one, "am completing an important survey on sex." The two girls giggled, and sat while handsome drew a pencil and a pad.

"By the way," one girl said, "who are you?" He seemed surprised that he had not been recognized. "I'm Jim Bishop, a columnist," he said. From his jacket pocket, he drew a police card and flashed it briefly.

I got off the phone. "Wilma," I said, "never mind the breakfast." I phoned Captain James Hamilton, chief of the Intelligence Division. He wasn't aware of the case, but found out that a Miss Murphy of the West Los Angeles Juvenile Bureau was working on it. "Stop worrying," he said. "Go back to your corn flakes."

With a little work, I found out the name of one of the girls. I phoned her mother. When I said: "This is Jim Bishop," there was a silence, the sound of a long breath, and a soft "Ye-e-es." It took time to convince her that my name is what it is, that I am 50 years of age, 5 feet 7½ inches tall, weight 165, hair gray.

It was important to find out whether this impersonator was a harmless joker, who likes to make girls look ridiculous, or whether he had other ideas. In two minutes of listening to Mrs. G., I was convinced that handsome had other ideas.

He questioned the two girls from 6 p. m. to 8 p. m. And the questions! I've been interviewing people for 29 years and I wouldn't ask those questions in a clinic. He not only asked lots of intimate details, he gave the girls some of his own weird notions on sex. Also, he used a lot of medical terms.

This is being written the following day. I have a dry corn flake stuck in my throat. It won't go up. It won't go down. Somewhere, out among the 4,000,000 people in Los Angeles, there is a bright young man with a police card. He seems, at the moment, too timid to do any real damage.

However, with each succeeding interview, he will get less and less of a kick from conversation. He will need additional stimulation. He is timid because he cannot stand to be rebuffed. The first time he is spurned — watch out.

Summer Requires Adjustment Of Living Habits

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Summer requires a readjustment of living habits. Everybody replaces winter clothes with lighter weight garments to aid in maintaining normal body temperature but it is even more important to adapt our meals to the reduced caloric requirements of hot weather.

Fewer calories are needed but careful meal planning will insure a liberal supply of the minerals and vitamins necessary for optimum health. Many people make the mistake of substituting snacks and iced, sweetened beverages for regular meals. This haphazard eating may contain more calories than three well balanced meals, and yet be deficient in essential nutriments.

Include in the daily summer diet the same basic foods needed throughout the year. This means: 1 pint milk; 1 egg (or at least four per week); 2 servings meat, fish, poultry, or cheese; 2 or more servings of vegetables; 2 or more servings of fruit; enriched or whole grain breads or cereals.

Summer is the season when fresh vegetables and fruits are more plentiful and delicious. The color and variety in flavor and texture provided by a crisp vegetable or a chilled fruit salad usually will chase away that "too hot to eat" feeling.

Simple menus are best. The caloric intake can be kept to a minimum when moderate sized portions are eaten and no sugar or adidtional fats are used.

Those who long for salad dressings, bacon, sugar, jam, or jelly may have them if concessions are made to balance the caloric intake. Substitute skim milk for whole milk, green or yellow vegetables for potatoes, consomme or broth for creamed soups, and fresh or water-pack fruits for dinner desserts.

(We have a five day summer diet that may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.)

BOYS WILL BE BOYS

Mrs. K. writes: My 2 year old son pounds his head against the crib at night before he falls asleep and my 6 year old picks his nose until it bleeds. What's wrong with these boys?

REPLY

They are normal and if they never acquire any worse habits than these you can thank your lucky stars. The head banging will stop soon and a little guidance will go a long way toward making a little gentleman of your 6 year old.

ONIONS AND COLDS

Mrs. W. writes: My grandmother was a great believer in onions to cure colds. Do you think there is anything to this remedy?

REPLY

No, it belongs to the era of lettuce to induce sleep, fish as a brain food, parsley to step up fluid output, and port wine for anemia. While the cure of colds is as elusive as at the turn of the century, at least we know what won't cure them.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

"Trader Horn" was an old prevaricator whose dubious "autobiography" scored a whopping success here in the thirties. Horn's long, grey beard, picturesque cape and sombrero, and infinite capacity for liquor added luster to the legend.

Horn, who referred to himself as "Zambezi Jack," autographed thousands of copies of his book for devotees. When his manager pointed out that he was sapping his strength needlessly, he made a reply that has become famous in publishing circles. "It's been my experience," he declared, "that nobody ever lends an autographed book!"

A lady whose husband had gotten rich in a very great hurry was taken to her first country club luncheon. As her car drove into the grounds, she took off her fur piece. Her mentor advised, "Keep it on, Tillie. If you're going to put on the dog, now is the time to do it."

"Dog!" cried the lady, "these are my best sables!"

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 no trump	Double	Pass	Pass
Pass

Opening lead: Spade king.

An old bidding convention which has come back into vogue among a small group of tournament players is the light no trump opening. This call is made on balanced hands that contain a smattering of high cards.

Its merit is to be found in the guesses to which it puts the opposition. If they fear to take action they may find that they have been talked out of a game or part score. If they refuse to be bullied they may step into a trap if the partner of the no trumper happens to have a good hand.

However, this weapon, when employed against canny opponents may sometimes prove to be a veritable boomerang. An extreme case is recorded today.

South opened with one no trump and West made an immediate double. Had North held a five card suit he might have rescued. But with this hand apparently borrowed from some gin rummy player, he was unable to throw out a line. East's pass is worthy of note for even if South has the diamonds stopped it is extremely unlikely that he can fulfill contract.

West led the king of spades. Declarer took the trick and didn't know where to start. With the idea of postponing the agony he got out of the lead with a small spade.

This was an unfortunate maneuver. He would have been better advised to have cashed his other ace, because he never took another trick. West won with the jack, cashed the remaining spades and, realizing that his partner's leave-in of the no trump double must have been based on diamond strength, he led the seven of that suit.

East ran the suit rhythmically and declarer found himself caught in a squeeze. On the last diamond he had to discard from K, J, 10 of clubs, ace of hearts. He elected to part with a club and a shift to that suit gave West the rest of the tricks.

Down six for a score of 1,100 points. "It's a good thing we weren't vulnerable," said North. And it was.

Bacon Capers

Regular bacon is generally thought of in terms of a breakfast meat. However many other uses for bacon can be incorporated into menus. In preparing baked products, try crumbling crisp bacon into corn bread batter. Other baked products have also incorporated bacon into the ranks. Apple-Bacon Crisp, is one such recipe. In this case, the bacon, flour and sugar act as the crisp topping.

Have A Heart

In preparing veal hearts, here is a recipe worthy of its name, Heart Imperial. Veal hearts are cut into cubes and browned. Minced garlic, chopped onion, paprika, mushroom soup and water are then added. The mixture is covered tightly and simmered for 1¼ hours. Frozen green beans are added toward the end of the cooking period. Taste is tops!

Barbecued Corn

Husk ears of corn carefully. Then spread with lots of butter, and sprinkle generously with salt. Wrap each ear in aluminum foil. Roast over hot coals for about 10 minutes, turning often. Corn cooked this way in the oven has a wonderful barbecue flavor, too.

Centerpiece Magic

Arrange three goblets in the center of the dining table, and float a carnation in each one. This unusual and pretty centerpiece can be "magicked" onto the table in no time at all.

Proper Setting

Water goblet should be placed at the tip of the knife, the wine glass, slightly to the right of the goblet. China and sterling should be lined up about an inch from the table edge.

Savory summer specialty:

Salt-Sea Grilled Shrimp

Shell and clean 2 lbs. shrimp. Sprinkle with 1 tsp. Sterling Salt. Wrap each shrimp in small piece of bacon; fasten with toothpick. Combine 1 8-oz. can tomato sauce, 3 tbs. brown sugar, 3 tbs. vinegar and ½ tsp. Sterling Salt; dip shrimp into sauce. Broil over charcoal or in broiler, turning often. Cook 8 to 10 minutes. 6 to 8 servings.

Any dish has extra zest, extra flavor richness when cooked and seasoned with Sterling Salt!

Glass Of Iced Coffee Good Summer Refresher

Iced coffee is the finest of summer beverages—it's smooth, refreshing, not too sweet. Learn how to make a perfect glass!

It's summer! Time to get out the fans and put extra trays of ice cubes in the freezer. Already, there is a great demand for tall, frosty glasses filled with tinkling cubes and something good to drink. Iced coffee, of course, is one of the most popular summer refreshers because it's smooth and not too sweet.

The first rule for making good iced coffee is: make it strong enough to compensate for melting ice. And here's one very simple way to do it. Just brew your hot coffee extra-strength before you pour it over ice cubes. For four extra-strength servings, use six standard measures (or 12 level measuring tablespoons) of coffee and three measuring cups of water. Pour the brewed coffee into tall, ice filled glasses . . . and serve with sugar syrup, or sugar, and cream.

For another easy way to make iced coffee, brew some extra breakfast coffee, cool it and freeze into coffee ice cubes in the refrigerator. Then you can make iced coffee anytime at all by pouring regular - strength hot coffee over the cubes. Just as a reminder—here's the proper measurements for four servings of regular-strength coffee. Use four standard measures (or 8 level measuring tablespoons) of coffee and three measuring cups of water.

Whichever way you make your iced coffee, you can be sure it will be refreshing and satisfying. And you'll certainly agree it's the best cooler-offer when the mercury starts its climb into summer.

Try This Meat Loaf Variation

Balancing the household budget often is greater problem to the homemaker than it is to our country's leaders — especially when she tries to add variety and interest to her dinnertime menus. Try as she may, her economical meals generally become repetitious and monotonous. Not so, however, with these Meat Loaf Nests.

They're simple to make—just press the meat loaf mixture into nest-shape forms, bake, and fill each nest with your family's favorite creamed vegetable. Here is one dish which will not only add novelty to those inexpensive dinners but will please your family with its originality as well.

Meat Loaf Nests

- 1 cup (whole wheat flakes)
- 1 pound ground beef
- ¼ pound ground pork or pork sausage
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ½ cup milk

Crush wheat flakes slightly, combine with remaining ingredients, mixing well. Press meat mixture lightly into 8 greased custard cups or muffin cups, shaping to form nests. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) about 25 minutes. Remove from cups and serve filled with creamed peas or other creamed vegetables.

Yield: 8 servings.

Along The Potomac

by Rep. De Witt S. Hyde

WASHINGTON — I wish to express my appreciation to all of my Western Maryland constituents who submitted statements or appeared before Mrs. Gracie Pfost's Interior subcommittee in favor of my C & O Canal National Historical Park bill. Mrs. Pfost, as chairman of the subcommittee, indicated that hearings would be scheduled for those who so far have had no opportunity to express their views. No dates have been set for these hearings.

I am hopeful that consideration of my bill will not become involved with questions of dams on the Potomac. The question of dams for the river is a subject which is not pertinent to the bill under consideration. The problem of whether or not there should be a dam at any point along the river would be the same whether the area is made a National Park or not.

The House has considered and passed a bill prepared by my Judiciary Committee on the question of the admissibility of confessions in criminal trials made during interrogation by police. It prevents a reasonable lapse of time between arrest and arraignment from making a confession inadmissible. Enactment of the bill into law would go a long way toward clearing up the misunderstanding prevailing in the lower courts over the Mallory decision. The bill as it passed the House does not violate constitutional rights of the individual, but it does provide protection to the public. The bill also gives to an arrested person protection he does not now have in that it requires the police to tell him, before he is questioned, that anything he say can be used against him.

Noontime—Suppertime

Learn to use bulk pork sausage in a variety of different ways. As a start, plan to prepare breaded sausage patties. Shape about 1 pound bulk sausage into 6 patties. Roll patties in a mixture of 1 beaten egg and 2 tablespoons of milk, then in crushed cornflakes. Brown in lard or drippings.

Storing Cold Cuts

Cold cut time is here again and smart homemakers will want to keep the easily served meats on hand for luncheon, snack-time, and late-evening sandwiches; and for main courses of tempting summer meals.

Cold cuts should be stored in the fresh food compartment of the refrigerator for no longer than four or five days. They may be left in the self-service prepackaging if they are used within this time.

Freezing is not recommended for these sliced ready to serve meats because the salt present in the meat favors the development of rancidity when the meat is frozen. The texture of cured sausage-type meats — especially franks—is affected adversely by freezing.

Stuffing For Chops

When planning to serve stuffed pork chops, plan to make a list of several stuffings . . each new stuffing presents a new dish. Place these two stuffings at the head of the list . . . orange-raisin stuffed pork chops or mushroom-stuffed pork chops.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Canned Meat

Never underestimate your role of ingenuity of creativity when it comes to the many ways canned luncheon meat can be used in menus. As just a suggestion, it can be served in meal salads in combination with fruit, as the main feature in kabobs, in sandwiches, diced and scrambled eggs or sliced and incorporated into a scalloped potato and luncheon meat casserole.

Buying Tip

When buying glassware, choose items that do "double duty": Sherbet glasses that double for champagne, combination wine and cocktail glasses. This helps to solve budget as well as storage space problems.

Veal Stew Partner

When serving veal stew, either dumplings or rice balls make excellent escorts.

6. Useful refrigerator jar. We put our new special recipe mayonnaise in a new reusable jar with a rich red-and-white label. Handy for leftovers... preserves... so many uses.

Joe Nuxhall Snaps Cubs' Win Streak

Cincy Ends 7-Game Losing Skein, 3-2

CHICAGO (AP) — Lefty Joe Nuxhall short-circuited the Chicago Cubs' come-from-behind magic Thursday, pitching the Cincinnati Redlegs to a 3-2 victory over Chicago.

Nuxhall, recording his sixth win against five losses, yielded 10 hits. Nuxhall's success enabled the Redlegs to snap a seven-game losing streak.

The defeat ended a five-game winning skein for the third place Cubs.

Dave Hillman, making his third start, was charged with the loss—his first of the year after winning two. Frankie Robinson's No. 11 homer behind catcher Ed Bailey's one out single in the second proved Cincinnati's big clout of the day.

The Redlegs pushed over the winning run off rookie Glen Hobbie in the eighth.

Jamaica Feature To Magic Forest

JAMAICA, N. Y., July 17—(AP)—C. V. Whitney's Magic Forest held on gamely to win the Kew Gardens Handicap by a nose at Jamaica Race Track today.

The 4-year-old daughter of Mahmoud-Bright Song, ridden by Calvin Stone, turned back a strong stretch challenge by C. T. Chenery's Willamette, ridden by Hedley Woodhouse, who finished second.

Third money three and a half lengths back went to George D. Widener's Teleran, who took the show end of the purse by a length from Velvet Acres' First Asking, who led from the start until well into the stretch of the mile and a sixteenth event.

Third choice with the crowd of 18,135, Magic Forest returned mutuels of $9.10, $4.20 and $2.80. Willamette paid $4.10 and $2.60 and Teleran was $2.30 to show.

Bobby Scanlon Fights Kerwin

Former Unbeaten In 29 Pro Bouts

NEW YORK (AP)—Bobby Scanlon, a handsome young Irishman who never has lost a fight, will try to climb over Gale Kerwin Friday night at Madison Square Garden.

Scanlon, 22, has won 28 of 29 pro fights. The other was a four-round draw.

Kerwin, from Ottawa, Canada, now fighting out of Valley Stream, N.Y., is an outspoken gentleman who says quite frankly "I'm quite a puncher." He likens himself to Jimmy McLarnin and even turns handsprings in the ring when he wins. His record for 34 starts is 27-6-1.

Scanlon, a college freshman who is studying physical education, is a slight 7-5 favorite in the bout that will be carried on network radio and television at 9 p.m. (EST).

Yankees Beat Tigers, 4-2, On Bauer's 2-Run Triple

Double By Siebern Ties Score; Howard, Bolling Hit Homers

NEW YORK (AP)—Hank Bauer smashed a long, two-run triple in the sixth inning Tuesday for a 4-2 New York Yankee decision over the Detroit Tigers.

The league leaders, who have won only six of 15 meetings with the Tigers, trailed 2-1 going into the sixth with Billy Hoeft holding a slender edge over Art Ditmar. Elston Howard's home run in the second had been the Yanks' only run and Frank Bolling's eighth homer, following a fourth-inning single by Charley Maxwell, had put Detroit out front.

Howard started the winning spurt with a single to center. Jerry Lumpe's hit-and-run single pushed Howard around to third and Norm Siebern's double down the right field line drove in the catcher with the tying run. Bauer tripled to deep left center scoring Lumpe and Siebern.

My Warrior, 10-1 Shot, Cops 7th At Monmouth Track

OCEANPORT, N. J., July 17 (AP)—Mrs. William E. Snell's Gray Colt, My Warrior, 10-1 outsider in a field of six 3-year-olds nipped B. A. Dario's Dandy Blitzen at the wire to win the featured seventh race at Monmouth Park today.

My Warrior, ridden by Apprentice James Johnson, paid $22.40, $8.40 and $3.40 after covering the six furlongs in 1.11 3-5, under 110 pounds, over a fast but dull track. He had a nose margin over Dandy Blitzen, only filly in the field, which was three and a half lengths before the Elkcam Stable's Hubcap, even money favorite of the crowd of 20,009.

My Warrior, winner of the Home Bred Handicap at Atlantic City last summer, scored his second victory in six starts this season.

Patterson Leaves For California

Australian Coach Campaigns For Pay For Star Runners

CARDIFF, Wales (AP)—One of the world's top track coaches Thursday campaigned for open payments to star runners such as Australian miler Herb Elliott.

"Track is no more amateur than tennis," said Australian coach Percy Cerutty—the man behind Elliott and three-miler Albert Thomas.

"Running to most of the top men is only a means to an end," Cerutty, 63, said. "Even if they are not paid directly they are given jobs because of their fame or they cash in when they retire. If they don't they must be crazy.

"It is no longer a sport. It is entertainment. Why should an athlete run his heart out for someone else's enjoyment and gain nothing himself?"

Musial Clouts Two Home Runs As Cards Lose

Milwaukee Edges St. Louis, 8 To 7

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Veteran Stan Musial crashed two home runs Thursday to move into second place behind Babe Ruth for career extra base hits, but first-place Milwaukee nudged St. Louis, 8-7 on Mel Roach's seventh inning RBI single.

Musial, 37, seven-time National League batting champion had five RBIs with his home runs. They gave him 1,191 extra base hits since he broke in with Cards in 1941.

The first four-bagger tied Musial with Lou Gehrig, a former teammate of Ruth's on the New York Yankees, and the second slipped him in the shadow of Ruth, who produced 1,356 doubles, triples and home runs in his lifetime.

The victory was Lew Burdette's on five scoreless relief innings. It was the Cards fifth loss in a row.

Wes Covington led the Braves with four RBIs, including a three-run homer.

Musial's 15th home run in the first made it 2-0. The Cards eased into a 5-1 lead in the third as Musial connected again off Bob Rush with two on.

Del Crandall's 12th four-bagger of the year was a two-run blow that made it 5-3 in the fourth. The Braves tacked on three more in the fifth off starter Lindy McDaniel as Covington banged a home run for a 6-5 lead.

The Cards seesawed ahead 7-6 in the fifth on two singles, a walk and RBI flies by Ken Boyer and Wally Moon.

The Braves tied 7-all in the sixth on Hank Aaron's RBI double off loser Jim Brosnan who relieved McDaniel.

Bosox Sweep Series With Kansas City

Wall Helps Brewer Bag Fourth Win, 6-2

BOSTON (AP)—Tom Brewer, supported by a five-run uprising and Murray Wall's ninth inning relief, turned back Kansas City 6-2 for Boston Thursday for his first victory in more than a month.

In sweeping the three game series from the A's, the Red Sox bunched five runs and six of their 10 hits in a big fifth inning.

Brewer notched his fourth triumph on his sixth try for it but was spelled by Wall after Kansas City collected its ninth and 10th hits in the finale.

Roger Maris belted his 13th homer of the season into the right field seats with the bases empty in the third inning. The other A's marker off Brewer came on a Harry Simpson single and Bill Tuttle double in the sixth.

Loser Tom Gorman had surrendered only two singles through the first four innings but the Red Sox got to him quickly in the fifth.

Baltimore College Hires Steve Hokuf

BALTIMORE (AP) — Steve Hokuf, head football coach at Lafayette (Pa.) College the past five years, was hired Thursday as athletic director of Baltimore Junior College.

Hokuf probably will coach football and possibly baseball at the junior college.

Before becoming head coach at Lafayette, Hokuf was an assistant to Lou Little at Columbia University and end coach of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the now defunct All-America Conference.

Hokuf was a star end at the University of Nebraska, from which he was graduated in 1933.

Detroit-Green Bay Trade Is Cancelled

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts tersely announced Thursday night they had picked up tackle Ray Krouse from the Detroit Lions in return for an undisclosed National Football League draft choice.

Krouse, former University of Maryland star, had been bound for Green Bay in a trade between the Lions and Packers, but this was wiped out.

"At the request of the commissioner, Green Bay cancels its trade with Detroit, and Detroit now trades Krouse to Baltimore," the Colts announced. A spokesman said NFL Commissioner Bert Bell had ruled that Krouse "had a valid reason for wanting to play in the Washington area."

In his collegiate career Krouse also was an outstanding wrestler at Maryland, where his brother, Sully Krouse, is wrestling coach.

Dow Finsterwald Leads PGA Tourney By Single Stroke

Jay Hebert Trails With Score Of 68

Five Tie For Third In Opening Round; Snead Shoots 73

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

HAVERTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Dow Finsterwald, reed-thin young golfing capitalist from Tequesta, Fla., fired a three-under-par 67 Thursday for a one-stroke lead in the first round of the Professional Golfers Assn. championship.

Jay Hebert, 35-year-old elder member of the brother combination from the Acadian settlement of Lafayette, La., was alone in second place at 68, followed by brother, Lionel, and four others tied at 69.

Five Tied At 69

Bracketed with Lionel, the defending champion, were Jimmy Demaret of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., 48-year-old three time Masters winner; Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., 1957 National Open King; Ted Kroll of Sarasota, Fla. and little Felice Torza of Aurora, Ill.

These were the only players in the field of 166 able to crack the par 70 of the compact, 6,727-yard Llanerch Country Club course.

Still it appeared anybody's tournament with more than 20 players bunched within a few shots of each other from 72 strokes down.

In the 72 bracket was the temperamental National Open champion, Tommy Bolt, who signed autographs ungrudgingly and waved congenially to spectators as he toured the relatively flat course without an incident.

In the same 72 bracket were such well-known stars as Doug Ford, Julius Baros, Ken Venturi and Fred Hawkins.

Snead Shoots 73

The darling of the gallery of 8,000—Sam Snead, a three-time winner, was one shot farther away at 73.

Finsterwald, never winner of a major championship for the last several years, has been the most consistent money collector on the tough pro circuit.

He figured in the money in 72 straight tournaments, broken last spring while reaching for Bryon Nelson's mark of more than 100 made during the World War II period.

He had a total of 28 putts—eight under regulation — and sank putts of six, ten and 15 feet for his birdies on the second, fifth and 11th. His other came on the 17th.

Senator Seeks Protection For Minor Leagues

Would Ban Telecasts Of Major Games

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Sen. Edwin Johnson of Colorado proposed Thursday that Congress legalize an old baseball rule that would prevent major league telecasts from conflicting with minor league games.

Johnson said quick money for ball clubs and advertisers is the root of baseball's radio and TV problems.

He told the Senate Antimonopoly subcommittee he wasn't worried at all about the possibility vast sections of the country would be blacked out if baseball were granted power to regulate its TV-radio activity.

Self-regulation is proposed in a House-passed bill that would lift the antitrust laws from many practices of pro baseball, football, basketball and hockey.

"My fear is that the majors won't go far enough," Johnson testified. "They are not going to black out broadcasts or telecasts at all."

Johnson generally supported the House bill but suggested a six-year limit on the freedoms it would grant, to determine how the sports bosses would conduct themselves. He also recommended limiting major league clubs to control of 40 players, thus curbing farm systems which he said have "reduced the minor leagues to serfdom."

Johnson is a former governor of his state and former president of the Western League, one of the top minors. He told the subcommittee headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) he is disturbed only about the fate of the minors.

The majors, he said, are going to get along all right.

Johnson said he would be happy if the Senate amended the sports legislation to incorporate a bill he sponsored while in Congress several years ago. This would bar major league telecasts in cities in which minor league clubs are playing.

Baseball once had such a rule but dropped it because the Justice Department held it violated antitrust laws.

Indians Top Senators, 8-3

Home Runs Mark Cleveland Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Rocky Colavito socking his 15th and 16th homers and Minnie Minoso his 13th, the Cleveland Indians pulled away to an 8-3 victory over the Washington Senators Thursday night. Pitcher Cal McLish won his eighth game as he checked the Senators with eight hits, including two singles and a home run by Roy Sievers.

Sievers' blast with one on in the fifth inning was his 24th of the season. Sievers' drive boosted the Senators into a 3-3 tie.

However, Minoso's one-on homer in the seventh off Washington starter and loser Camilo Pascual put the Indians in command to stay. Just before Minoso's homer, Pascual had called time complaining of a pulled muscle in his lower right hip. After Minoso's homer and a subsequent double by Mickey Vernon, Pascual was lifted.

A ninth-inning homer by Colavito with two on cushioned the Cleveland lead. Colavito's first homer was a solo drive in the second off Pascual, who went down to his fifth defeat against five triumphs.

Defeats Rotary, 5-1, Bedford Road Scores

Scoring all their runs in the second and third innings, the Kiwanis Club tossers downed the Cumberland Optimist Club to the tune of 5-1 last night at Penn Avenue Field and regained sole possession of first place in the Hot Stove League.

Prior to last night's game the Kiwanians and Jaycees were deadlocked for the league leadership with 7-3 records.

"Butch" Bosley turned back the Optimists with three hits, singles by Marrale, Lowery and Fields, struck out an even dozen and failed to issue a base on balls in recording his third win of the campaign.

Jim Stewart went all the way for the Optimists, yielded 10 hits, fanned 12 and gave up three passes. It was his first loss against three triumphs.

Charley Boone led the Kiwanis attack with a double and two singles, Bosley had two safeties and John Price blasted a triple.

Bedford Road's Optimists topped the Rotary Club at Fort Hill Field by the score of 10-6.

The winners racked up 14 hits, four of which were credited to Homer Hardinger while Jimmy Seeders collected three safeties and "Mutt" Murray two. Harold Hardinger, the second of three Bedford Road hurlers, got the win.

Joe Ranker banged a homer and single. O'Toole a double and single and Altizer a triple and one-base rap for the Rotarians. Rice played a bangup game at the keystone hassock for the losers. Bedford Road nipped a Rotary rally in the bud in the third inning with a double play after the opposition had loaded the bases. Scores:

Majors Will Act To Cut Down On Bonus Payments

WASHINGTON (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick predicted Thursday the major leagues will act this year to cut down on extravagant bonus payments to promising young players.

Frick told a Senate subcommittee inquiring into sports legislation that baseball made a mistake last year in dropping its bonus rule without substituting some other provision.

The rule required a team to keep any player signed with a bonus of more than $4,000 for at least two seasons before farming him out.

Now that they can send out bonus players at any time, clubs have tossed money around like old ticket stubs to sign young prospects. Frick, calling it "a crazy thing," estimated payments this year have totaled more than three million dollars.

Pittsburgh Plate Beats Caseys, 2-1

Silkmen Break Long Losing Streak, 7-6

Pittsburgh Plate Glass advanced into third place in the Rocking Chair Softball League yesterday by beating the Knights of Columbus by the score of 2-1 at Post Field.

The win was the ninth against six losses for the Glassmen.

Leo E. P. "Bud" Law posted his fifth win of the season in gaining the nod over Al Sheetz in a pitching duel in which each hurler yielded five safeties.

The Caseys scored in the first inning on hits by Mickey Clark and Bob McGreevy and George Geatz's sacrifice fly. The Glassmen sewed it up in the fifth when Bill Bratt got a life on an error, Koelker grounded out and Bill Thompson and Glentis Streett singled over the tying and winning runs.

Norman Curtis of Pittsburgh Plate and Bob McGreevy of the Caseys had two hits each. One of McGreevy's wallops was a two-bagger.

Celanese broke a 15-game losing streak by posting its first win of the season at the expense of the Ritter A. C., 7-6, at Celanese Field.

A 4-run explosion in the top of the 7th inning won the game for the Silkmen. Six hits marked the late uprising. The big blow was a triple by Bobby Williams with the bases loaded.

Cunningham and Shuck led the Celanese batsmen with three and two hits, respectively. Ritter and L. Rhodes shared four of the losers' five blows.

Williams was the fielding star. He cut down runners at the plate and second base with perfect throws from left field in the fifth and seventh frames, respectively.

Dick Klavuhn tossed a five-hitter and became the league's first 10-game winner as the Elks whipped the Moose at Stitcher Field by the score of 6-2. The game was played in the fast time of one hour and 10 minutes.

The Moose collected three of their five hits for their two runs in the first inning. Only two Moose players got on base thereafter. Bob Pence, "Pooch" Orndorff and Klavuhn garnered two hits each for the Elks. Scores:

O'Dell Blanks Chicago, 3-0

Robinson Homers, Pierce Is Loser

BALTIMORE (AP) — Blazing Billy O'Dell pitched the Baltimore Orioles to a 3-0 shutout over the Chicago White Sox Thursday night.

The left-hander limited the White Sox to nine hits — all singles—while ending a personal three-game losing streak and boosting his season's record to 9-10.

Billy Pierce, who had a five-game winning streak going into Thursday night's game, was the loser. He is 9-6 for the season. He permitted nine safeties, one of them Brooks Robinson's solo home run in the sixth into the left field stands.

The Orioles scored their other runs in the fourth on three singles, an error, a sacrifice fly, and a passed ball. Gus Triandos opened the inning with a single. Robinson followed with another and when White Sox left fielder Al Smith juggled the ball Triandos took third and Robinson, second. Triandos raced home on a passed ball, Robinson taking third and scoring on Bob Boyd's fly to Don Mueller.

Westernport took over the leadership of the Twilight Baseball League yesterday by winning a 1-0 thriller from the Barton Braves at Barton but the losers played the game under protest.

Woody Symons of Barton touched all the bases in the 7th inning on a drive to right field but the umpire ordered his return to second base, stating that the batter had made a ground rule double. Barton protested on the ground that the Westernport right fielder had touched the ball and the batter was entitled to score. The run would have knotted the score at 1-1.

The protest will be heard at a league meeting tonight at 7:30 at Scotty Orr's Place in Midland.

Each team made only two hits in yesterday's thriller. Lauder and Symons obtained Barton's hits and Ollie Smith and Junie Perry got Westernport's bingles.

Kip Montgomery, Westernport hurler, fanned four and Billy "Gas House" Johnson of Barton struck out six.

Barton was the league leader until yesterday's setback. It was Westernport's 11th consecutive victory.

In other games, Finzel defeated Wright's Crossing, 13-8, and Zihlman nosed out Midland, 8-7.

Jack Burner hit a homer and single, Ronnie Rice blasted two doubles and a single and Hollie Atwood homered for Finzel. John Hansel belted a homer and single and Jack Bahen and Mick Davis also had two hits for the losers.

Jack Anderson led Zihlman's nine-hit offensive with three safeties, including a pair of two-baggers. Bob Deffenbaugh doubled and singled and Carl Emerick socked two hits, including a triple. Charley Winters had three hits in four trips for Midland. Carl Emerick, Zihlman twirler, struck out eight.

Giants Defeat Phils On Wild Pitch In Ninth

Farrell Is Victim In 8 To 7 Contest

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dick Farrell's wildness included a climactic bases-loaded wild pitch that gave San Francisco an 8-7 victory over Philadelphia Thursday and kept the Giants half a game behind league-leading Milwaukee.

A crowd of 10,259 sat in on another Giant cliff-hanger as the Phillies went ahead by two runs in the ninth, only to lose their sixth straight. Farrell's wild pitch sent Orlando Cepeda home with the winning run.

Farrell, Philadelphia's ace reliever, walked Willie Kirkland and then Willie Mays to open the home half of the hectic ninth. Jimmy Davenport sacrificed them along and Orlando Cepeda's double tied the score.

Leon Wagner was walked intentionally and Daryl Spencer also drew a pass. Pinch-hitter Hank Sauer had a 1-2 count when Farrell fired a pitch so wide catcher Carl Sawatski had no chance of stopping it.

The Phils had gone ahead 7-5 in the ninth off Don Johnson, a Giant newcomer from Toronto.

Johnson hgave up a double to Solly Hemus, a walk to Harry Anderson and singles to Sawatski and Dave Philley, good for two runs. Johnson was lifted for Marv Grissom who finished and got credit for his sixth victory against three losses. Farrell also now is 6-3.

Wheeling Installs "Drive Line" For Racing At Night

Wheeling Downs has added another first to its long list of innovations. This time General Manager Robert G. Leavitt has installed what he terms a "drive line." This is a heavy gauge wire strung across the track about 10 yards past the finish line from a four inch steel pipe inside the rail to the grandstand roof. It will be painted with a luminous material and will glow under the lights at night so as to be clearly visible to the riders so that they do not ease up their mounts before reaching that marker.

Leavitt stated, "This drive line will eliminate any recurrances of pulling up before the line of finish has been reached. All jockeys will be compelled to ride their horses out until the drive line has been reached."

Bottorf Gets Hole-In-One On CCC 18th

George Bottorf made a hole-in-one at the Cumberland Country Club on Wednesday afternoon while playing over the local course with his wife.

Bottorf used a No. 4 iron to chalk up his ace on the 165-yards 18th hole.

This is the second hole-in-one made by a Cumberland Country Club member this year. The first was credited to Bert Mason on hole No. 10.

Birdie Tebbetts, Redlegs' Manager, Hanged In Effigy

CINCINNATI (AP)—Birdie Tebbetts, manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, who are in seventh place in the National League, was hanged in effigy Wednesday night.

"Down with Birdie," read a card attached to a paper-stuffed shirt and pair of trousers found hanging from a pole in the northeast section of the city. A policeman cut it down and stuffed it into a trash can.

Cincinnati had lost seven straight games on a road trip until it defeated Chicago Thursday, 3-2.

The hanging incident brought from General Manager Gabe Paul a statement expressing confidence both in Tebbetts and in the team.

"I repeat what I have said many times—that baseball is a game of momentum. Good players going poorly are not as poor at the time as poor players going well temporarily. I think the club will come around."

Baltimore Coach Has Two Pilots In Big Leagues

BALTIMORE (AP) — Al Vincent, first base coach of the Baltimore Orioles, feels rather proud of the fact that two present major league managers played for him in the minor leagues.

They are Fred Hutchinson of the St. Louis Cardinals and Mayo Smith of the Philadelphia Phils.

Hutch won 26 games for Vincent at Buffalo 17 years ago to pace the International League pitchers.

Smith was an outfielder under Vincent at Buffalo 16 years ago.

Monkey's Hunger Victor Over Sex

BALTIMORE (AP) — Hunger won over sex Thursday.

The experimenter was 14-year-old Ralph Stewart. His pet male monkey, Cheeta, was up a tree in Northwest Baltimore. Ralph wanted to get him down.

After some unsuccessful coaxing young Stewart tried to use his young female monkey, Sandy, as a lure but Cheeta didn't respond to Sandy's chattering.

A neighbor then tried a ripe banana. Down came Cheeta.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Charles Franklin Hull, who died one year ago, July 18th, 1957.

What would I give to clasp his hand,
His happy face to see,
To hear his voice and see him smile,
That meant so much to me.
HIS LOVING WIFE AND CHILDREN

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

ROBERT O. BONNELL, Chairman, EDGAR T. BENNETT and JOHN J. McMULLEN, Constituting the STATE ROADS COMMISSION OF MARYLAND, Acting for and on behalf of the STATE OF MARYLAND vs. GEORGE ROTONDARO and HENRIETTA ROTONDARO, his wife. No. 2756 Law in The Circuit Court for Allegany County. (Filed June 26, 1958)

PETITION NO. 2756

The object of this suit is to acquire by condemnation certain tracts or parcels of land situate in the Twenty-ninth Election District of Allegany County, Maryland, belonging to George Rotondaro and Henrietta Rotondaro, his wife.

The Petition states that the Petitioners constitute the State Roads Commission of Maryland and are charged with the construction and maintenance of highways and bridges in the State of Maryland.

That they have determined it to be necessary and proper to acquire for the purpose referred to in said Petition, and in connection with the construction and maintenance of the highway system of the State, certain tracts or parcels of land situate in the Twenty-ninth Election District of Allegany County, consisting of 2160 square feet, more or less, which is being taken for stream changes and facilities as shown on Plat No. 18563 (revised 4-25-58).

TOGETHER with the right or easement to create, use and maintain on the land shown cross-hatched on said plat such stream changes and facilities as are necessary in the opinion of the State Roads Commission within said area, together with the buildings and improvements thereon and the rights, alleys, ways, waters, roads, privileges and advantages to the same belonging or in anywise appertaining and together with any right, title and interest of the defendants in and to the bed of Park Avenue lying between the lines marked "Right of Way Line" as shown on the aforesaid plat.

The Petition further states that the said property is now held under the provisions of a deed from George P. Hazelwood, Jr., et al. to George and Henrietta Rotondaro, his wife, dated August 27, 1951 and recorded on November 6, 1951 in Liber 236, Folio 45, among the Land Records of Allegany County.

That the land and property is sought to be condemned in connection with the State System of Roads and Bridges, and especially for the construction of the U. S. Route 40, Maryland Route 36 to Long, in Allegany County, Maryland.

That your Petitioners are unable to make an agreement with the defendants and that the Petitioners have deposited a check under the provisions of Article 89B, Section 9, Public General Laws of Maryland in the amount of Five Hundred and Sixty-Five ($565.00) Dollars, payable to the Clerk of the Circuit Court for Allegany County, said Petitioners deeming the said sum to be the fair value of the land taken and damages done to the property, and that it is in the public interest for them to take possession immediately upon depositing said money and that they are taking possession for the aforesaid purpose.

That your Petitioners have attempted to set forth the interests or estates of all other parties having an interest, in the hereinbefore described and that the defendants George Rotondaro and Henrietta Rotondaro, his wife, are non-residents of the State of Maryland, residing at 2312 Pitt Avenue, Johnstown, Pennsylvania.

NOTICE is HEREBY GIVEN to George Rotondaro and Henrietta Rotondaro, his wife, non-residents of the State of Maryland, to appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 28th day of July, 1958, and show cause, if any they have why said property or said defendants' interest therein should not be condemned as prayed in said Petition.

/s/ Joseph E. Boden
Clerk of the Circuit Court for Allegany County.

Woman Killed By Car Near Everett, Pa.

Rose Pearl Diehl, 67, Was Crossing Street

A 67-year-old woman of near Everett, Pa., who was struck by an auto while crossing the street near her home, died yesterday afternoon in Bedford County Memorial Hospital.

The victim was identified as Rose Pearl Diehl, of RD 1, Everett, who lived on what is known as Hazlett Street just outside of the Borough in West Providence Township.

The driver of the auto was James A. Diehl, 25, of RD 1, Clearville, who is no relation to the victim, police said.

They said the woman died of a compound fracture of the skull sustained when she fell to the road after being struck by the car.

Police said the driver was in the process of backing his car along the hard top narrow street. He had driven about 200 feet and while traveling about 100 feet more to an intersection to turn around, the car struck the woman.

It was reported the victim had crossed the street apparently to throw some garbage in a nearby field and was going back across the street near her home when she was hit.

Police said there are about 10 or 12 homes in the immediate area where the fatal accident occurred. They said that no charges have been filed pending a full investigation into the accident which occurred about 1:25 p. m. EST.

The woman, police said, died in the hospital about 1:45 p. m.

Sewage Service Charges Set To Hit $260,000

Will Meet Costs Of Operating System

Revenues from sewage service charges should approach the $260,000 mark during the current fiscal year, according to Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

The sum, he said, should be sufficient to operate the city's sewage treatment plant, the Evitts Creek pumping station, the Bedford Street sewage ejector station and the city's sanitary sewage system.

The estimate is based on a full year's revenues coming in at the rate established during the three quarters that sewage service charges have been billed.

Collections on sewage service charges during the 1957-58 fiscal year totaled $194,288.93.

Mr. Gibson said the sewage service levy was set at $247,500 for the 1957 fiscal year.

Is Termed Bargain

Since no definite information on costs was available, the levy was based on estimated costs of operations for the sewage treatment and collection system.

Accordingly, $247,500 was included in the levy and charges were set up, based on 75 per cent of water bills of customers connected to city sewage lines. For customers who use 2,000 cubic feet of water or less, this is $4.05 a quarter, bringing minimum water and sewage charges to $8.98 for three months.

The late Water Commissioner William J. Edwards liked to point out that water and sewage service combined costs 10 cents a day for most Cumberland families and that it was the best utility bargain in the city.

Mr. Gibson said that last year's sewage treatment budget was based on revenues and expenditures for a full year.

However, charges were not made until the second quarter of the fiscal year, so that only three quarters of revenue came in. Operating costs were for the same period, however, as first quarter's operations were considered experimental and charged to bond funds used to build the plant and place it in operating condition.

Is About Even

Income and expenditures for the three quarters, Mr. Gibson said, will be about even.

The actual income from sewage treatment charges is slightly above the estimates made last year. The levy was based on the expectation of about $216,000 income from charges to individuals and about $42,000 from industries for total charges of $258,000. Discounts for prompt payment of bills were estimated at $10,000 to bring anticipated net income to the $248,000 mark.

Actual net income for the 1957-58 fiscal year averaged about $65,000 a quarter and should net $260,000 this fiscal year.

'Y' Day Camp Program Featured By Sleep-Out

A camp-out last night at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club picnic grounds featured the current Central YMCA Day Camp program, according to James H. Fortner, program secretary of the "Y" who is serving as camp director.

Mr. Fortner said 16 boys and girls and seven staff members camped out last night.

Earlier in the evening, "Parents' Night" was held and the youths who are participating in the program exhibited the crafts which they have been working on the past two weeks.

The day camp program is divided up into two-week periods and 52 boys and girls were enrolled in the current period which will be concluded today.

The theme of the period was "Christmas in July" and gifts were exchanged by the children of the camp at a party held yesterday afternoon at the camp grounds. The group also participated in carol singing and had a decorated Christmas tree.

Mr. Fortner said last night's camp-out was the first held by the day campers and it is hoped that it will become a regular part of the activities set up in the 'Y' summer program.

He said each group is taken on a trip during the two-week period as a part of the program. On Wednesday, the youngsters traveled to Hershey, Pa., for a tour of the chocolate plant and amusement park there.

The camp director said a wide variety of activities is set up for each two-week period for the enjoyment of the youths who attend. The program includes crafts, hikes, cook-outs, fishing, hiking, aquatics and games.

Rain Misses City For Seventh Day Of Current Month

What do you know, it didn't rain yesterday.

That's news. Because we have had rain 10 out of the 17 days of July and the total rainfall thus far in the month has been 1.32 inches.

The normal rainfall for the month is 3.26 inches, according to Robert R. Golden, weather observer at Constitution Park, who said the rainfall is "way behind." Vacationers have a different slant on the situation.

Mostly sunny and pleasant weather with temperatures ranging from 80 to 86 degrees is forecast for today. Up in the mountains 75 to 80 degree temperatures are expected.

Mr. Golden said the high temperature here yesterday was 81 degrees and the official low reading was 64 degrees.

Retired Miner Named Cumberland Gets License Here

A retired miner from Warren, Ohio, whose last name is Cumberland came to Cumberland to get a license to marry a woman who lives on Front Street in Warren.

Four Sought For Assault Of Local Girl

Four men are being sought in the Glen Burnie area for the rape of a 15-year-old girl and the attempted rape of another girl, aged 17, both of whom told police they were from Cumberland.

The girls said they were driven to a deserted farm in Anne Arundel County early Thursday after being forced into an automobile while walking on a Baltimore street.

They told police they came from their homes in Cumberland to Baltimore Sunday and rented an apartment. While walking on the street Thursday, about 2:30 a. m. a car stopped beside them.

One of the girls said she thought she recognized one of two men in the front seat and went over to the car. Two men whom they hadn't noticed in the back seat seized them and they drove away.

The girls said the car broke down, and two of the men got in a cab and returned later in another vehicle. They then were driven to a farm on Furnace Branch Road about a half mile off Ritchie Highway.

The 17-year-old girl said one of the men took her to an orchard while the others went into the deserted farmhouse with the younger girl.

The older girl said she broke away from the man and ran to the highway. Bob Brousseau, who was driving by with his wife, stopped when he saw the girl sobbing along the highway about 4:40 a. m.

He took her to a service station and telephoned police. He then headed up Furnace Branch Road to the attack scene. Mr. Brousseau took the license number of a parked car and drove back to the service station where he met police.

When they arrived on the scene the car and four men were gone.

On the way back, they met the 15-year-old girl walking on Ritchie Highway. Authorities are checking on the auto license number.

Dr. Gustave H. Faubert, county medical examiner, confirmed that the 15-year-old girl had been sexually attacked.

TB Still Major Concern Of Health Dept.

This is the fifth of a series of articles outlining the aims, services and future of the Allegany County Health Department, based on the booklet, "Your Health Department."

Public health nurses are responsible for organizing and managing chest clinics and for conducting educational programs in the home, school and community.

Patients are referred to the chest clinic by private physicians, public health nurses and other agencies.

Routine X-rays are done on all cases returning from TB hospitals, all contacts of diagnosed cases, military reservists, new school cafeteria workers, school bus drivers, dairymen, foster children and any new state employes.

Chest clinics are held each Friday by a local chest specialist who provides diagnostic and consultation service to referring physicians. The clinician reads all X-rays taken during the week by the Health Department and arranges appointments for patients who need further clinical services. Periodic checks are made by the department or physicians of all persons discharged from TB hospitals.

Public health nurses are charged with the responsibility of visiting the homes of all active cases of tuberculosis, teaching methods of caring for the patients and precautions needed to prevent spread of the disease.

The Health Department, Dr. van Strien said, often cooperates with local physicians in administering injections, under written orders, to these patients.

Nurses help patients prepare for their hospital stay and help families make preparations for the patient's return from TB hospitals.

Official records show that four of the 977 deaths in 1956 resulted from tuberculosis and tentative 1957 figures indicate that five of the 1024 deaths in this county in 1957 resulted from TB.

Tuberculosis, according to Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer, is a serious, still prevalent disease and is a major concern of the Allegany County Health Department.

The department's program includes services for early detection, diagnosis, treatment, rehabilitation and education of patients and their contacts.

It is planned as a cooperative project of the Health Department, Allegany - Garrett Tuberculosis Association and the Allegany-Garrett Health Department. Services include:

Chest X-rays done by the Health Department or hospitals at the request of physicians.

X-ray surveys among groups of high incidence—with the approval of state and local health authorities.

Epidemiological tracing of the source of cases and investigation of contacts and those who have been exposed to tuberculosis.

Chest clinics held each Friday at City Hall.

Whisky Use Decline Cited In Maryland

County Gets $61,022 In Alcohol Tax

BALTIMORE (AP) — Whisky drinking in Maryland declined in all except five counties during the fiscal year ended June 30.

Comptroller J. Millard Tawes reported Thursday that 22 counties and Baltimore City received $2,098,976 as their half of the State tax on alcohol. That was $60,109, or 2.78 per cent less, than received the previous fiscal year.

Only Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Calvert, Montgomery and Worcester counties received more money from alcohol consumed in their jurisdictions than the year before. Garrett does not participate in the distribution because sale of whisky is not legal there.

The tax is at the rate of 50 cents a gallon.

Tawes reported this distribution of money to the subdivisions for the year:

Allegany $61,022; Anne Arundel $123,014; Baltimore $244,499; Baltimore City $1,027,533; Calvert $11,424; Caroline $6,483; Carroll $8,828; Cecil $28,913; Charles $30,038; Dorchester $10,838.

Frederick $38,801; Harford $17,859; Howard $22,853; Kent $8,243; Montgomery $112,225; Prince Georges $169,120; Queen Annes $14,403; St. Marys $29,320.

Somerset $8,632; Talbot $27,591; Washington $57,652; Wicomico $20,831; Worcester $18,844.

C&A Request On Gas Line Gets Approval

An application of the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company to change the position of its natural gas line across the Potomac River east of Westernport has been approved by the State Commission of Geology, Mines and Water Resources.

Dr. Joseph T. Singewald Jr., director of the Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources, reported yesterday that approval was given at a hearing on the question in Baltimore July 10. He said the permit will be issued when supplemental information that was requested from the company is received. This information was requested from Carl C. Robbins, C&A district manager, in a letter dated July 11.

The department director said the change in the position of the natural gas line is made necessary by the contsruction of the $2,308,254 waste treatment plant for use by the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company and the Tri-Towns of Piedmont, Luke and Westernport.

The six-inch gas line will be laid in and across the Potomac River about 566 feet east of Fourth Street in Westernport.

Drowning Blamed In Man's Death

The 62-year-old Pittsburgh man who toppled from an outboard motor boat into Deep Creek Lake on Tuesday about 6 p. m., drowned, according to Dr. James Feaster, deputy county medical examiner.

Authorities surmised at first that Irvin Thomas Turner may have been struck by his boat as it went out of control when he toppled into the water.

Prior to taking the ride in the boat, the man had eaten his evening meal, Dr. Feaster said. He had trouble with his boat on previous rides and apparently he was trying to get the boat under control and drowned.

Physician's Manual To Be Prepared

Medical Students Assigned To Task

The Allegany County Health Department will publish a Physician's Manual, according to Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer.

The booklet, he reported in the current issue of the Health Department News, is being written by two students from the University of Maryland who began a 10-week training course with the department June 19.

They are Robert J. Dawson, Lonaconing, and Clinton Rogers, Keyser, who were assigned to the project as part of their public health training.

The booklet, Dr. van Strien said, will contain facts and figures about the Health Department which will be of value to physicians in coordinating health activities in the county.

Three Health Department workers received service awards recently, the news letter noted.

They are Mrs. Etta Price, a member of the Health Department laboratory here, 30 years service; J. B. Dowling, chief sanitarian, 15 years, and Miss Mary Rooney, senior clerk in the Medical Care division.

The brucellosis rate is lower in Allegany County, the Health Department noted.

The compulsory blood testing program of cattle in Allegany County, aimed at eradicating the disease, resulted in the award of a certificate showing this county is a modified brucellosis free area for a three-year period.

Cub Outing Set Tomorrow

The annual outing for Cub Scouts of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be held tomorrow at Camp Potomac near Oldtown.

The Cubs do not go go camping and the annual visit to Camp Potomac gives them a chance to see the camp in action. At the present time members of troops of Potomac Council are attending the camp.

Activities for the young scouts will include softball, volleyball, archery, horseshoes and rowboat and canoe rides. Members of the camp staff will be on hand to assist with the activities but each den or pack is responsible for its own adult leadership.

The Cub Scouts are asked not to arrive at the camp site until 2 p. m. since the early part of the day will be used to ready the camp for the group.

The day at the camp will close with a picnic supper at 5:30 p. m. Each family, den or pack should make its own arrangement for food as nothing will be furnished by the camp.

All Cubs, leaders, parents and others interested in this phase of scouting are invited to attend the day's activities.

William E. "Scotty" Orr Jr. of Midland has been selected by the Allegany County Republican State Central Committee to serve as manager of the County Republican campaign headquarters in the Commercial Bank Building, Liberty and Frederick streets.

J. Glenn Beall Jr., committee chairman, reported yesterday that Mr. Orr's selection was made Wednesday night at a meeting of the GOP committee in the Lonaconing City Hall.

Tentative plans call for the headquarters to be opened about August 4, three months before the general election.

The headquarters' manager operates Scotty's Place a confectionery in Midland. Born at Blatyre, Scotland, Mr. Orr came to this country when he was five-and -one-half years old and was reared in Lonaconing where he attended Central High School.

He was employed at Celanese for nine years and then served in the Navy from 1942 until 1945. He was a communications serviceman first class aboard a destroyer escort in the Pacific. Blue Cross Can Up Rates 13.9 Per Cent

810,000 Subscribers Will Be Affected

BALTIMORE (AP)—The State insurance commissioner Thursday authorized Maryland Hospital Service Inc. to increase Blue Cross rates by an average of 13.9 per cent.

The non-profit insurance plan officials had requested increases averaging 22.3 per cent.

Commissioner Charles S. Jackson announced authorization of the smaller increases after a study of evidence presented at hearings last May.

The hearings resulted from protests led by Hyman Pressman, Baltimore attorney who called the proposed 22.3 boosts excessive and unnecessary. Pressman, whose hobby is checking the actions of public officials, said he was representing 1,093 subscribers without a fee.

Learning of Jackson's ruling, Pressman said he was "grateful that Blue Cross' request . . . was not fully approved."

"This marks the first time in Maryland that a requested Blue Cross increase was held up pending a hearing and it is the first time that the complete requested increase was not fully approved by the insurance commissioner," said Pressman.

He noted that the decision also included requests by the insurance commissioner that hospitals cut costs, upon which Blue Cross rates are based.

The new rate schedules are expected to become effective in about 60 days. They must be revised in line with Jackson's decision and resubmitted to him for final approval.

About 810,000 Blue Cross subscribers and 40 member hospitals in Maryland are affected.

Blue Shield rates, which cover some non-hospital fees charged by doctors, are not affected.

New Rates Set

These are the new rates approved by Jackson and a comparison with the old rates and what Blue Cross had sought:

Under the group plan, an unmarried person will pay $2.54 a month, a 21 per cent increase over the present charge of $2.[illegible] Blue Cross was seeking $2.60.

Also under the group plan, family coverage will cost $6.00 a month, a 13.2 per cent increase over the present charge of $5.30. Blue Cross asked for $6.40.

Under the direct payment plan individual coverage is up 13.6 per cent from $2.50 to $2.84 and family coverage is up 12.5 per cent from $5.90 to $6.64. Blue Cross sought $3.30 and $7.20 in these categories.

Jackson said the rate increases he computed "shifted some of the burden of care for the elderly subscribers from the non-group rate to the group rate."

R. H. Dabney, executive director of the Maryland Blue Cross plan, said his organization will do everything possible to "make ends meet" with the limited increase authorized by Jackson.

Is Disappointed

"We naturally are disappointed in the refusal of the commissioner to approve what we felt were minimum necessary increases," Dabney said.

"Our application . . . was prompted by a serious concern for

Garrett County Has Unproven Case Of Polio

Vaccination against polio has proved itself, the deputy director of the State Health Department said in reporting that the only suspected case reported this year is in Garrett County.

Dr. Edward Davens said the Garrett County case is still unproven.

The "remarkable record . . . is unquestionably related to the program of vaccine," he added.

Dr. James Rhyne, Dr. Davens' counterpart in the Baltimore Health Department, was not as certain. He said "We hope vaccine is the answer, but we are not sure yet."

But Dr. Davens cited the number of Maryland polio cases in other years—309 in 1953, 153 in 1954, 169 in 1955. In 1956, the first full year after anti-polio vaccine was introduced, the number of cases dropped to 90, and in 1957 the total was 33.

But the state health official said this is no time to become complacent. He said everyone should be protected with the full course of vaccine — three shots over a period of eight months.

Dr. Davens emphasized the importance of vaccinating pre-school children.

Troops Pour Into Mid-East

Lebanon Parliament Opposes U.S. Entry

Ike, Lloyd Have Similar Views

U. S. Supports British Troops In Jordan, But Won't Send Own

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Eisenhower and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd Thursday reviewed British-American military moves in the seething Middle East and reported "a close identity of views."

The two leaders met in an hour-long emergency conference at the White House as the United States proclaimed its support of British troop landings in pro-West Jordan.

This country emphasized that no American forces will be sent to join British paratroop units in Jordan's capital of Amman for the present at least.

Jordan's young King Hussein has appealed to both Western powers for help in averting what he calls a plot similar to the one that overthrew the Iraq government Monday.

The White House conference followed four hours of intensive talks between Lloyd and Secretary of State Dulles. The British foreign secretary flew from London to coordinate American - British military moves.

In a joint statement referring particularly to Jordan and Lebanon, Eisenhower and Lloyd reported they had discussed the combined efforts of their governments to "assure the independence and integrity of these two small countries by giving them assistance requested by their lawful governments."

Lloyd and Dulles, accompanied by their military advisers, hurried back to the State Department late Thursday to continue the virtually nonstop talks that began within minutes after Lloyd's plane landed here shortly before noon.

Diplomatic reports from overseas indicated the pro-Egyptian rebels who seized the Iraq government Monday were in firm control of most of the country, including the capital of Baghdad where King Faisal and his top civilian leaders were reported killed.

The State Department in a terse report acknowledged that Iraq army units controlled by the rebels are protecting American lives and property in Baghdad. It gave no details.

The United States began landing Marines in Lebanon Tuesday but made it clear Thursday that despite some diplomatic reports to the contrary there will be no movement of American troops into Jordan.

The formal announcement, that was aimed at scotching reports U.S. troops would move into Jordan immediately, came two hours after Dulles and Lloyd began emergency talks.

"There is no plan for United States troops to go into Jordan," said an announcement. "This does not seem warranted at this time."

2,000 Russians Voice Protests Before Embassy

MOSCOW (AP)—More than 2,000 Russians howled protests outside the U. S. Embassy Thursday against the landing of U.S. Marines in Lebanon. Their raucous, but nonviolent demonstration lasted more than three hours.

The demonstrators drove up in buses and trucks, marched in well-organized columns to the embassy, and plastered the railings in front with placards and posters.

Then they stood around waving banners, shaking their fists, whistling, shouting and singing revolutionary songs.

Two windows in the embassy were shattered. A young demonstrator kicked in one—a basement window — when he clambered up the railing to paste a placard on the wall.

This was the second recent demonstration by Russians outside the embassy. On June 25 a crowd swarmed to the embassy in retaliation for a demonstration outside the Soviet U.N. delegation headquarters in New York. The issue then was the execution of Hungary's Imre Nagy.

Other mass protest meetings against the U.S. action in the Middle East were reported from Kiev and Leningrad. The Soviet news agency Tass said the protests spread to a number of collective and state farms throughout the Soviet Union.

Peiping radio reported half a million Chinese demonstrated in the capital of Red China.

Madame Chiang Blames Soviet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The First Lady of Nationalist China blames the Soviet Union for the Middle East crisis. She said the Soviets made that area serve Communist purposes "by whipping arab nationalism to a blind excitement."

Madame Chiang Kai-shek made the statement Thursday in a prepared speech to the National Press Club on the "Continuing Challenge of Communism."

She recalled that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev predicted in 1956 that the West would be booted out of the Middle East. Iraq, she said, became a victim of international communism and "what happened in Iraq cannot but whet the appetite of the voracious Russian bear."

Should Jordan and Lebanon also go Communist, Israel's position would become untenable, Mme. Chiang Kai-shek said.

Soviet Pilots Receive Gifts

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government gave grateful thanks and gifts Thursday to the Soviet pilots and radar operators who forced down an American Air Force plane in Soviet Armenia June 27.

The military newspaper Red Star said the Defense Ministry commended the men for "successful fulfillment of tasks of command."

U.S. Charges Master Plot In Mid-East

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States charged Thursday there is a master plot to take over the Middle East by indirect aggression and the U.N. may fall apart unless it copes with it.

The charge was made by U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge in the 11-nation Security Council as it pressed toward a vote on rival Soviet and U.S. proposals on the Middle East crisis.

Ambassador Arkady A. Sobolev served notice the Soviet Union would demand an emergency meeting of the 81-nation General Assembly if the Council refuses to order immediate withdrawal of U.S. forces from Lebanon and British forces from Jordan.

Lodge did not refer to President Nasser of the United Arab Republic in making his charges, but he said the plot stemmed from one source, "and you can read all about it in the Cairo newspapers."

The council recessed at 5:20 p.m. (EST) until 7:30 p.m. with each side determined to press for a vote on its resolution.

There were these additional developments:

1. Jordan accused Nasser's United Arab Republic of instigating a plot aimed at overthrowing the pro-Western monarchy of King Hussein and said it was forced to call for British military aid to meet the threat to Jordan's independence.

2. Britain informed the Council formally of the dispatch of troops to Jordan and said they would be withdrawn when Jordan's independence is no longer threatened.

Goldfine Completes His Testimony Before Probers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard Goldfine finished his testimony before a House investigating subcommittee Thursday and promptly complained, "Every possible attempt was made to smear me."

Republican subcommittee members devoted much of the eighth and final day of Goldfine's testimony to trying to show the gift-giving Boston millionaire behaved no differently toward Democratic than toward Republican office holders.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) insisted the inquiry has been nonpartisan.

Goldfine testified he visited and telephoned John R. Steelman when Steelman was assistant to President Harry S. Truman more than he did his friend Sherman Adams, assistant to President Eisenhower.

The hearings have been aimed at finding out whether Adams exerted influence in Goldfine's behalf. Goldfine repeatedly denied it, as Adams had done before the subcommittee just a month ago.

Goldfine said he contributed heavily to both party funds—probably $100,000 over the years.

Steelman told a newsman his contacts with Goldfine were above board discussions of a project that came within Steelman's jurisdiction as head of the National Securities Resources Board.

Goldfine was interested at the time in federal financing for a project, never carried through, to construct a big underground parking garage in Boston. Steelman has said the Truman administration was interested in the possibility that such a project could be used as an emergency bomb shelter.

Goldfine's windup session with the committee was stormy throughout, with words like "doubtful credibility," "contemptible" and "remarkable exploitation of assets" flying back and forth. But after the session ended, Goldfine shook hands with almost everyone he could reach.

Harris, who had been visibly angered by some of the arguments, stalked off to another meeting after adjourning the hearings indefinitely, refusing to discuss future plans.

Pro-Western Leaders Back Protest Move

Speaker Plans Call Of Special Session To Hear Complaints

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Many pro-Western members of parliament Thursday were reported rallying to speaker Adel Osseyran in opposition to the landings of U. S. Marines in Lebanon.

A quick check of the membership indicated that these include deputies normally friendly to President Camille Chamoun but now opposing his invitation that brought the Marines ashore.

Osseyran has protested the landings to President Eisenhower and to the U.N. He claimed that a majority in parliament back his protest and said he plans to call a special session to consider the complaints.

One report said almost two-thirds of the entire Parliament have lined up behind Osseyran. Although pro-Chamoun and pro-West, some complained Lebanon's independence and sovereignty have been infringed on by the landings.

Rejoice At Customers

Many merchants in the capital rejoiced over new customers. The Marines, their guns unfired, are dug in around International Airport and along Beirut's Gold Coast and are buying soda pop at 50 cents a bottle.

Rebel leaders also opposed the landings and have vowed to fight it. Their opposition stems from other grounds, chiefly their fight against Chamoun succeeding himself as president. They deny they are backed by the United Arab Republic of President Nasser and insist they are only an internal political opposition.

The normally pro-Western Osseyran said he had cabled a protest against the landings to President Eisenhower and U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold. The protest was read to the Security Council in New York by the delegate of the United Arab Republic.

Counted On Support

Apparently Chamoun figured he could count on his majority in Parliament for support on the issue. In launching their revolt more than two months ago, the rebels said Chamoun planned to use his parliamentary majority to amend the constitution so he could seek re-election.

Deputy Emile Bustani, pro-Western member, said he counted only 26 out of the 66 members of Parliament who supported Chamoun's decision to call on the United States for help.

Assad Ashkar, pro-Western head of the Syrian Social National party, denounced the troop arrivals as unnecessary. He said his followers, if given arms, could have crushed the revolt against the government in Lebanon.

Senate Beats Down Trade Law Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Thursday night defeated 85-4 a proposal of Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa) to make permanent the 24-year-old reciprocal trade law.

Leaders said it still was uncertain whether final action on the bill would come Friday or next week. Several more lengthy speeches remained to be delivered.

The Clark move did not win any general backing even from supporters of President Eisenhower in the trade program fight. As the Senate inched toward this first vote in two lengthy days of debate, it heard hours of oratory aimed in large part at the voters back home.

Sen. Chapman Revercomb (R-WVa) asked the Senate to accept restrictions written into the trade pact extension by the Finance Committee, over the objections of the administration.

Revercomb said the trade program has dealt heavy blows to the coal, glass and pottery industries of West Virginia.

On the other hand, Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich), told the Senate it would be tragic for Michigan if the bill were not enacted in line with the House version—which gave the administration about what it wants.

The program authorizes the President to negotiate tariff cuts with other nations willing to cut their tariffs on U.S. goods. The House has voted to grant a five-year extension, with authority for the President to cut tariffs up to 25 per cent.

Ike Is Pleased At Nations' Backing

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has expressed his appreciation to the leaders of Turkey Iran and Pakistan for backing the United States decision to send troops to Lebanon.

The White House made public a message Eisenhower sent Wednesday which said:

"I am profoundly gratified by your support for this action, taken in accordance with the principles of the United Nations Charter which recognizes as inherent the right of all nations to work together and to seek help when necessary to preserve their independence."

HARRISBURG, Pa.—(AP)—Alexander Reid asked Thursday for a parole from Dauphin County prison on the ground that he cannot sleep well in jail and that the clothes given him don't fit.

Reid weighs 560 pounds. He is about 40.

He was sentenced in May to serve up to eight months for larceny.

Missile Fired, Cone Recovered

CAPE CANAVERAL Fla. (AP) —The Army completed another successful re-entry test Thursday by firing a mighty Jupiter Missile 1,500 miles through space and recovering its nose cone in the Atlantic Ocean 1½ hours later.

It was the second time in two months that a full-scale nose cone was retrieved intact after it streaked from space through the earth's red-hot atmosphere without burning up.

The latest success bolstered the claims of missile experts that the United States now has no problem getting a missile warhead back to earth after a swift journey through space.

The flight also logged another successful mission for the Jupiter intermediate - range ballistic missile—IRBM—which is expected to provide the first-stage vehicle for the Army's moon rocket.

The Jupiter conquered the IRBM re-entry challenge for the first time May 18 when a full-scale nose cone weighing 1½ tons was recovered.

The current nose cone was located and recovered by a Navy search unit stationed near the impact area off Antigua Island, several hundred miles east of Puerto Rico.

House Passes States Rights Bill, 240 To 155

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ingoring veto threats, the House passed a bill Thursday designed to prevent the Supreme Court from knocking out state laws not in direct conflict with federal laws on the same subject.

The bill, cleared by a roll-call vote of 240-155 after three days of debate, now goes to the Senate where indications were it wouldn't be nearly so popular.

There were predictions during House debate that the states rights measure would be vetoed if it gets to President Eisenhower's desk, since the Justice and Labor departments have opposed it.

The bill was introduced by Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va) on the opening day of Congress last year and was approved by the House Judiciary Committee last month by a split vote. It had the backing of Southern Democrats and most Republicans. They said it was necessary to preserve the constitutional rights of state legislatures.

Opponents called it an open invitation to state legislatures to enact laws removing the teeth from federal statutes dealing with labor, civil rights, railroads, agriculture and integration.

This contention was denied emphatically by proponents, who beat off all efforts to limit the bill's scope.

In brief, the bill says that unless Congress specifically says so, no federal law shall be interpreted as superseding state laws on the same subject unless the state act is in direct and positive conflict with the federal law and the conflict cannot be reconciled.

It would apply, if finally enacted, to almost all past acts of Congress since few of them contained an antipreemption clause. An amendment by Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) to prevent the measure from applying to past federal laws was beaten by a voice vote.

Lebanon Rebels Capture, Quiz Two U.S. Marines

BEIRUT (AP)—Two U.S. Marines reported Thursday night they had been captured by Lebanese rebels and released after three hours of questioning.

The men told their story to a hastily summoned news conference in the presence of Marine commander Jack Pillsbury, public information officer on Adm. Staff.

The two Marines are Sgt. Raymond M. Garren, 29, of Nanticoke, Pa., and Pfc. James J. Ward, 22, a British subject of Northern Ireland who went to the United States in October 1956 and joined the Marines last year. Here is their story:

They were riding in a jeep toward a Marine command post in the port area at 9:30 a.m. They made a wrong turn.

Ward, who was driving, reported a small panel truck appeared opposite them, suddenly blocking their way. The truck contained six men, some uniformed, some not.

Two men got out of the truck and flagged the Marines with automatic guns. The Marines did not resist since they did not know whether the party was friendly or otherwise, and they were under instructions to be cooperative with Lebanese forces.

The two Marines were ordered out of the jeep and pushed roughly toward a shack 100 yards away.

A man who said he was a schoolmaster questioned the two Marines. They were treated in a friendly manner, given cigarets and soft drinks.

The Marine jeep was stripped of its contents. These were later returned when the jeep was escorted by Lebanese military policemen back to the Beirut port area.

During the questioning two good looking women, one of whom spoke English, were present. Sgt. Garren, under questioning, added that from the shack they were taken to a doctor's office and questioned some more.

Britain Flies Paratroopers Into Jordan

Units Of French, U.S. Fleets Are In Lebanon Waters

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Britain rushed 2,000 paratroopers to Jordan Thursday to help young King Hussein face up to new threats to his throne. The British thus joined the United States in a massive military buildup in the smouldering Middle East.

King Hussein asked for the British help, charging President Nasser's United Arab Republic had plotted to overthrow him. He feared a pro-Nasser coup such as the one which killed his cousin, King Faisal II, in Iraq Monday. That coup sent the Middle East to its present crisis.

The Soviet Union massed land, sea and air forces along its southern frontiers and announced maneuvers will begin Friday in areas bordering Turkey and Iran.

U. S. Navy jet fighters made a low-altitude demonstration flight over Jordan in connection with the British landing.

Return To Carriers

A Pentagon spokesman in Washington said more than 50 planes from the carriers Saratoga and Essex made the 70-minute run along the Jordan River Valley "to let it be known they were there." All returned to carriers without incident.

There were more than 8,000 U.S. and British troops in Lebanon, Jordan and Turkey.

With 3,400 Marines already ashore in Lebanon and more than 1,000 paratroopers in Turkey, the United States sent two aircraft carriers, a heavy cruiser and 16 destroyers into Lebanese waters. There they joined 25 other units of the U.S. 6th Fleet. The French cruiser De Grasse anchored off Beirut. Britain sent the 43,000-ton carrier Eagle into the eastern Mediterranean.

British Already There

More U.S. paratroopers were being flown to the Middle East from their NATO bases in West Germany, and reinforcements were on the way for the German bases from the United States.

Britain already has a submarine squadron, three destroyer squadrons and an amphibious warfare squadron in the eastern Mediterranean.

Hussein said the Iraqi uprising surprised Jordan and the world and was carried out with barbaric crimes. This was a reference to the killing of Faisal, Crown Prince Abdul Ilah, and Premier Nuri Said, strong man head of the Iraq-Jordan Federation.

Rebels Lash Back

The Iraqi rebel regime lashed back, calling on Jordanians in a broadcast from Baghdad to overthrow Hussein. Baghdad said Jordan is being occupied by "the forces of imperialism." It asserted Hussein "is disrupting our effort to get rid of imperialism."

Uneasiness spread through the seething Middle East. Iran placed guards on the frontier with Iraq after getting reports Iraqi border guards had been reinforced with tanks and armored cars.

Passport Ban Talks Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse (R-Ore) forced the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Thursday to suspend hearings on a bill which would permit the State Department to refuse Passports to Communists and their backers.

Morse opposes the bill and he took advantage of a Senate rule to win a delay at least until next week. The rule says a committee may not meet, except by unanimous consent of the Senate, when the Senate is in session.

By raising an objection, Morse was able to delay another hearing until Monday morning. He can raise further objections whenever the Senate is in session.

President Eisenhower asked urgently for the bill, which would overthrow a Supreme Court decision in the passport field. Morse contends the bill would violate constitutional rights of individuals; he described it as an "unconstitutional house of legislative illfame."

Toothpaste Claims Said Misleading, Exaggerated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dental and therapeutic claims made for toothpastes are misleading and exaggerated.

Brushing the teeth is what counts, they told a congressional committee, not the brand of toothpaste that goes on the brush.

Several spokesmen for the American Dental Assn. appeared before a House Government Operations subcommittee to urge legislation which would permit the federal government to control reckless claims in toothpaste advertising.

The subcommittee is investigating advertising of dentrifices and the record of regulatory agencies in protecting the public from deception.

Dr. Ralph E. Craig of Cleveland, a member of the Dental Assn.'s Council on Legislation, said the Federal Trade Commission concedes it is powerless to halt unsupported advertising claims for dentifrices.

Dr. Sholom Pearlman of Chicago, a member of the association's Council on Dental Therapeutics, testified no dentifrice now available has been demonstrated to be of significant value by itself in preventing oral disease.

"The brushing is what counts," he said.

Earth Tremors Felt

SALONIKA, Greece (AP) — A series of earth tremors shook the Salonika area Thursday. No casualties were reported but a dozen houses collapsed and scores were damaged in nearby villages.

U.S. Tightens Security On Cuban Base

GUANTANAMO, Cuba (AP) — U.S. naval authorities at the southeast Cuba base tightened security Thursday in readiness for any emergency action in the crises spreading from Mideast conflicts.

The immediate idea here is that no more Cuban rebel shenanigans will be tolerated and U.S. Navy men and families must watch their step.

The rebels handed back four U.S. servicemen during the day.

Fourteen of the busload of 29 American sailors and Marines kidnaped by the rebels June 27 still are held in a mountain stronghold. They are expected to be released within the next few days.

The base has been placed on a four - hour alert. New orders were issued that no officers or men can leave the big base area to go into nearby Guantanamo City or elsewhere without a special pass.

Sailors and Marines were keeping round-the-clock watch on all strategic entrances to the base.

Families of base personnel were brought into the base from Guantanamo City as a precaution against further kidnap attempts.

The tightened security was prompted by small bands of rebels that approached within a mile of the main gate of the base within the last day, stopping cars and searching for weapons needed by the rebel guerilla forces.

The hostages released Thursday and flown back to the base by Navy helicopter are:

Hannibal E. Holmes Jr., Richmond, Va.

Albert H. Matthews, New York City.

Merrit H. Stuck, Grand Rapids Mich.

Robert C. Gerringer, Downington, Pa.

Nasser Sends Out Messages

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—President Nasser sent personal messages Thursday to Prime Minister Nehru of India, President Sukarno of Indonesia, and Premier Chou En-lai of Red China.

A spokesman said acting Foreign Minister Ali Sabry had delivered the messages to ambassadors of the three countries for relay. The contents were not divulged, but obviously the notes dealt with the Middle East situation.

Nasser was due home Thursday or Friday from his 12-day visit to Yugoslavia. He sailed Monday from Brioni.

In a statement Wednesday, Nasser said American troop landings in Lebanon constituted a "danger to Middle East peace" and a "threat to Arab countries."

Sabry also conferred with envoys of the United States, the Soviet Union, and Italy. Acting President and War Minister Field Marshal Abdel Hakim Amer conferred with the Soviet air force chief of staff, Marshal Serge I. Rudenko, here on a 10-day visit.

State Police Head Answers Jury's Charges

CHARLESTON — State Police Supt. Hazen Fair said he has written all members of the Grant County grand jury for further information about traffic and liquor law violations.

Fair sent out the letters yesterday after receiving a recommendation from the grand jury that these laws be more rigidly enforced.

The recommendation — first of its kind Fair has received — contained a statement that it was not meant as a criticism of the department, or any of its members.

The jury's communication mentioned a two-man detachment in Grant County, but Fair said actually three men were assigned to that county — a corporal and two troopers. He said that under existing circumstances, such as budget limitations, the size of the detachment could not be increased at this time.

He pointed out that the three state policemen provide a ratio to Grant County's population, which is about 8,750, three times higher than that for the average in the state.

The superintendent said further that reports from the county do not indicate an abnormal number of highway accidents or liquor law violations. In fact, he continued, property damage and injury accidents, as well as fatalities, all ran lower for the first six months of this year than for the same period of 1957.

Fair added that some neighboring counties — he named Pendleton and Tucker — have fewer state policemen assigned to them than Grant County.

In his letter to the grand jurors, Fair expressed appreciation for their interest in law enforcement. Commenting Wednesday, he added that he would be pleased to get expressions from other counties.

From the rebel side came a warning from national front leader Saeb Salem that his rebels would "seek aid of all kinds from all free nations of the world" to "repel this aggression with all means at our disposal." He said no foreign troops were needed in Lebanon to protect foreign lives.

Stunned Rebellion

It seemed for the time being the presence of U.S. Marines had stunned the rebellion into a temporary paralysis. There was no reason to believe that the rebels had called it quits.

The overthrow of Faisal in Iraq bolstered Lebanese rebels when they seemed to be faltering. Quite likely, the rebels might have attempted to finish off the Chamoun government had the Marines not landed.

Fighting in this revolt-torn capital has practically died out since the troop arrivals. Some sporadic shooting broke out in the Moslem quarter Wednesday night but that could have been Salem's way of laying to rest the rumors that he had ordered a cease-fire.

In this background, U.S. special envoy Robert Murphy flew into Beirut in a huge U.S. Air Force KC135 jet tanker on a nonstrip flight from Westover Field, Mass. He expressed the hope the U.S. forces can contribute to peace and stability in the Middle East.

Two Women Testify They Got Threats

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Chicago women testified Thursday they were threatened with broken bones unless they joined a restaurant workers union.

Appearing before the Senate Rackets Committee, they pointed out Dan Leonardi as the man they said told them they might be "pushed down the stairs" unless they signed up. They joined.

Leonardi is a business representative of Local 450, which was described by Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, as a shakedown local interested only in feathering the nests of its officials.

The local's recruiting practices were described by Mrs. Beverly Sturdevant, a red-haired hostess, and Mrs. Mae Christiansen, a waitress. They work in the Embassy Restaurant, formerly known as Sramek's, on Czermak Road in Chicago.

Leonardi invoked the Fifth Amendment against self - incrimination and refused to testify about anything material when he was called to the witness stand.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) told him the committee had received evidence "that you are a cheap racketeer, hoodlum, muscle man and extortionist." He asked Leonardi whether he wanted to deny it. Leonardi didn't.

Iraqi Troops Protect U.S. Lives, Property

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. citizens and property in Baghdad were reported Thursday to be under the protection of elements of the Iraqi army which are in control of the new revolutionary regime.

A State Department spokesman said that such information as has been received here "indicates that American lives and property are being protected by elements of the Iraqi army."

Press officer Lincoln White told questioning reporters these elements are under control of the regime which Monday killed King Faisal and other officials of his government and seized control of the country.

Britain Flies

out. Home guards armed with submachineguns walked Damascus streets. The population was told to get ready for air alerts.

Prime Minister Macmillan told Parliament that paratroopers had been flown from Cyprus to Jordan at King Hussein's request to head off a plot fused to explode Thursday against the young monarch's government.

Macmillan said the plot was hatched by Nasser's U.A.R. of Egypt and Syria. He said Syrian troops were seen marching toward Jordan's frontiers.

Britain's Parliament split on familiar party lines in approving the troop movement, 314-251. The minority Labor Party voted in opposition. Labor leader Hugh Gaitskell appealed to the government to consider Mideast peace talks with the Russians.

British government sources said the paratroopers flew over Israel to Amman, Jordan, with permission of Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion. While Israel has feuded with Jordan, it fears Nasser's Arab nationalism far more.

Hussein, in a broadcast to his people, said the British landings were authorized by an emergency session of Parliament.

Thus he asked the British to return less than two years after he told them to get out during a wave of Arab nationalism.

Britain set up Jordan as a sovereign state in 1946 and had a treaty of defense and friendship. This was scrapped by Jordan last year.

Hussein, in his broadcast, declared "evil agents" had begun to smuggle arms into Jordan from Syria and the Gaza Strip administered by Egypt.

"The ambitions of international communism," he said, "have reached our country through certain leaders who gave themselves to the devil and became Communist tools for the destruction of Arab natjonalism."

The 23-year-old monarch said that after the revolt in Iraq, "traitors" had turned their efforts against Jordan. He urged all Iraqis to stand united to save their country.

Hussein has proclaimed himself legal successor to Faisal as chief of state in the Iraq-Jordan Arab Federation, now declared dissolved by the rebel regime in Iraq.

If Hussein planned to send his army, built around the old British-trained Arab Legion, against the Iraqi rebels he gave no sign. The old Legion once was the best Arab fighting force in the Middle East. It backed Hussein when he threw out his leftist, pro-Nasser government last year.

Solons Clash Over House Rapist Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa) and John M. Butler (R-Md) clashed Thursday over a House-passed bill to counter a Supreme Court decision freeing a confessed rapist because of delay between his arrest and his arraignment.

In the exchange, criticism was directed at Atty. Gen. Rogers for not having taken a stand on the legislation.

Clark, testifying before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee in opposition to the bill, said he doubted Congress could act wisely because of "the controversy raging" over other recent rulings of the Supreme Court.

Clark referred to a bill sponsored by Butler and Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind) to curb the court's review powers and to overcome the effects of its decisions in several Communist cases.

Butler, a subcommittee member, demanded to know if Clark thought that Congress was incapable of dealing with the situation created by the court's ruling last year overturning the conviction here of Andrew Mallory, the confessed rapist.

"Murderers and rapists are being set at large" as a result of the Supreme Court decision, Butler said. "Do you think Congress should sit idly by and see this happen?" he asked.

Clark replied that he and Butler disagreed "so vitally" that any extended argument between them would not shed much light on the issue. Clark suggested that he and Butler sit down together at lunch some day and talk it over.

The House bill provides that confessions shall not be inadmissable as evidence solely because of delay in taking an arrested person before a committing magistrate.

Boy, 15, Dies In Police Chase

Donald L. Whiting, of Bethesda died in Suburban Hospital.

The driver of the motorcycle was identified by police as Edmund W. Wettengel Jr., 20, of Bethesda. Police said he tried to elude them because he lacked a motorcycle license.

Wettengel, who was not injured, was charged with manslaughter, failure to observe a stop sign, operating a motorcycle without a permit, driving an unreasonable speed, and failing to obey the signal of a police car. He was released under $10,000 bond for a hearing July 30.

Jobless Benefit Claims Show Increase In State

BALTIMORE (AP) — Claims for Maryland unemployment benefits increased 6.6 per cent last week over the previous week, while hirings decreased 3.5 per cent.

Robert B. Kimble, executive director of the Department of Employment Security, announced Thursday that 43,253 Marylanders filed claims for unemployment pay last week, compared to 40,560 during the week ending July 5.

Benefits were paid to 32,426 persons, an increase of 2.4 per cent over the previous week. Kimble said the difference between the number filing claims and the number drawing benefits consists of those filing their first claims, those ineligible or disqualified and those whose right to benefits is disputed and must be resolved through hearings.

Employers in industry covered by the Maryland unemployment insurance law reported the hiring and rehiring of 14,355 workers last week, a drop from the 14,870 given jobs the previous week.

Kimble said another 1,057 Marylanders last week exhausted the full 26 weeks of benefits to which they were entitled. This brings the total to 21,878 since last October.

Under a temporary extension program authorized last month by a special session of the General Assembly, those exhaustees still out of work are eligible for an additional 13 weeks of benefits.

Kimble said claimants were paid a total of $1,016,802 last week, an increase of 2.3 per cent over the $993,617 payment of the previous week.

Son Didn't Follow His Dad's Footsteps

BALTIMORE (AP) — Edward Leo Brownell has been a Baltimore policeman for 16 years. His son's career on the force came to an end Thursday after two weeks.

The junior Brownell was convicted Thursday morning of assaulting Myrtle Johns, 23-year-old Negro maid. Magistrate Henry L. Rodgers fined Brownell $100 and suspended a 60-day jail sentence.

The fine was paid by the elder Brownell.

His son was promptly dismissed from the police force. He was made a probationary policeman July 3.

Furs can stay fresh and new looking for years.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Fur Finery

Little furs continue to be a big fashion. No longer do they hibernate in the summer months; instead, they travel all over the world. Women find them the most glamorous wrap for comfort in different climate and air conditioning temperature changes.

The way furs stand the 12-month test of time depends on how you handle them. During the sunny months you need to take extra precaution. Fur shouldn't be exposed to strong sunlight for long periods at a time since it's likely to fade and bleach. Heat is an enemy of fur. It dries out the natural oils of the leather and makes it brittle.

Should your fur wrap get wet—shake it. Blot with a clean towel and hang up. After it is dry, fluff it by again shaking it gently or by using the blower attachment of a vacuum on it. Never place near heat to dry. Don't comb or brush the skins, either.

Furs can't stand being crowded in a closet. Be sure you never jam them among other apparel. Crowding crushes the pile and they'll mat, which adds more wear to their looks than you can by wearing them. Always hang them on wide, well-constructed padded hangers that conform to the shape of the fur wrap's neck and shoulders.

Friction also takes it's toll. Never carry packages or handbags that will rub the fur. Books and jewelry can damage fur, too, by constant rubbing.

Little fur wraps should be cleaned at least once or twice a year because accumulated dust, dirt and grime will reduce the strength of the pelt. Send all larger wraps to a competent furrier for summer hibernation at controlled temperature and humidity.

A list of names of local and area taxpayers who are entitled to refunds on their 1957 Maryland returns but have not received their checks has been received at the local office of the State Comptroller.

Many Visit State Parks Over Holiday Weekend

On the Fourth of July about 6,000 persons took advantage of the outdoor recreation facilities of Swallow Falls and Herrington Manor located northwest of Oakland in Garrett County.

William H. Johnson, district forester, said the other recreation areas and state parks had plenty of visitors on that day.

About 8,500 persons visited Savage River Forest during the week of July 1 to July 7. There were almost 3,000 picnickers, 700 fishermen and 323 campers.

Some 2,332 persons visited Gambrill State Park in Frederick County from July 1 to July 5 and this included 1,300 picnickers, 910 sightseers and about 122 campers.

The superintendent of Cunningham Falls State Park reported that 2,917 persons visited there July 1 to July 5. Included in that number were 1,400 sightseers, 950 picnickers, 325 fishermen and 242 campers.

Mr. Johnson said that the largest number of persons visit the various areas on Sundays and holidays of the summer season and that all facilities are heavily used.

The peak attendance is in the summer although quite a few visitors come to the areas during hunting season. Each week the area superintendents file attendance reports with Mr. Johnson.

Mayor Is Briefed On Thruway Project

Mayor J. Edwin Keech yesterday afternoon received a briefing on the Cumberland Thruway project.

Details of the comprehensive program were explained by C .R. Nuzum, city engineer.

Edward Welsh Returns From Baltimore Visit

a continuing decline in the plan's reserves which are essential in guaranteeing the ability of Blue Cross to meet its obligations. This limited increase — about three-fifths of the amount requested — will slow this decline. I do not see, however, how it can stem it."

The Blue Cross request for a rate increase was projected to be adequate for two years. It was based on a prediction that hospital admissions of subscribers will increase at the rate of 2 per cent annually over the next two years and the length of the average hospital stay will increase 1 per cent.

Jackson said evidence presented at the six-day hearing and uncovered by a management consultant firm he hired supports this prediction "under present conditions."

Cites Rising Costs

But, he said, "I have estimated that if 'unnecessary' hospital usage is diminished as much as possible," the incidence of admissions will not increase more than 1 per cent and the length of stays will not increase more than one-half of one per cent.

Blue Cross cited rising hospital costs as the major reason it needed a rate increase. It estimated these costs will increase by 5 per cent each year, and Jackson used the same figure.

The insurance commissioner allowed Blue Cross 5 per cent of its annual income for operating cost —substantially the figure requested, but he cut the request for a contingency reserve from four per cent of the projected gross rate to 2 per cent.

Jackson said "an increased rate of hospital usage does not justify a rate increment without consideration of the reasons for the increase of hospital use. Blue Cross should be alert to detect faulty use of hospital facilities because the subscribers' rates depend upon hospital in-patient costs. 'Unnecessary' admissions and stays may have serious impact upon pre-payment plan costs."

Cites Misapprehension

The insurance commissioner rehashed testimony presented at the hearing to the effect that many days of hospitalization could be eliminated if the Blue Cross contract did not limit coverage of diagnostic service to hospital inpatients.

But he said there is no conclusive evidence that such unnecessary use of hospital facilities is carried on to a "significant extent."

Jackson said one cause of hospital admissions "primarily for diagnosis" is the patient's demand for benefits to which he thinks he is entitled under his contract.

"This misapprehension is due in part to the failure of Blue Cross to inform subscribers about contract exclusions in as loud a voice as they are told of inclusions," he said.

But he noted that efforts by Blue Cross to reduce unnecessary hospital admissions and stays "can never be effective unless hospitals and doctors recognize their responsibility and . . . cooperate to control hospital cost."

D'Alesandro Slams Beall's Explanation

BALTIMORE (AP) — The explanation Sen. Beall (R-Md) gave for voting to do away with federal controls on natural gas insults the intelligence of Maryland voters, Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro said Thursday.

D'Alesandro is the Democratic nominee trying to unseat Beall in the November election.

Beall, in explaining why he supported the gas bill passed by congress but vetoed by President Eisenhower, said no one "should have his production regulated by the federal government."

D'Alesandro, in his criticism, said it was a "feeble and ineffectual excuse for his attempted sell-out of some 2,000,000 Maryland gas consumers."

Unemployment Up

Randolph Speaks On Brotherhood

FRANKLIN, W. Va.—Jennings Randolph told an audience near here at Mt. Zion Methodist Church this week that "the best hope for the survival of mankind is to foster a brotherhood of all peoples. This is particularly important among the nations of growing power. We must teach the worth of individual human personalities. They must be told again and again of God's transcendant love over the hatred which too often comes from materialism."

Randolph, former United States representative from the Second District, spoke at the annual Lough family reunion. He was introduced by Jesse Simmons, Ridgeley, a resident of the Lough Association.

"Americans, and citizens of other freedom practicing countries, must fight for a lasting peace — not against the Russian people or the Chinese people — but against the ideas implanted in them by Communism. We must use ideas which can counterbalance the doctrine of Soviet leaders who preach a better life for workers, but actually have as their control objective an extension of selfish power rather than human brotherhood.

"We are interdependent, not only with our neighbors in the immediate community, but among peoples in all parts of the world. No final progress will be wrought in our country which comes through the plight of other nations. World peace can never be won on the tyrannical rule of despots but comes only through the sacredness of individual good will. No really permanent peace can endure which is builded on materialism. Spiritual strength can and shall be triumphant." concluded the U.S. Senate candidate.

Eugene Chaney of Upper Marlboro will build the northern section for $588,596 and T. Edgie Russell of Frederick the southern for $690,613.

Plan To Continue Scientific Work

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP)—Commerce and Industries Minister Philip Holloway reports New Zealand will continue for at least two more years its scientific work in the antarctic Ross Dependency. He said four American scientists will be put up at Scott base while studying earthquakes, glaciers and the aurora with equipment to be transferred when the Little America base is evacuated.

Most weed-killers work best when the weeds are small and growing actively.

Teen-Agers Need Responsible Parents

According to Mrs. Jeanne Moehn, extension family life specialist, University of Maryland, what parents say isn't nearly as important as what they do and the kind of people they are. When the teen-ager reacts loudly and sometimes violently he may be reflecting his parents' personalities, she says. Parents need to be mature persons who know how to get along successfully, themselves, and with other adults.

If the home and parental attitudes are a large share of the teen-agers problems, as many surveys show, what then do teen-agers want from the grown-ups close to them? Mrs. Moehn says they want and need to be among adults who inspire their confidence. They want to be able to trust their parents. They need freedom to make many of their own decisions along with the good advice that parents or teachers can give. Mrs. Moehn points out that while teen-agers often say they want complete freedom, deep down inside they welcome guidance and limits set on their behavior when competently given by adults. The teen-age youngster expects a reasonable degree of consistency from his parents. When "do" and "don't" are applied to similar situations with no logical reason on the part of the parent, youngsters get discouraged and confused.

Encouragement and practice are an important part of a teen-ager's life. When adults expect the best, teen-agers are likely to put forth more effort to achieve worthwhile goals. Teen-agers like a time and place to be alone, and respect for their individual rights as human beings. Lastly they need parents who try to understand modern youth, says Mrs. Moehn. What father did when he was 16 doesn't always fit today's world.

Seven Persons Are Bitten By Dogs

Dog season has apparently swept down on Cumberland, with the city's two hospitals reporting being rushed with persons being bitten by dogs.

Wednesday Memorial Hospital handled four cases, while Sacred Heart Hospital had three cases.

Attaches at both institutions said yesterday that the number of cases of people being bitten by dogs has been unusually heavy during the past two weeks.

At Memorial Wednesday three-year-old Deborah Wright, Potomac Park, was treated after being bitten on her nose. Patricia Rowe, 11, Ridgeley, was treated as was Bobby Emerick, nine, Ellerslie, who sustained a bite on his shoulder.

Wednesday evening Debbie Taylor, 7, of 1610 Piedmont Avenue, was also treated for a dog bite.

Glenn White, aged six, of 89 Beall Street, Frostburg, was admitted after being struck in the eye with a rock.

Sacred Heart Hospital yesterday reported treating three persons for dog bites.

The cases included Tim Woolard, age four, of 216 Knox Street; James Stitcher, 42, of 621 Maryland Avenue, and Leo Seibert, also of this city.

Heart and blood disease and cancer account for about 75 per cent of deaths in the United States.

One-third of the average American family budget goes into the three categories of food, liquor and tobacco.

Pair Charged In Jobless Pay Fraud

Two unusual criminal cases will be tried this morning in Trial Magistrate's Court.

Trial Magistrate Morris Baron will hear the cases at 10 a. m. involving two Lonaconing residents.

Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney, said yesterday Charles H. Dohm and Anna M. Rankin, both of Lonaconing, have been charged with making false and fraudulent statements in order to obtain unemployment compensation benefits.

Mason said both made application for unemployment benefits and stated that they were unemployed and had no earnings.

In fact, they were both employed and received wages during the period of time, Mason charged.

The discrepancies were discovered by audits made by the Department of Employment Security when they cross checked employers reports of employes and their earnings with claims filed by employes.

Mason said Dohm received four weekly unemployment checks of $19 each in 1957 after he applied and stated no earnings for the four-week period. However his employer's records showed he earned $60 a week or a total of $240 for the same four-week period he reported no earnings.

The assistant state's attorney said Anna Rankin reported no earnings for an eight-week period in 1956 and received eight weekly checks of $11 each for a total of $88. Her employer's reported she had earnings for the same eight-week period totaling $106.50.

Mason said it is therefore alleged that Dohm fraudulently received $76 and Mrs. Rankin $88 by making false statements.

The penalties under law for this offense is a fine of $50 to $500 or 90 days in jail or both for each offense.

Local Church Is Renovated

Central Methodist Church is in the midst of the third stage of a three-part improvement project to its property on South George Street.

Rev. J. D. Elliott, pastor, said the congregation has hired the Joseph J. Graciano Company of Pittsburgh to clean the brick of the church.

The Pittsburgh firm, known here for the City Hall, Liberty Trust Building and First Presbyterian Church exterior renovating jobs, is also repointing brick and doing stone restoration.

The first part of the overall project began in 1952 under the pastorate of Rev. Crates Johnson, D.D., who is now pastor emeritus of the church.

That job was the excavation of the basement and converting the quarters into class rooms and a social section.

The second project was the general restoration of the sanctuary, Rev. Mr. Elliott reported.

Club To Hold Fish Rodeo

The tenth-annual fishing rodeo, a joint operation of the Cumberland Outdoor Club, the Oldtown Sportsman's Club and the City Rec Department, will be Saturday, August 9, at the Battie Mixon Fishing Pond in Oldtown. The pond is located in back of Oldtown High School.

Prizes will be given for the event which is for youngsters between 8 and 17 years in the Greater Cumberland and Oldtown area. Among those who attend the rodeo are boy and girl scouts and a group from the Allegany County League for Crippled Children.

Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, stocks the pond.

Last summer 1,500 participated and a total of 144 fish were caught and registered. One-hundred prizes were distributed.

Gene Mason, city recreation director, said that final plans for the rodeo will be made at a meeting within the next two weeks.

Beall Approves Of Marine Landing

BALTIMORE (AP) — The landing of U.S. Marines in Lebanon served as "notice to the world that no longer are we to be shoved around," Sen. Beall (R-Md) declared yesterday.

"We must face up to the Middle East problem," he said. "We cannot bury our heads in the sand like ostriches and refuse to see and meet the situation.

"We have pussyfooted here, backed off there and compromised—all in the good cause of peace. That's all very well, but let us not fool ourselves.

"From the way things have been going, I am convinced that if we are not to succumb, sooner or later we must take a firm stand, and it seems to me that the sooner we do this the better.

"If we are firm now, I believe that another world war can be avoided."

Beall spoke to men who have been through two world wars, members of the American Legion in Maryland attending their 40th annual convention.

The legionnaires Wednesday heard Maj. Gen. William W. Quinn say the Lebanon landing proved the need for such mobile forces as the new Strategic Army Corps.

The staff member of the Army's pentomic reorganization program said the corps set up for limited action probably would have been sent to Lebanon except that the Marines already were in the area with the 6th Fleet.

Alert Exercise Is Being Held In Frostburg

The Marines have landed in Lebanon and the Army is landing in Frostburg.

Big Army helicopters, for the second summer in a row, have started to make their "milk run" trips from the east into Frostburg.

The first were seen Wednesday morning and the flights continued through the day and yesterday.

The population of Frostburg has been enlarged somewhat with personnel of an unknown federal government agency.

The exercise is a part of Operation Alert. The first phase of this was carried out in May when key governmental bureaus, agencies and departments dispersed from Washington following a simulated attack on a large number of important U. S. cities.

The second phase is now being undertaken. Theoretically, this is supposed to be the immediate aftermath of the mass enemy attack and is to test the ability of the government to reorganize.

It is called the federal evaluation phase when a program is being carried out to determine how quickly and effectively the agency can restore its communications, and start functioning again.

Federal authorities are keeping all details from the press and specifically from identifying the federal bureau relocated in Frostburg.

The agency has set up its emergency headquarters on the second floor of the American Legion building there.

It was learned from Frostburg that an extensive communications center has been installed there.

The Gunter Hotel and motels in the area have many guests for this week who are driving District of Columbia cars.

There is a shuttle service of two autos running from the Legion home to the campus of Frostburg State Teachers College where the big helicopters have been landing.

Permission to land there was received earlier, it was learned.

The helicopters attracted much attention last July when a similar exercise was carried out.

There was the widespread report that President Eisenhower was scheduled to be flown to Frostburg. However, it was never revealed whether the Chief Executive made the flight.

Another agency, together with several hundred officials and employes, are operating in similar fashion in Morgantown.

From there it will go out Bedford Road, across Nave's Crossroads to Mason Road and the picnic grounds.

The bus will leave at 7:10 p. m. for the return trip which will back track the morning route.

The picnic will help to defray expenses of the PTA for the rewiring and installation of new lights in all the classrooms.

Band Concert Set Sunday

The season's second outdoor concert will be given Sunday, 7:30 p. m., at the Constitution Park Amphitheater by the Cumberland Municipal Concert band, under the direction of Frank Gamble who will conduct in the absence of Dr. Ward Cole.

The Sunday concert will feature many favorite marches and modern arrangements of "Donkey Serenade," "Deep Purple," and "Alexander's Ragtime Band." Featured overture will be Sigmund Romberg's "Desert Song."

The band is composed of 40 musicians from Cumberland and the tri-state area.

Elkins Airport Revenue Bonds Are Redeemed

ELKINS (AP) — The Elkins airport became the property of this Randolph County community Thursday when an attorney for the U. S. Northern District Court delivered $75,000 in cancelled revenue bonds to Mayor Harry E. Wilmoth.

Roderick A. Devison of Fairmont brought the cancelled bonds here. They were issued in the early 1940s and purchased by the old Reconstruction Finance Agency to provide Elkins with funds to purchase a site for its airport.

The bonds were taken over by the House and Home Finance Agency when the Reconstruction Finance Agency was disbanded about two years ago.

Elkins bought the bonds back recently for $7,500 when the government offered that figure for settlement of the debt. Part of the bonds had been in default before the settlement was reached.

Beckley Lawyer Is Reprimanded By W.Va. Bar

CHARLESTON (AP) — Beckley attorney Brown H. Payne has been reprimanded publicly for "unprofessional conduct" by the committee on legal ethics of the West Virginia State Bar.

The committee's chairman, R. E. Stealey of Parkersburg, reported to the State Bar offices here that the reprimand was given for solicitation of business involving five children injured in a 1956 bus accident in Greenbrier County.

The mothers of the children testified at a hearing for Payne on July 12 that they had not authorized him to call on them after the accident. One of them was quoted that, in addition, she had not even known Payne prior to that time.

Canon 27 of the legal ethics promulgated by the Supreme Court establishes that it is unprofessional for any attorney to solicit employment by unsought interviews not warranted by personal relationships.

Payne was quoted that he investigated the accident for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, which suspected possible violation of desegregation rulings. He maintained his contacts with the parents of the children arose from this assignment.

Miners' Vacation Hits Rail Tonnage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The annual vacation at the coal mines kept railroad freight loadings down to 49,142 cars last week, the Association of American Railroads reported Thursday.

This volume, for the week ended July 12, was 33,481 cars or 7.3 per cent above the first week of the coal miners' vacation.

However, the week's business represented a decrease of 201,457 cars or 29.1 per cent below the corresponding week in 1957, which included two days of the mining holiday, and 128,846 or 20.3 per cent under the same week in 1956, when loadings were depressed by a steel strike.

McCue said the workshop was requested by county superintendents in the Eastern Panhandle area. It is planned to help teachers improve the reading skills of their pupils. The workshop will be open to juniors, seniors, and graduate students.

Chapman Urges Tariff Barrier To Help W.Va.

State's Industries Hurt By Imports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Economic woes of West Virginia's coal, glass and pottery industries were cited Thursday by Sen. Chapman Revercomb (R-WVa) in urging greater tariff protection.

Revercomb told the Senate many advocates of the reciprocal trade program emphasize trade at the expense of reciprocity.

"What is 'reciprocal' about legislating American industries out of business by allowing cheap foreign products to overrun domestic markets?" he demanded.

"But this is exactly the fate of the American pottery and glass industries, and I refer to them in particular because they are of the utmost importance to my state of West Virginia, and to the entire country," he continued.

Discussing imports of residual oil, used mostly for industrial heating, Revercomb said it is obvious that the voluntary program for reducing oil imports has not provided adequate protection for the coal industry.

Liquor Store Machined To Short Change

W.Va. Continues Statewide Probe

CHARLESTON (AP) — A "one-armed bandit" rigged to short-change customers at state liquor stores was the centerpiece of a news conference at the statehouse today.

It was used to explain why the State Liquor Control Commission is cautioning customers everywhere to count their change when the leave the cashier's window.

Liquor Commissioner Robert S. Judge called the news conference in his office, attended also by area supervisors for the liquor control agency.

Reviewing some recent unpleasant history of the commission, Judge said the dishonest machine was discovered in the Matewan liquor store.

The managers and cashiers of the stores at Matewan and Kermit, both in Mingo County, were suspended and subsequently resigned after irregularities were turned up by a surprise audit on July 4.

Irregularities also were discovered at Pineville, and the area supervisor for Mingo County resigned.

Judge and M. Jerome Muntzing, general field supervisor, explained that the larcenous change-maker, an automatic device, was discovered by emergency personnel sent into the Matewan store after suspension of the top officials.

The commission officials explained that the machine held back about 35 per cent of the sales price whenever change was made.

Just how much may have been held back over how long a period, nobody could say. Judge said no charges had been filed, adding: "We are not an enforcement agency."

He did say, however, that in addition to warnings to customers to count their change, the commission is engaged in a program of converting to cash registers which note the exact sales price on stickers placed on the merchandise. In this way, the liquor store patron can check later as to the exact amount of the purchase and how much he was given back in change.

Judge said about 120 of these cash registers are now on order.

The commissioner said the recent flurry of scandals apparently had put a stop to whatever other irregularities may have been going on at state stores.

"We shall," he added, "continue to be on the lookout for dishonesty and will expose it."

Flood Waters Are Fun For Youngsters

Defense Issues Boom; Market Surges Ahead

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels and other defense issues boomed as the stock market surged to a new high for 1958 in heavy trading Thursday.

It was the biggest rise in 2½ months. An estimated $2,187,000,000 was added to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange based on the rise in The Associated Press average.

Volume was 3,180,000 shares compared with 3,240,000 Wednesday. It was the third straight three-million-share day.

Leading stocks rose from fractions to well over two points.

Six of the 15 most active stocks were steels. Aircrafts, coppers, chemicals, rubbers, shipbuilding stocks, rails and domestic oils gained. International oils were unchanged to slightly lower. Gold mining stocks declined.

The role the United States has assumed in the Middle East prompted expectations of greater defense spending. At the same time, Wall Street seemed to become reassured that a shooting war could be avoided.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced $1.70 to $178.00, a new peak for the year. The industrials rose $2.90 and the rails $2.00, new 1958 highs for these components. The utilities were unchanged.

Of 1,172 issues traded, 617 rose and 350 declined. New highs for the year totaled 99 and new lows 8.

Twelve of the 15 most active stocks rose, one fell and two were unchanged.

American Stock Exchange prices were generally higher on volume of 730,000 shares compared with 870,000 Wednesday.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (AP)—A strong flurry in the final few minutes of trading flipped most grain futures prices into new highs for the season on the Board of trade Thursday.

The buying, set off mainly by the landing of British troops in Jordan, popped open several nests of stop-loss buying orders as prices climbed and these added considerably to the already brisk demand. Prices still were climbing when trading ended.

Hitting new season highs were all except the July contract for corn, all except the July contract for oats, the December, March and May contracts for oats, all but the July contract for soybeans, and May wheat.

Some lard deliveries also were at new highs, and some other grain contracts were near previous peaks.

Wheat closed 1¼-3 cents a bushel higher, July $1.92½-⅝; corn 1⅜-3 cents higher, July $1.34⅜-¼; oats ⅝-1⅞ higher, July 65⅜; rye 4⅛-4¾ higher, July $1.30¼; soybeans 3½-5¼ higher, July $2.35, and lard 70 cents a hundred pounds lower, to 38 cents higher, July $12-11.85.

Court Lists Depositories

MOOREFIELD — In the July meeting of the Hardy County Court the South Branch Valley National Bank, Moorefield and the Capon Valley Bank, Wardensville were named as legal depositories of county funds. Bonds in the amount of $50,000 for the South Branch Valley Bank and of $30,000 for the Capon Valley Bank were required as collateral.

Applications for appointment to the office of Notary Public were received from Katherine B. Harper and Felix G. Poling. The court determined that the applicants were residents, of legal age, competent to perform the duties of the office and of good moral character and recommended the appointment to the secretary of state.

Ballot Commissioners for the General Primary Election to be held Tuesday August 5 were named by the Court.

W.Va. Pilot Survives Jump In Nova Scotia

GREENWOOD, N. S. (AP) — An American pilot who parachuted from his jet fighter plane Tuesday over Southwestern Nova Scotia leaves here Thursday by plane for his base at Myrtle Beach, S. C.

An RCAF spokesman said Lt. Clark Morgan, 25, of Charleston, W. Va., was returning by a United States Air Force transport plane. Morgan telephoned officials here yesterday from a Nova Scotia village to say he had found his way out of the bush where he landed and was uninjured.

Morgan abandoned his jet 35 miles northeast of Yarmouth, N. S., after being unable to get together with an aerial tanker for refueling.

It was Morgan's first jump in his three years with the USAF. He said he considered himself "real lucky" in escaping with nothing more than cuts and bruises.

He spent Tuesday night in a rowboat on a shore of the lake and walked to safety Wednesday while search planes crisscrossed the area where he was last seen.

Fleming To Inspect Firefighting Facilities

Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming will take a "first hand" tour of the Cumberland Fire Department this morning.

Fleming, Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker and Mayor J. Edwin Keech will meet Cumberland's 61 firemen and look over the department's equipment and installations.

Chief Parker said yesterday the purpose of the tour is to familiarize the new commissioner and mayor with the firemen, equipment and overall operation of the Fire Department.

Fleming will be instructed on how calls and boxes are handled in Central Station and will also inspect the department's radio transmitter on Haystack Mountain.

Two-way radios are installed in Central's ladder truck, two pumpers and deck gun truck, two pumpers at West Side and in first-line pumpers at East Side and South End. These radios are serviced from the transmitter.

The mayor and commissioner will also study how the various calls are handled out of the station houses.

For example at Central Station, which covers the "High Valley District," the hook and ladder answers all first alarms along with the pumper, and when Central receives a second alarm firemen from West Side automatically fill in.

The new commissioner and mayor will also inspect the $32,000 ladder truck and new $25,000 pumper at Central. Also housed at Central is the chief's car and deck gun truck which carries approximately $2,000 worth of equipment.

The group will also see West Side's $20,000 engine, East Side's $15,000 engine and South End's new $18,000 engine and $2,500 little Fox.

The various routes which firemen use in answering an alarm will also be explained by Chief Parker.

Man Sentenced In Juvenile Court

A 21-year-old local man was fined $25 and given a suspended jail sentence yesterday in Juvenile Court.

Juvenile Magistrate Fred H. Anderson found the man, Robert S. Clanagan, 21, of 179 Wineow Street, guilty of contributing to the delinquency of minor boys.

Clanagan was apprehended by City Police earlier this week after the parents of the boys complained to authorities that the man gave their sons wine on the Lamont Street Playground.

Magistrate Anderson suspended the jail term, but committed Clanagan to jail in default of the $25 fine.

The magistrate also warned the boys about being of good behavior.

Heavy, Heavy Hangs The Budget Deficit

When President Eisenhower proposed a federal budget of $71.8 billion in January, 1957, there was a loud outcry that the administration had surrendered the fiscal principles which had made it popular with the American people.

Those principles had resulted, during the early years of Mr. Eisenhower's incumbency, in a reduction of the federal budget and in a token income tax cut across the board.

Conservatives of the President's own party voiced their protests and the Democratic Congress made motions of reducing the President's proposed outlays. That Congress had little success is indicated by the fact that high spending has continued following Russian Sputniks and Congressional enactments to meet recessionary trends. The government wound up the fiscal year on June 30 with a deficit instead of the expected surplus.

Now budget experts say the deficit next June 30 will top $10 billion. That would be the country's largest deficit of any peacetime year. The figure could be higher or lower. If Congress continues to reduce revenues, as it did by repeal of the 3 per cent freight tax, the deficit will be higher. If business recovery comes as quickly as some oracles predict it will, the deficit will be lower.

The only factor that could change the gloomy outlook would be denied of some proposed spending programs and a reduction in others. Only by such a course will the government be able to wipe out deficits and build up a surplus to permit those tax reductions for which all American citizens yearn.

These Days

The Western States

The Republican Party in California is split into the Knight faction and the Knowland faction but from the standpoint of Republican national politics, it is important that William Knowland should be elected Governor of California. If Knowland fails of election, it will affect the position of Vice President Nixon, for no candidate can be regarded as strong whose home state is uncertain.

The Republican leaders in Washington recognize that 1958 is a bad year but they are not willing to concede that 1960 is bound to be. The generally accepted candidate for 1960 is Vice President Richard Nixon and at present there is no other candidate. Harold Stassen, who was troublesome for Nixon, has been finally eliminated by his defeat in the Pennsylvania primaries. William Knowland, who had the Taft basic strength in the party, cannot be nominated as long as Nixon is a candidate. President Eisenhower is said to have hoped to make General Gruenther his heir, but that is now beyond possibility. At one time, there was some talk of Sherman Adams and Dr. Milton Eisenhower but there is none of that sort of conversation left. By every process of elimination, it is Nixon.

Senator Knowland has still to wage his campaign and everything that a political party can put into a fight will go into electing William Knowland as Governor of California. It is unthinkable politically that the present incumbent, "Goodie" Knight, will sabotage his party, although in California some very unthinkable things have been done over the years.

In Arizona, Barry Goldwater is running for re-election as United States Senator. Goldwater is the most constructive conservative the Senate has had in many years. No die-hard reactionary, he stands for positive principles of American economy which he knows how to state understandably and with courage. Goldwater has an advantage which is rarely to be found in the Senate, in that he is a retail merchant. Most Senators are lawyers and professional politicians. Goldwater is a department store owner and operator. He not only understands mass psychology but he has a firm grasp of the needs and wants and opinions of grass-roots folks. He therefore brings to the Senate a closeness to the ordinary person upon the understanding of whom his private and public career depend.

The Republicans need Goldwater in the Senate because he is an unwavering Republican who builds a record of ideas and principles with the sureness of a leader. His running quarrel with Walter Reuther has done the Republican Party no harm and has made "the right to work" issue an important one for 1960.

In Nevada, Senator George Malone comes up for re-election. Like Goldwater and Knowland, Malone comes out of a profession other than the law. Malone is a mining engineer and he has been successful in his profession. Unaccustomed to the ways of politicians, he sometimes upsets the political apple-cart by offside remarks, but his record shows substantial work of an extraordinarily high quality, particularly when he is dealing with subjects to which an engineering mind may address itself with advantage.

His analysis of the American position in the economic world is probably the best that has been made anywhere and his report on our accessibility to raw materials reads like a text-book. His questioning of witnesses before the Senate Finance Committee this session was acute, understanding and far beyond the usual efforts of Congressional committees to adduce information of a technical nature.

Just as it is important for the Republican Party for Knowland to be elected Governor and for Goldwater and Malone to be re-elected to the United States Senate, so will the Democratic Party fight for their defeat. Therefore the campaigns in California, Arizona and Nevada are likely to be among the most bitter in the country.

While partisans in California on all the various sides are sure of the course of the battle and its ultimate result, those who do not live in California can only regard the outcome from the standpoint of national affairs and from that standpoint the defeat of these three stalwarts of the Republican Party would be a calamity to it because these men represent the character of the party prior to 1952, which is what the voters are likely to be talking about in 1960. For how will one make a distinction between the Republican and the Democratic parties?

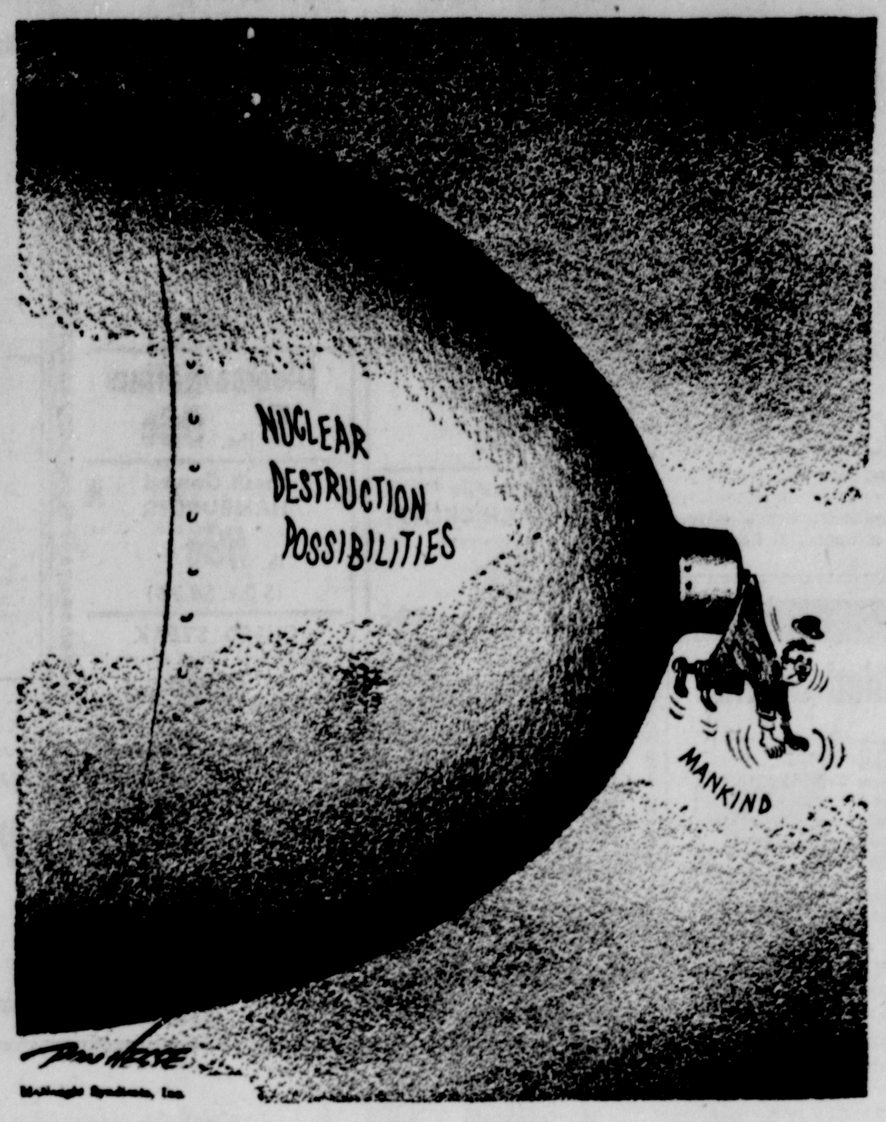
Case Of The Tail Wagging The Dog



Commander Of U. S. Sixth Fleet Is Diplomat And Brilliant Naval Officer

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Adm. Charles R. Brown, Commander of the 6th Fleet, upon whom the fate of the free world depends in the Near East, is a fighting naval officer with a sense of humor and the techniques of a diplomat.

Every mayor along the Mediterranean, whether he be Greek, Turk, Spaniard, Frenchman, or Italian, knows "Cap" Brown and looks forward to the time his flagship, the USS Salem, will anchor offshore. Its arrival not only means money spent with local merchants, but American sailors of the 6th Fleet under Admiral Brown have been trained to be good-will ambassadors. Their behavior ashore has been amazingly good.

It was in 1917 that young Charley Brown, a callow youth from Tuscaloosa, Ala., arrived at the Union Station in Washington carrying two heavy suitcases, en route to Annapolis to join the Navy. In the station he saw two Marines. And the Admiral now tells the story, "I almost put my two suitcases down and told them 'I'm going to be a Marine too'."

Brown didn't become a Marine, and at first he did not take naval fighter training. He did go into naval aviation, and while at Pensacola, Fla., in 1924, was told by his commander to take fighter training.

"Yes, sir," said young Brown. He did not reply, "Aye, aye, sir," a reply which implies obedience.

Some days later, the commander asked him: "Why didn't you take fighter training?"

"My wife asked me not to."

"You take fighter training," admonished the commander as if that were the end of it.

Some days later, in class, the commander again challenged Brown: "I told you to take fighter training. Why aren't you doing it?"

"My wife told me not to," the young naval officer repeated.

"Who is running this school?" snapped the commander, "your wife or me?"

"Who has to live with her?" replied Brown, "you or me?"

Good-Will Ambassador

Later, however, Brown did become a fighter pilot, and has flown from the decks of most of the airplane carriers of the Navy. Only two officers remain who have flown from the Navy's first carrier, the Langley. One is Adm. Mel Pride, Commander of the Naval Air Force in the Pacific, and the other is Admiral Brown.

Last fall, from the bridge of the USS Franklin D. Roosevelt off the coasts of Greece and Italy, I watched jet fighters landing on the deck of the FDR with clockwork precision. One by one, a minute apart, they roared in out of the night, gauged their distance by the red fire ball at the end of the runway, caught the hook on the belly of their plane on the steel arresting cable, and roared to a screeching stop.

Their precision performance gave you confidence in the ability of the U. S. 6th Fleet to meet any challenge in the Mediterranean.

Admiral Brown and the fleet have been not only a great fighting force but a great floating embassy of good will. American sailors, on going ashore, are instructed by the Admiral: "In port our mission is to promote international friendship . . . Peace is marked by such things as good will, understanding, cooperation . . ." His men have given more clothes and money to orphanages along the Mediterranean, thrown more Christmas parties, made more children happy, than most Americans have back home.

Big Russian Fleet

But while spreading good will, Admiral Brown and the officers of the 6th Fleet have been constantly alert, constantly worried over the fact that just a few hundred miles north from Lebanon, in the Black Sea, Russia has three times as many ships as the 6th Fleet. Why they are there, no one exactly knows. I asked Admiral Brown last fall. He could only speculate.

In the relatively short time since World War II, Russia has become the world's second largest naval power, even surpassing England. "Jane's Fighting Ships" lists her as having twenty 15,000-ton ships of the Sverdlov class, all newer than the Salem, plus seven heavy cruisers, plus excellent new destroyers, and over 500 submarines, mostly new.

In addition, Russia now has three submarine bases in the Mediterranean—one in Albania, one in Egypt, and one in Syria, the latter just a few miles north of the point where American troops are landing in Lebanon.

Talking to me in Kansas City two years ago about the danger of Russia's penetration of the Mediterranean, Harry Truman said: "For centuries the Czars of Russia have been trying to come down into the warm waters of the Mediterranean, but first Britain stopped them. Then, later, our aid to Greece and Turkey stopped them. Today Russia has three submarine bases in the Mediterranean. Stalin must be laughing in his grave."

"What would you have done to stop Russian arms from going to Syria and Egypt if you were in the White House?" I asked.

"I would have used the 6th Fleet," he replied with typical Truman bluntness.

The 6th Fleet is now being used.

Truman's remark, of course, was made two years ago—before sputnik and before Russia had developed the IRBM. A lot has happened during the two years that have intervened. Russia has not only sent arms to her Near East satellites, but has trained men, controls the pipelines, the Suez Canal, and has won over half the Arabs of the Near East. In two years the United States has lost more prestige than in 200 years. Can the 6th Fleet, with all its courage, all its training, all the skill of its commander, now do what it could have done two years ago?

Present Crisis Warns Of War Which Could Come

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—It isn't a war, but the warning of a war which could come unless the Soviet government abandons its aggression and subversion in the Middle East—this is the true meaning of the present crisis.

The United States government now has put the blame for the downfall of the government of Iraq and for the rebellion in Lebanon squarely on the Soviet government.

There are two basic points upon which the United States feels justified in using military force. Both were stated in a single paragraph by President Eisenhower in his message to Congress on Tuesday, as follows:

"United States forces are being sent to Lebanon to protect American lives and by their presence to assist the government of Lebanon in the preservation of Lebanon's territorial integrity and independence, which have been deemed vital to United States national interests and world peace."

The language and the order of stating the two issues are fraught with great significance. For it will be noted that, first, American Marines are in Lebanon to protect 2,500 American citizens and, second, it is "by their presence" that help will be given to preserve Lebanon's territorial integrity. The second point is really the "Eisenhower Doctrine," which was approved by a joint resolution of Congress. As for the first point, no Congressional action at this time is needed, because a president is always empowered to take the initial steps to protect American lives and property.

It was on the issue of seeking further military authority to protect American lives that President Wilson asked Congress in 1917 to recognize the existence of a "state of war" because the submarines of the Kaiser's government were killing American citizens who were traveling in unarmed passenger ships on the high seas. Only secondarily was the issue of "making the world safe for democracy" introduced in that presidential message to Congress.

Today the United States government stands primarily on its right, under international law, to send in military forces to protect American lives and incidentally to comply with the request of the existing government in Lebanon for military help in preserving its territorial integrity and independence.

The situation in Iraq, on the other hand, while not identical, is sufficiently similar for the United States to send military forces in there also to protect the many Americans resident in that country. The legal government of Iraq has been overthrown in the last few days and its successor, an improvised rebel junta, has been promptly recognized by the Communists and their allies. This is in contradiction of all precedents in international law, which require that a government should at least be in supreme military control of a large part of the country before recognition is given.

The Soviet government, of course, is blasting forth its denunciation of the American intervention. But this is being done to hide the true guilt of the Communists. President Eisenhower is outspoken in his charge of Soviet complicity. In his message to Congress he described the start of the revolt in Lebanon along the Syrian border two months ago, and said:

"This revolt was encouraged and strongly backed by the official Cairo, Damascus and Soviet radios, which broadcast to Lebanon in the Arabic language. The insurrection was further supported by sizable amounts of arms, ammunition and money and by personnel infiltrated from Syria to fight against the lawful authorities."

This is the President's public indictment of both the Moscow and Cairo governments. It forms the basis for future action by the west. The President summarized it succinctly as follows:

"Indirect aggression and violence are being promoted in the Near East in clear violation of the provisions of the United Nations Charter."

This puts up to the U.N. the issue of whether it will again denounce, as it did in its Korean resolution in 1950, the crime of "fomenting of civil strife in the interest of a foreign power." So, while the United States is asking the U.N. to intervene and take over the problem, the government here is prepared nevertheless to form a "collective security group under Article 51 of the U.N. Charter and take the action that such a group is permitted, under the charter—irrespective of security council votes—to carry on until peace is restored. The policy of the United States is enunciated as followed by the President: "We must be prepared to meet the situation, whatever be the consequences."

This is a solemn warning to the Soviets that America means business. It is a warning also that the United States will not let the Middle East fall into Soviet hands through the plotting of Nasser or any other puppet regime in Syria, Iraq, or anywhere else.

It looks like the beginning of a long struggle. There will be no big war, however, unless the Soviets precipitate it. There will be no local war either if the U.N. has the courage to squelch the intrusions of Soviet agents in the Middle East.

At last, the west has come to grips with the Soviet method of warfare—its subversion and bribery, its bold use of lies over the controlled radio stations of the Communist allies in Egypt and Syria and over the captive radio stations of eastern Europe.

It's going to be a highly ticklish business and a nervous time for peoples everywhere. But most imperative at the moment is the need for small-minded politicians in the United States and in Britain and elsewhere in the parliaments of the West to keep muzzled. For if the Soviets become convinced that the western countries lack internal unity, risks may be taken and a dangerous situation might arise that could bring on the major war which neither the East nor the West really wants.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

At 10, I got out of bed, slipped the yellow bathrobe over nothing, and lit a cigaret. This is my time for yawning and scratching. It requires time to remember that I am in Encino, California, that this is another sunny day, that Gayle has finished breakfast and is swimming, that my shoulder hurts, that the cigaret tastes like a horse's bed, that life isn't worth the struggle.

The light on the phone blinked. There was a knock on the door. It was Mrs. Wilma Morris, asking what I wanted for breakfast. "Orange juice, corn flakes, tea and a kind word," I said. I picked up the phone. It was Len Riblett, city editor of the Los Angeles Examiner.

"Don't be alarmed, Jim," he said, "but two young ladies were accosted on the grounds of U.C.L.A. last night by a man who said that he was Jim Bishop, a columnist." It took time to sink in. Don't be alarmed. Don't be alarmed. By the way, just where was I last night? Tracy Barrett went home, and Alma Ross stopped in for a short visit.

We talked awhile and Len said it was nothing to worry about, that these things happen, and that the police were tracking the impersonator. After Len signed of, I began to awaken. I told Wilma to hold the breakfast for awhile. She said it isn't too difficult to hold corn flakes.

Captain Nick Janise of the University of California at Los Angeles Police Department said that some young man — "tall, dark, goodlooking and about 25" — (I'm none of those) was sitting on the steps of the Psychiatric Building. He saw the two girls cutting across the campus from an afternoon movie called "No Time for Sergeants."

"Ah-ha," he is alleged to have said. "Two teen-agers. Now I can complete my survey." The girls, who must be slightly giddy to permit themselves to be stopped by a stranger, said: "What survey?"

"I," said the handsome one, "am completing an important survey on sex." The two girls giggled, and sat while handsome drew a pencil and a pad.

"By the way," one girl said, "who are you?" He seemed surprised that he had not been recognized. "I'm Jim Bishop, a columnist," he said. From his jacket pocket, he drew a police card and flashed it briefly.

I got off the phone. "Wilma," I said, "never mind the breakfast." I phoned Captain James Hamilton, chief of the Intelligence Division. He wasn't aware of the case, but found out that a Miss Murphy of the West Los Angeles Juvenile Bureau was working on it. "Stop worrying," he said. "Go back to your corn flakes."

With a little work, I found out the name of one of the girls. I phoned her mother. When I said: "This is Jim Bishop," there was a silence, the sound of a long breath, and a soft "Ye-e-es." It took time to convince her that my name is what it is, that I am 50 years of age, 5 feet 7½ inches tall, weight 165, hair gray.

It was important to find out whether this impersonator was a harmless joker, who likes to make girls look ridiculous, or whether he had other ideas. In two minutes of listening to Mrs. G., I was convinced that handsome had other ideas.

He questioned the two girls from 6 p. m. to 8 p. m. And the questions! I've been interviewing people for 29 years and I wouldn't ask those questions in a clinic. He not only asked lots of intimate details, he gave the girls some of his own weird notions on sex. Also, he used a lot of medical terms.

This is being written the following day. I have a dry corn flake stuck in my throat. It won't go up. It won't go down. Somewhere, out among the 4,000,000 people in Los Angeles, there is a bright young man with a police card. He seems, at the moment, too timid to do any real damage.

However, with each succeeding interview, he will get less and less of a kick from conversation. He will need additional stimulation. He is timid because he cannot stand to be rebuffed. The first time he is spurned — watch out.

Summer Requires Adjustment Of Living Habits

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Summer requires a readjustment of living habits. Everybody replaces winter clothes with lighter weight garments to aid in maintaining normal body temperature but it is even more important to adapt our meals to the reduced caloric requirements of hot weather.

Fewer calories are needed but careful meal planning will insure a liberal supply of the minerals and vitamins necessary for optimum health. Many people make the mistake of substituting snacks and iced, sweetened beverages for regular meals. This haphazard eating may contain more calories than three well balanced meals, and yet be deficient in essential nutriments.

Include in the daily summer diet the same basic foods needed throughout the year. This means: 1 pint milk; 1 egg (or at least four per week); 2 servings meat, fish, poultry, or cheese; 2 or more servings of vegetables; 2 or more servings of fruit; enriched or whole grain breads or cereals.

Summer is the season when fresh vegetables and fruits are more plentiful and delicious. The color and variety in flavor and texture provided by a crisp vegetable or a chilled fruit salad usually will chase away that "too hot to eat" feeling.

Simple menus are best. The caloric intake can be kept to a minimum when moderate sized portions are eaten and no sugar or adidtional fats are used.

Those who long for salad dressings, bacon, sugar, jam, or jelly may have them if concessions are made to balance the caloric intake. Substitute skim milk for whole milk, green or yellow vegetables for potatoes, consomme or broth for creamed soups, and fresh or water-pack fruits for dinner desserts.

(We have a five day summer diet that may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.)

BOYS WILL BE BOYS

Mrs. K. writes: My 2 year old son pounds his head against the crib at night before he falls asleep and my 6 year old picks his nose until it bleeds. What's wrong with these boys?

REPLY

They are normal and if they never acquire any worse habits than these you can thank your lucky stars. The head banging will stop soon and a little guidance will go a long way toward making a little gentleman of your 6 year old.

ONIONS AND COLDS

Mrs. W. writes: My grandmother was a great believer in onions to cure colds. Do you think there is anything to this remedy?

REPLY

No, it belongs to the era of lettuce to induce sleep, fish as a brain food, parsley to step up fluid output, and port wine for anemia. While the cure of colds is as elusive as at the turn of the century, at least we know what won't cure them.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

"Trader Horn" was an old prevaricator whose dubious "autobiography" scored a whopping success here in the thirties. Horn's long, grey beard, picturesque cape and sombrero, and infinite capacity for liquor added luster to the legend.

Horn, who referred to himself as "Zambezi Jack," autographed thousands of copies of his book for devotees. When his manager pointed out that he was sapping his strength needlessly, he made a reply that has become famous in publishing circles. "It's been my experience," he declared, "that nobody ever lends an autographed book!"

A lady whose husband had gotten rich in a very great hurry was taken to her first country club luncheon. As her car drove into the grounds, she took off her fur piece. Her mentor advised, "Keep it on, Tillie. If you're going to put on the dog, now is the time to do it."

"Dog!" cried the lady, "these are my best sables!"

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 no trump	Double	Pass	Pass
Pass

Opening lead: Spade king.

An old bidding convention which has come back into vogue among a small group of tournament players is the light no trump opening. This call is made on balanced hands that contain a smattering of high cards.

Its merit is to be found in the guesses to which it puts the opposition. If they fear to take action they may find that they have been talked out of a game or part score. If they refuse to be bullied they may step into a trap if the partner of the no trumper happens to have a good hand.

However, this weapon, when employed against canny opponents may sometimes prove to be a veritable boomerang. An extreme case is recorded today.

South opened with one no trump and West made an immediate double. Had North held a five card suit he might have rescued. But with this hand apparently borrowed from some gin rummy player, he was unable to throw out a line. East's pass is worthy of note for even if South has the diamonds stopped it is extremely unlikely that he can fulfill contract.

West led the king of spades. Declarer took the trick and didn't know where to start. With the idea of postponing the agony he got out of the lead with a small spade.

This was an unfortunate maneuver. He would have been better advised to have cashed his other ace, because he never took another trick. West won with the jack, cashed the remaining spades and, realizing that his partner's leave-in of the no trump double must have been based on diamond strength, he led the seven of that suit.

East ran the suit rhythmically and declarer found himself caught in a squeeze. On the last diamond he had to discard from K, J, 10 of clubs, ace of hearts. He elected to part with a club and a shift to that suit gave West the rest of the tricks.

Down six for a score of 1,100 points. "It's a good thing we weren't vulnerable," said North. And it was.

Bacon Capers

Regular bacon is generally thought of in terms of a breakfast meat. However many other uses for bacon can be incorporated into menus. In preparing baked products, try crumbling crisp bacon into corn bread batter. Other baked products have also incorporated bacon into the ranks. Apple-Bacon Crisp, is one such recipe. In this case, the bacon, flour and sugar act as the crisp topping.

Have A Heart

In preparing veal hearts, here is a recipe worthy of its name, Heart Imperial. Veal hearts are cut into cubes and browned. Minced garlic, chopped onion, paprika, mushroom soup and water are then added. The mixture is covered tightly and simmered for 1¼ hours. Frozen green beans are added toward the end of the cooking period. Taste is tops!

Barbecued Corn

Husk ears of corn carefully. Then spread with lots of butter, and sprinkle generously with salt. Wrap each ear in aluminum foil. Roast over hot coals for about 10 minutes, turning often. Corn cooked this way in the oven has a wonderful barbecue flavor, too.

Centerpiece Magic

Proper Setting

Water goblet should be placed at the tip of the knife, the wine glass, slightly to the right of the goblet. China and sterling should be lined up about an inch from the table edge.

Savory summer specialty:

Salt-Sea Grilled Shrimp

Shell and clean 2 lbs. shrimp. Sprinkle with 1 tsp. Sterling Salt. Wrap each shrimp in small piece of bacon; fasten with toothpick. Combine 1 8-oz. can tomato sauce, 3 tbs. brown sugar, 3 tbs. vinegar and ½ tsp. Sterling Salt; dip shrimp into sauce. Broil over charcoal or in broiler, turning often. Cook 8 to 10 minutes. 6 to 8 servings.

Any dish has extra zest, extra flavor richness when cooked and seasoned with Sterling Salt!

Glass Of Iced Coffee Good Summer Refresher

Iced coffee is the finest of summer beverages—it's smooth, refreshing, not too sweet. Learn how to make a perfect glass!

It's summer! Time to get out the fans and put extra trays of ice cubes in the freezer. Already, there is a great demand for tall, frosty glasses filled with tinkling cubes and something good to drink. Iced coffee, of course, is one of the most popular summer refreshers because it's smooth and not too sweet.

The first rule for making good iced coffee is: make it strong enough to compensate for melting ice. And here's one very simple way to do it. Just brew your hot coffee extra-strength before you pour it over ice cubes. For four extra-strength servings, use six standard measures (or 12 level measuring tablespoons) of coffee and three measuring cups of water. Pour the brewed coffee into tall, ice filled glasses . . . and serve with sugar syrup, or sugar, and cream.

For another easy way to make iced coffee, brew some extra breakfast coffee, cool it and freeze into coffee ice cubes in the refrigerator. Then you can make iced coffee anytime at all by pouring regular - strength hot coffee over the cubes. Just as a reminder—here's the proper measurements for four servings of regular-strength coffee. Use four standard measures (or 8 level measuring tablespoons) of coffee and three measuring cups of water.

Whichever way you make your iced coffee, you can be sure it will be refreshing and satisfying. And you'll certainly agree it's the best cooler-offer when the mercury starts its climb into summer.

Try This Meat Loaf Variation

Balancing the household budget often is greater problem to the homemaker than it is to our country's leaders — especially when she tries to add variety and interest to her dinnertime menus. Try as she may, her economical meals generally become repetitious and monotonous. Not so, however, with these Meat Loaf Nests.

They're simple to make—just press the meat loaf mixture into nest-shape forms, bake, and fill each nest with your family's favorite creamed vegetable. Here is one dish which will not only add novelty to those inexpensive dinners but will please your family with its originality as well.

Meat Loaf Nests

- 1 cup (whole wheat flakes)
- 1 pound ground beef
- ¼ pound ground pork or pork sausage
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ½ cup milk

Crush wheat flakes slightly, combine with remaining ingredients, mixing well. Press meat mixture lightly into 8 greased custard cups or muffin cups, shaping to form nests. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) about 25 minutes. Remove from cups and serve filled with creamed peas or other creamed vegetables.

Yield: 8 servings.

Summer Quickie

A can of luncheon meat, one of soup and a package of frozen vegetables are easily turned into a hearty casserole, ideal for serving in a hurry on some of the busy days ahead.

Luncheon Meat Casserole

- 1 can luncheon meat
- 1 package frozen mixed vegetables
- 1 can (10½ ounces) cream of mushroom soup
- ½ cup milk
- ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 2 tablespoons melted butter
- ½ cup dry bread crumbs

Cut luncheon meat into eight slices. Break up block of frozen vegetables and place in a 1½ quart casserole. Top with luncheon meat slices. Dilute soup with milk and stir in Worcestershire sauce. Pour over meat and vegetables. Toss butter with crumbs and sprinkle over top of meat and vegetables. Bake at 370° F. 30 minutes. 4 servings.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Lamb Loin Roast.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. It comes from the loin section and contains the backbone. The muscles include the loin, tenderloin and flank. Fat covers outer surface of roast.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. By roasting . . . place the roast on a rack in an open roasting pan. Roast the lamb loin in a slow oven (300° F.). Allow 30 to 35 minutes per pound. If using a roast meat thermometer, the roast will be done when the thermometer reads between 175 and 180 degrees Fahrenheit.

Along The Potomac

by Rep. De Witt S. Hyde

WASHINGTON — I wish to express my appreciation to all of my Western Maryland constituents who submitted statements or appeared before Mrs. Gracie Pfost's Interior subcommittee in favor of my C & O Canal National Historical Park bill. Mrs. Pfost, as chairman of the subcommittee, indicated that hearings would be scheduled for those who so far have had no opportunity to express their views. No dates have been set for these hearings.

I am hopeful that consideration of my bill will not become involved with questions of dams on the Potomac. The question of dams for the river is a subject which is not pertinent to the bill under consideration. The problem of whether or not there should be a dam at any point along the river would be the same whether the area is made a National Park or not.

The House has considered and passed a bill prepared by my Judiciary Committee on the question of the admissibility of confessions in criminal trials made during interrogation by police. It prevents a reasonable lapse of time between arrest and arraignment from making a confession inadmissible. Enactment of the bill into law would go a long way toward clearing up the misunderstanding prevailing in the lower courts over the Mallory decision. The bill as it passed the House does not violate constitutional rights of the individual, but it does provide protection to the public. The bill also gives to an arrested person protection he does not now have in that it requires the police to tell him, before he is questioned, that anything he say can be used against him.

Noontime—Suppertime

Learn to use bulk pork sausage in a variety of different ways. As a start, plan to prepare breaded sausage patties. Shape about 1 pound bulk sausage into 6 patties. Roll patties in a mixture of 1 beaten egg and 2 tablespoons of milk, then in crushed cornflakes. Brown in lard or drippings.

Storing Cold Cuts

Cold cut time is here again and smart homemakers will want to keep the easily served meats on hand for luncheon, snack-time, and late-evening sandwiches; and for main courses of tempting summer meals.

Cold cuts should be stored in the fresh food compartment of the refrigerator for no longer than four or five days. They may be left in the self-service pre-packaging if they are used within this time.

Freezing is not recommended for these sliced ready to serve meats because the salt present in the meat favors the development of rancidity when the meat is frozen. The texture of cured sausage-type meats — especially franks—is affected adversely by freezing.

Stuffing For Chops

When planning to serve stuffed pork chops, plan to make a list of several stuffings . . each new stuffing presents a new dish. Place these two stuffings at the head of the list . . . orange-raisin stuffed pork chops or mushroom-stuffed pork chops.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Canned Meat

Never underestimate your role of ingenuity of creativity when it comes to the many ways canned luncheon meat can be used in menus. As just a suggestion, it can be served in meal salads in combination with fruit, as the main feature in kabobs, in sandwiches, diced and scrambled eggs or sliced and incorporated into a scalloped potato and luncheon meat casserole.

Buying Tip

When buying glassware, choose items that do "double duty": Sherbet glasses that double for champagne, combination wine and cocktail glasses. This helps to solve budget as well as storage space problems.

Joe Nuxhall Snaps Cubs' Win Streak

Cincy Ends 7-Game Losing Skein, 3-2

CHICAGO (AP) — Lefty Joe Nuxhall short-circuited the Chicago Cubs' come-from-behind magic Thursday, pitching the Cincinnati Redlegs to a 3-2 victory over Chicago.

Nuxhall, recording his sixth win against five losses, yielded 10 hits. Nuxhall's success enabled the Redlegs to snap a seven-game losing streak.

The defeat ended a five-game winning skein for the third place Cubs.

Dave Hillman, making his third start, was charged with the loss—his first of the year after winning two. Frankie Robinson's No. 11 homer behind catcher Ed Bailey's one out single in the second proved Cincinnati's big clout of the day.

The Redlegs pushed over the winning run off rookie Glen Hobbie in the eighth.

Jamaica Feature To Magic Forest

JAMAICA, N. Y., July 17—(AP)—C. V. Whitney's Magic Forest held on gamely to win the Kew Gardens Handicap by a nose at Jamaica Race Track today.

The 4-year-old daughter of Mahmoud-Bright Song, ridden by Calvin Stone, turned back a strong stretch challenge by C. T. Chenery's Willamette, ridden by Hedley Woodhouse, who finished second.

Third money three and a half lengths back went to George D. Widener's Teleran, who took the show end of the purse by a length from Velvet Acres' First Asking, who led from the start until well into the stretch of the mile and a sixteenth event.

Third choice with the crowd of 18,135, Magic Forest returned mutuels of $9.10, $4.20 and $2.80. Willamette paid $4.10 and $2.60 and Teleran was $2.30 to show.

Bobby Scanlon Fights Kerwin

Former Unbeaten In 29 Pro Bouts

NEW YORK (AP)—Bobby Scanlon, a handsome young Irishman who never has lost a fight, will try to climb over Gale Kerwin Friday night at Madison Square Garden.

Scanlon, 22, has won 28 of 29 pro fights. The other was a four-round draw.

Kerwin, from Ottawa, Canada, now fighting out of Valley Stream, N.Y., is an outspoken gentleman who says quite frankly "I'm quite a puncher." He likens himself to Jimmy McLarnin and even turns handsprings in the ring when he wins. His record for 34 starts is 27-6-1.

Scanlon, a college freshman who is studying physical education, is a slight 7-5 favorite in the bout that will be carried on network radio and television at 9 p.m. (EST).

Yankees Beat Tigers, 4-2, On Bauer's 2-Run Triple

Double By Siebern Ties Score; Howard, Bolling Hit Homers

NEW YORK (AP)—Hank Bauer smashed a long, two-run triple in the sixth inning Tuesday for a 4-2 New York Yankee decision over the Detroit Tigers.

The league leaders, who have won only six of 15 meetings with the Tigers, trailed 2-1 going into the sixth with Billy Hoeft holding a slender edge over Art Ditmar. Elston Howard's home run in the second had been the Yanks' only run and Frank Bolling's eighth homer, following a fourth-inning single by Charley Maxwell, had put Detroit out front.

Howard started the winning spurt with a single to center. Jerry Lumpe's hit-and-run single pushed Howard around to third and Norm Siebern's double down the right field line drove in the catcher with the tying run. Bauer tripled to deep left center scoring Lumpe and Siebern.

Australian Coach Campaigns For Pay For Star Runners

CARDIFF, Wales (AP)—One of the world's top track coaches Thursday campaigned for open payments to star runners such as Australian miler Herb Elliott.

"Track is no more amateur than tennis," said Australian coach Percy Cerutty—the man behind Elliott and three-miler Albert Thomas.

"Running to most of the top men is only a means to an end," Cerutty, 63, said. "Even if they are not paid directly they are given jobs because of their fame or they cash in when they retire. If they don't they must be crazy.

"It is no longer a sport. It is entertainment. Why should an athlete run his heart out for someone else's enjoyment and gain nothing himself?"

My Warrior, 10-1 Shot, Cops 7th At Monmouth Track

OCEANPORT, N. J., July 17 (AP)—Mrs. William E. Snell's Gray Colt, My Warrior, 10-1 outsider in a field of six 3-year-olds nipped B. A. Dario's Dandy Blitzen at the wire to win the featured seventh race at Monmouth Park today.

My Warrior, ridden by Apprentice James Johnson, paid $22.40, $8.40 and $3.40 after covering the six furlongs in 1.11 3-5, under 110 pounds, over a fast but dull track. He had a nose margin over Dandy Blitzen, only filly in the field, which was three and a half lengths before the Elkcam Stable's Hubcap, even money favorite of the crowd of 20,009.

My Warrior, winner of the Home Bred Handicap at Atlantic City last summer, scored his second victory in six starts this season.

Musial Clouts Two Home Runs As Cards Lose

Milwaukee Edges St. Louis, 8 To 7

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Veteran Stan Musial crashed two home runs Thursday to move into second place behind Babe Ruth for career extra base hits, but first-place Milwaukee nudged St. Louis, 8-7 on Mel Roach's seventh inning RBI single.

Musial, 37, seven-time National League batting champion had five RBIs with his home runs. They gave him 1,191 extra base hits since he broke in with Cards in 1941.

The first four-bagger tied Musial with Lou Gehrig, a former teammate of Ruth's on the New York Yankees, and the second slipped him in the shadow of Ruth, who produced 1,356 doubles, triples and home runs in his lifetime.

The victory was Lew Burdette's on five scoreless relief innings. It was the Cards fifth loss in a row.

Wes Covington led the Braves with four RBIs, including a three-run homer.

Musial's 15th home run in the first made it 2-0. The Cards eased into a 5-1 lead in the third as Musial connected again off Bob Rush with two on.

Del Crandall's 12th four-bagger of the year was a two-run blow that made it 5-3 in the fourth. The Braves tacked on three more in the fifth off starter Lindy McDaniel as Covington banged a home run for a 6-5 lead.

The Cards seesawed ahead 7-6 in the fifth on two singles, a walk and RBI flies by Ken Boyer and Wally Moon.

The Braves tied 7-all in the sixth on Hank Aaron's RBI double off loser Jim Brosnan who relieved McDaniel.

Bosox Sweep Series With Kansas City

Wall Helps Brewer Bag Fourth Win, 6-2

BOSTON (AP)—Tom Brewer, supported by a five-run uprising and Murray Wall's ninth inning relief, turned back Kansas City 6-2 for Boston Thursday for his first victory in more than a month.

In sweeping the three game series from the A's, the Red Sox bunched five runs and six of their 10 hits in a big fifth inning.

Brewer notched his fourth triumph on his sixth try for it but was spelled by Wall after Kansas City collected its ninth and 10th hits in the finale.

Roger Maris belted his 13th homer of the season into the right field seats with the bases empty in the third inning. The other A's marker off Brewer came on a Harry Simpson single and Bill Tuttle double in the sixth.

Loser Tom Gorman had surrendered only two singles through the first four innings but the Red Sox got to him quickly in the fifth.

Detroit-Green Bay Trade Is Cancelled

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts tersely announced Thursday night they had picked up tackle Ray Krouse from the Detroit Lions in return for an undisclosed National Football League draft choice.

Krouse, former University of Maryland star, had been bound for Green Bay in a trade between the Lions and Packers, but this was wiped out.

"At the request of the commissioner, Green Bay cancels its trade with Detroit, and Detroit now trades Krouse to Baltimore," the Colts announced. A spokesman said NFL Commissioner Bert Bell had ruled that Krouse "had a valid reason for wanting to play in the Washington area."

In his collegiate career Krouse also was an outstanding wrestler at Maryland, where his brother, Sully Krouse, is wrestling coach.

Dow Finsterwald Leads PGA Tourney By Single Stroke

Jay Hebert Trails With Score Of 68

Five Tie For Third In Opening Round; Snead Shoots 73

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

HAVERTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Dow Finsterwald, reed-thin young golfing capitalist from Tequesta, Fla., fired a three-under-par 67 Thursday for a one-stroke lead in the first round of the Professional Golfers Assn. championship.

Jay Hebert, 35-year-old elder member of the brother combination from the Acadian settlement of Lafayette, La., was alone in second place at 68, followed by brother, Lionel, and four others tied at 69.

Five Tied At 69

Bracketed with Lionel, the defending champion, were Jimmy Demaret of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., 48-year-old three time Masters winner; Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., 1957 National Open King; Ted Kroll of Sarasota, Fla. and little Felice Torza of Aurora, Ill.

These were the only players in the field of 166 able to crack the par 70 of the compact, 6,727-yard Llanerch Country Club course.

Still it appeared anybody's tournament with more than 20 players bunched within a few shots of each other from 72 strokes down.

In the 72 bracket was the temperamental National Open champion, Tommy Bolt, who signed autographs ungrudgingly and waved congenially to spectators as he toured the relatively flat course without an incident.

In the same 72 bracket were such well-known stars as Doug Ford, Julius Baros, Ken Venturi and Fred Hawkins.

Snead Shoots 73

The darling of the gallery of 8,000—Sam Snead, a three-time winner, was one shot farther away at 73.

Finsterwald, never winner of a major championship for the last several years, has been the most consistent money collector on the tough pro circuit.

He figured in the money in 72 straight tournaments, broken last spring while reaching for Bryon Nelson's mark of more than 100 made during the World War II period.

He had a total of 28 putts—eight under regulation — and sank putts of six, ten and 15 feet for his birdies on the second, fifth and 11th. His other came on the 17th.

Senator Seeks Protection For Minor Leagues

Would Ban Telecasts Of Major Games

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Sen. Edwin Johnson of Colorado proposed Thursday that Congress legalize an old baseball rule that would prevent major league telecasts from conflicting with minor league games.

Johnson said quick money for ball clubs and advertisers is the root of baseball's radio and TV problems.

He told the Senate Antimonopoly subcommittee he wasn't worried at all about the possibility vast sections of the country would be blacked out if baseball were granted power to regulate its TV-radio activity.

Self-regulation is proposed in a House-passed bill that would lift the antitrust laws from many practices of pro baseball, football, basketball and hockey.

"My fear is that the majors won't go far enough," Johnson testified. "They are not going to black out broadcasts or telecasts at all."

Johnson generally supported the House bill but suggested a six-year limit on the freedoms it would grant, to determine how the sports bosses would conduct themselves. He also recommended limiting major league clubs to control of 40 players, thus curbing farm systems which he said have "reduced the minor leagues to serfdom."

Johnson is a former governor of his state and former president of the Western League, one of the top minors. He told the subcommittee headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) he is disturbed only about the fate of the minors.

The majors, he said, are going to get along all right.

Johnson said he would be happy if the Senate amended the sports legislation to incorporate a bill he sponsored while in Congress several years ago. This would bar major league telecasts in cities in which minor league clubs are playing.

Baseball once had such a rule but dropped it because the Justice Department held it violated antitrust laws.

Indians Top Senators, 8-3

Home Runs Mark Cleveland Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Rocky Colavito socking his 15th and 16th homers and Minnie Minoso his 13th, the Cleveland Indians pulled away to an 8-3 victory over the Washington Senators Thursday night. Pitcher Cal McLish won his eighth game as he checked the Senators with eight hits, including two singles and a home run by Roy Sievers.

Sievers' blast with one on in the fifth inning was his 24th of the season. Sievers' drive boosted the Senators into a 3-3 tie.

However, Minoso's one-on homer in the seventh off Washington starter and loser Camilo Pascual put the Indians in command to stay. Just before Minoso's homer, Pascual had called time complaining of a pulled muscle in his lower right hip. After Minoso's homer and a subsequent double by Mickey Vernon, Pascual was lifted.

A ninth-inning homer by Colavito with two on cushioned the Cleveland lead. Colavito's first homer was a solo drive in the second off Pascual, who went down to his fifth defeat against five triumphs.

Kiwanis Wins, Breaks Tie For Hot Stove Lead

Defeats Rotary, 5-1, Bedford Road Scores

Scoring all their runs in the second and third innings, the Kiwanis Club tossers downed the Cumberland Optimist Club to the tune of 5-1 last night at Penn Avenue Field and regained sole possession of first place in the Hot Stove League.

Prior to last night's game the Kiwanians and Jaycees were deadlocked for the league leadership with 7-3 records.

"Butch" Bosley turned back the Optimists with three hits, singles by Marrale, Lowery and Fields, struck out an even dozen and failed to issue a base on balls in recording his third win of the campaign.

Jim Stewart went all the way for the Optimists, yielded 10 hits, fanned 12 and gave up three passes. It was his first loss against three triumphs.

Charley Boone led the Kiwanis attack with a double and two singles, Bosley had two safeties and John Price blasted a triple.

Bedford Road's Optimists topped the Rotary Club at Fort Hill Field by the score of 10-6.

The winners racked up 14 hits, four of which were credited to Homer Hardinger while Jimmy Seeders collected three safeties and "Mutt" Murray two. Harold Hardinger, the second of three Bedford Road hurlers, got the win.

Joe Ranker banged a homer and single. O'Toole a double and single and Altizer a triple and one-base rap for the Rotarians. Rice played a bangup game at the keystone hassock for the losers. Bedford Road nipped a Rotary rally in the bud in the third inning with a double play after the opposition had loaded the bases. Scores:

Majors Will Act To Cut Down On Bonus Payments

WASHINGTON (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick predicted Thursday the major leagues will act this year to cut down on extravagant bonus payments to promising young players.

Frick told a Senate subcommittee inquiring into sports legislation that baseball made a mistake last year in dropping its bonus rule without substituting some other provision.

The rule required a team to keep any player signed with a bonus of more than $4,000 for at least two seasons before farming him out.

Now that they can send out bonus players at any time, clubs have tossed money around like old ticket stubs to sign young prospects. Frick, calling it "a crazy thing," estimated payments this year have totaled more than three million dollars.

Silkmen Break Long Losing Streak, 7-6

Pittsburgh Plate Glass advanced into third place in the Rocking Chair Softball League yesterday by beating the Knights of Columbus by the score of 2-1 at Post Field.

The win was the ninth against six losses for the Glassmen.

Leo E. P. "Bud" Law posted his fifth win of the season in gaining the nod over Al Sheetz in a pitching duel in which each hurler yielded five safeties.

The Caseys scored in the first inning on hits by Mickey Clark and Bob McGreevy and George Geatz's sacrifice fly. The Glassmen sewed it up in the fifth when Bill Bratt got a life on an error, Koelker grounded out and Bill Thompson and Glentis Streett singled over the tying and winning runs.

Norman Curtis of Pittsburgh Plate and Bob McGreevy of the Caseys had two hits each. One of McGreevy's wallops was a two-bagger.

Celanese broke a 15-game losing streak by posting its first win of the season at the expense of the Ritter A. C., 7-6, at Celanese Field.

A 4-run explosion in the top of the 7th inning won the game for the Silkmen. Six hits marked the late uprising. The big blow was a triple by Bobby Williams with the bases loaded.

Cunningham and Shuck led the Celanese batsmen with three and two hits, respectively. Ritter and L. Rhodes shared four of the losers' five blows.

Williams was the fielding star. He cut down runners at the plate and second base with perfect throws from left field in the fifth and seventh frames, respectively.

Dick Klavuhn tossed a five-hitter and became the league's first 10-game winner as the Elks whipped the Moose at Stitcher Field by the score of 6-2. The game was played in the fast time of one hour and 10 minutes.

The Moose collected three of their five hits for their two runs in the first inning. Only two Moose players got on base thereafter. Bob Pence, "Pooch" Orndorff and Klavuhn garnered two hits each for the Elks. Scores:

O'Dell Blanks Chicago, 3-0

Robinson Homers, Pierce Is Loser

BALTIMORE (AP) — Blazing Billy O'Dell pitched the Baltimore Orioles to a 3-0 shutout over the Chicago White Sox Thursday night.

The left-hander limited the White Sox to nine hits — all singles—while ending a personal three-game losing streak and boosting his season's record to 9-10.

Billy Pierce, who had a five-game winning streak going into Thursday night's game, was the loser. He is 9-6 for the season. He permitted nine safeties, one of them Brooks Robinson's sólo home run in the sixth into the left field stands.

The Orioles scored their other runs in the fourth on three singles, an error, a sacrifice fly, and a passed ball. Gus Triandos opened the inning with a single. Robinson followed with another and when White Sox left fielder Al Smith juggled the ball Triandos took third and Robinson, second. Triandos raced home on a passed ball, Robinson taking third and scoring on Bob Boyd's fly to Don Mueller.

Westernport took over the leadership of the Twilight Baseball League yesterday by winning a 1-0 thriller from the Barton Braves at Barton but the losers played the game under protest.

Woody Symons of Barton touched all the bases in the 7th inning on a drive to right field but the umpire ordered his return to second base, stating that the batter had made a ground rule double. Barton protested on the ground that the Westernport right fielder had touched the ball and the batter was entitled to score. The run would have knotted the score at 1-1.

The protest will be heard at a league meeting tonight at 7:30 at Scotty Orr's Place in Midland.

Each team made only two hits in yesterday's thriller. Lauder and Symons obtained Barton's hits and Ollie Smith and Junie Perry got Westernport's bingles.

Kip Montgomery, Westernport hurler, fanned four and Billy "Gas House" Johnson of Barton struck out six.

Barton was the league leader until yesterday's setback. It was Westernport's 11th consecutive victory.

In other games, Finzel defeated Wright's Crossing, 13-8, and Zihlman nosed out Midland, 8-7.

Jack Burner hit a homer and single, Ronnie Rice blasted two doubles and a single and Hollie Atwood homered for Finzel. John Hansel belted a homer and single and Jack Bahen and Mick Davis also had two hits for the losers.

Jack Anderson led Zihlman's nine-hit offensive with three safeties, including a pair of two-baggers. Bob Deffenbaugh doubled and singled and Carl Emerick socked two hits, including a triple. Charley Winters had three hits in four trips for Midland. Carl Emerick, Zihlman twirler, struck out eight.

Giants Defeat Phils On Wild Pitch In Ninth

Farrell Is Victim In 8 To 7 Contest

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dick Farrell's wildness included a climactic bases-loaded wild pitch that gave San Francisco an 8-7 victory over Philadelphia Thursday and kept the Giants half a game behind league-leading Milwaukee.

A crowd of 10,259 sat in on another Giant cliff-hanger as the Phillies went ahead by two runs in the ninth, only to lose their sixth straight. Farrell's wild pitch sent Orlando Cepeda home with the winning run.

Farrell, Philadelphia's ace reliever, walked Willie Kirkland and then Willie Mays to open the home half of the hectic ninth. Jimmy Davenport sacrificed them along and Orlando Cepeda's double tied the score.

Leon Wagner was walked intentionally and Daryl Spencer also drew a pass. Pinch-hitter Hank Sauer had a 1-2 count when Farrell fired a pitch so wide catcher Carl Sawatski had no chance of stopping it.

The Phils had gone ahead 7-5 in the ninth off Don Johnson, a Giant newcomer from Toronto.

Johnson hgave up a double to Solly Hemus, a walk to Harry Anderson and singles to Sawatski and Dave Philley, good for two runs. Johnson was lifted for Marv Grissom who finished and got credit for his sixth victory against three losses. Farrell also now is 6-3.

Wheeling Installs "Drive Line" For Racing At Night

Wheeling Downs has added another first to its long list of innovations. This time General Manager Robert G. Leavitt has installed what he terms a "drive line." This is a heavy gauge wire strung across the track about 10 yards past the finish line from a four inch steel pipe inside the rail to the grandstand roof. It will be painted with a luminous material and will glow under the lights at night so as to be clearly visible to the riders so that they do not ease up their mounts before reaching that marker.

Leavitt stated, "This drive line will eliminate any recurrances of pulling up before the line of finish has been reached. All jockeys will be compelled to ride their horses out until the drive line has been reached."

Bottorf Gets Hole-In-One On CCC 18th

George Bottorf made a hole-in-one at the Cumberland Country Club on Wednesday afternoon while playing over the local course with his wife.

Bottorf used a No. 4 iron to chalk up his ace on the 165-yards 18th hole.

This is the second hole-in-one made by a Cumberland Country Club member this year. The first was credited to Bert Mason on hole No. 10.

Birdie Tebbetts, Redlegs' Manager, Hanged In Effigy

CINCINNATI (AP)—Birdie Tebbetts, manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, who are in seventh place in the National League, was hanged in effigy Wednesday night.

"Down with Birdie," read a card attached to a paper-stuffed shirt and pair of trousers found hanging from a pole in the northeast section of the city. A policeman cut it down and stuffed it into a trash can.

Cincinnati had lost seven straight games on a road trip until it defeated Chicago Thursday, 3-2.

The hanging incident brought from General Manager Gabe Paul a statement expressing confidence both in Tebbetts and in the team.

"I repeat what I have said many times—that baseball is a game of momentum. Good players going poorly are not as poor at the time as poor players going well temporarily. I think the club will come around."

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Unbeaten Tomy Lee won the $90,000 Starlet Stakes, richest race in the west for 2-year-olds, before 28,000 fans at Hollywood Park Thursday as he chalked up his fifth straight victory.

Baltimore Coach Has Two Pilots In Big Leagues

BALTIMORE (AP) — Al Vincent, first base coach of the Baltimore Orioles, feels rather proud of the fact that two present major league managers played for him in the minor leagues.

They are Fred Hutchinson of the St. Louis Cardinals and Mayo Smith of the Philadelphia Phils.

Hutch won 26 games for Vincent at Buffalo 17 years ago to pace the International League pitchers.

Smith was an outfielder under Vincent at Buffalo 16 years ago.

Jack Tighe, deposed recently as manager of the Detroit Tigers, played for Vincent 20 years ago at Beaumont.

Monkey's Hunger Victor Over Sex

BALTIMORE (AP) — Hunger won over sex Thursday.

The experimenter was 14-year-old Ralph Stewart. His pet male monkey, Cheeta, was up a tree in Northwest Baltimore. Ralph wanted to get him down.

After some unsuccessful coaxing young Stewart tried to use his young female monkey, Sandy, as a lure but Cheeta didn't respond to Sandy's chattering.

A neighbor then tried a ripe banana. Down came Cheeta.

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Charles Franklin Hull, who died one year ago, July 18th, 1957.

That meant so much to me.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

ROBERT O. BONNELL, Chairman, EDGAR T. BENNETT and JOHN J. McMULLEN, Constituting the STATE ROADS COMMISSION OF MARYLAND, Acting for and on behalf of the STATE OF MARYLAND vs. GEORGE ROTONDARO and HENRIETTA ROTONDARO, his wife. No. 2756 Law in The Circut Court for Allegany County. (Filed June 26, 1958)

PETITION NO. 2756

The object of this suit is to acquire by condemnation certain tracts or parcels of land situate in the Twenty-ninth Election District of Allegany County, Maryland, belonging to George Rotondaro and Henrietta Rotondaro, his wife.

The Petition states that the Petitioners constitute the State Roads Commission of Maryland and are charged with the construction and maintenance of highways and bridges in the State of Maryland.

That they have determined it to be necessary and proper to acquire for the purpose referred to in said Petition, and in connection with the construction and maintenance of the highway system of the State, certain tracts or parcels of land situate in the Twenty-ninth Election District of Allegany County, consisting of 2160 square feet, more or less, which is being taken for stream changes and facilities as shown on Plat No. 18563 (revised 4-25-58).

TOGETHER with the right or easement to create, use and maintain on the land shown cross-hatched on said plat such stream changes and facilities as are necessary in the opinion of the State Roads Commission within said area, together with the buildings and improvements thereon and the rights, alleys, ways, waters, roads, privileges and advantages to the same belonging or in anywise appertaining and together with any right, title and interest of the defendants in and to the bed of Park Avenue lying between the lines marked "Right of Way Line" as shown on the aforesaid plat.

The Petition further states that the said property is now held under the provisions of a deed from George P. Hazelwood, Jr., et al. to George and Henrietta Rotondaro, his wife, dated August 27, 1951 and recorded on November 6, 1951 in Liber 236, Folio 45, among the Land Records of Allegany County.

That the land and property is sought to be condemned in connection with the State System of Roads and Bridges, and especially for the construction of the U. S. Route 40, Maryland Route 36 to Long, in Allegany County, Maryland.

That your Petitioners are unable to make an agreement with the defendants and that the Petitioners have deposited a check under the provisions of Article 89B, Section 9, Public General Laws of Maryland in the amount of Five Hundred and Sixty-Five ($565.00) Dollars, payable to the Clerk of the Circuit Court for Allegany County, said Petitioners deeming the said sum to be the fair value of the land taken and damages done to the property, and that it is in the public interest for them to take possession immediately upon depositing said money and that they are taking possession for the aforesaid purpose.

That your Petitioners have attempted to set forth the interests or estates of all other parties having an interest, in the hereinbefore described and that the defendants George Rotondaro and Henrietta Rotondaro, his wife, are non-residents of the State of Maryland, residing at 2312 Pitt Avenue, Johnstown, Pennsylvania.

NOTICE is HEREBY GIVEN to George Rotondaro and Henrietta Rotondaro, his wife, non-residents of the State of Maryland, to appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 28th day of July, 1958, and show cause, if any they have why said property or said defendants' interest therein should not be condemned as prayed in said Petition.

/s/ Joseph E. Boden
Clerk of the Circuit Court for Allegany County.

Test: Joseph E. Boden, Clerk.

Woman Killed By Car Near Everett, Pa.

Rose Pearl Diehl, 67, Was Crossing Street

A 67-year-old woman of near Everett, Pa., who was struck by an auto while crossing the street near her home, died yesterday afternoon in Bedford County Memorial Hospital.

The victim was identified as Rose Pearl Diehl, of RD 1, Everett, who lived on what is known as Hazlett Street just outside of the Borough in West Providence Township.

The driver of the auto was James A. Diehl, 25, of RD 1, Clearville, who is no relation to the victim, police said.

They said the woman died of a compound fracture of the skull sustained when she fell to the road after being struck by the car.

Police said the driver was in the process of backing his car along the hard top narrow street. He had driven about 200 feet and while traveling about 100 feet more to an intersection to turn around, the car struck the woman.

It was reported the victim had crossed the street apparently to throw some garbage in a nearby field and was going back across the street near her home when she was hit.

Police said there are about 10 or 12 homes in the immediate area where the fatal accident occurred. They said that no charges have been filed pending a full investigation into the accident which occurred about 1:25 p. m. EST.

The woman, police said, died in the hospital about 1:45 p. m.

Sewage Service Charges Set To Hit $260,000

Will Meet Costs Of Operating System

Revenues from sewage service charges should approach the $260,000 mark during the current fiscal year, according to Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

The sum, he said, should be sufficient to operate the city's sewage treatment plant, the Evitts Creek pumping station, the Bedford Street sewage ejector station and the city's sanitary sewage system.

The estimate is based on a full year's revenues coming in at the rate established during the three quarters that sewage service charges have been billed.

Collections on sewage service charges during the 1957-58 fiscal year totaled $194,288.93.

Mr. Gibson said the sewage service levy was set at $247,500 for the 1957 fiscal year.

Is Termed Bargain

Since no definite information on costs was available, the levy was based on estimated costs of operations for the sewage treatment and collection system.

Accordingly, $247,500 was included in the levy and charges were set up, based on 75 per cent of water bills of customers connected to city sewage lines. For customers who use 2,000 cubic feet of water or less, this is $4.05 a quarter, bringing minimum water and sewage charges to $8.98 for three months.

The late Water Commissioner William J. Edwards liked to point out that water and sewage service combined costs 10 cents a day for most Cumberland families and that it was the best utility bargain in the city.

Mr. Gibson said that last year's sewage treatment budget was based on revenues and expenditures for a full year.

However, charges were not made until the second quarter of the fiscal year, so that only three quarters of revenue came in. Operating costs were for the same period, however, as first quarter's operations were considered experimental and charged to bond funds used to build the plant and place it in operating condition.

Is About Even

Income and expenditures for the three quarters, Mr. Gibson said, will be about even.

The actual income from sewage treatment charges is slightly above the estimates made last year. The levy was based on the expectation of about $216,000 income from charges to individuals and about $42,000 from industries for total charges of $258,000. Discounts for prompt payment of bills were estimated at $10,000 to bring anticipated net income to the $248,000 mark.

Actual net income for the 1957-58 fiscal year averaged about $65,000 a quarter and should net $260,000 this fiscal year.

'Y' Day Camp Program Featured By Sleep-Out

A camp-out last night at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club picnic grounds featured the current Central YMCA Day Camp program, according to James H. Fortner, program secretary of the "Y" who is serving as camp director.

Mr. Fortner said 16 boys and girls and seven staff members camped out last night.

Earlier in the evening, "Parents' Night" was held and the youths who are participating in the program exhibited the crafts which they have been working on the past two weeks.

The day camp program is divided up into two-week periods and 52 boys and girls were enrolled in the current period which will be concluded today.

The theme of the period was "Christmas in July" and gifts were exchanged by the children of the camp at a party held yesterday afternoon at the camp grounds. The group also participated in carol singing and had a decorated Christmas tree.

Mr. Fortner said last night's camp-out was the first held by the day campers and it is hoped that it will become a regular part of the activities set up in the 'Y' summer program.

He said each group is taken on a trip during the two-week period as a part of the program. On Wednesday, the youngsters traveled to Hershey, Pa., for a tour of the chocolate plant and amusement park there.

The camp director said a wide variety of activities is set up for each two-week period for the enjoyment of the youths who attend. The program includes crafts, hikes, cook-outs, fishing, hiking, aquatics and games.

Rain Misses City For Seventh Day Of Current Month

What do you know, it didn't rain yesterday.

That's news. Because we have had rain 10 out of the 17 days of July and the total rainfall thus far in the month has been 1.32 inches.

The normal rainfall for the month is 3.26 inches, according to Robert R. Golden, weather observer at Constitution Park, who said the rainfall is "way behind." Vacationers have a different slant on the situation.

Mostly sunny and pleasant weather with temperatures ranging from 80 to 86 degrees is forecast for today. Up in the mountains 75 to 80 degree temperatures are expected.

Mr. Golden said the high temperature here yesterday was 81 degrees and the official low reading was 64 degrees.

Retired Miner Named Cumberland Gets License Here

A retired miner from Warren, Ohio, whose last name is Cumberland came to Cumberland to get a license to marry a woman who lives on Front Street in Warren.

Four Sought For Assault Of Local Girl

Four men are being sought in the Glen Burnie area for the rape of a 15-year-old girl and the attempted rape of another girl, aged 17, both of whom told police they were from Cumberland.

The girls said they were driven to a deserted farm in Anne Arundel County early Thursday after being forced into an automobile while walking on a Baltimore street.

They told police they came from their homes in Cumberland to Baltimore Sunday and rented an apartment. While walking on the street Thursday, about 2:30 a. m. a car stopped beside them.

One of the girls said she thought she recognized one of two men in the front seat and went over to the car. Two men whom they hadn't noticed in the back seat seized them and they drove away.

The girls said the car broke down, and two of the men got in a cab and returned later in another vehicle. They then were driven to a farm on Furnace Branch Road about a half mile off Ritchie Highway.

The 17-year-old girl said one of the men took her to an orchard while the others went into the deserted farmhouse with the younger girl.

The older girl said she broke away from the man and ran to the highway. Bob Brousseau, who was driving by with his wife, stopped when he saw the girl sobbing along the highway about 4:40 a. m.

He took her to a service station and telephoned police. He then headed up Furnace Branch Road to the attack scene. Mr. Brousseau took the license number of a parked car and drove back to the service station where he met police.

When they arrived on the scene the car and four men were gone.

On the way back, they met the 15-year-old girl walking on Ritchie Highway. Authorities are checking on the auto license number.

Dr. Gustave H. Faubert, county medical examiner, confirmed that the 15-year-old girl had been sexually attacked.

TB Still Major Concern Of Health Dept.

This is the fifth of a series of articles outlining the aims, services and future of the Allegany County Health Department, based on the booklet, "Your Health Department."

Public health nurses are responsible for organizing and managing chest clinics and for conducting educational programs in the home, school and community.

Patients are referred to the chest clinic by private physicians, public health nurses and other agencies.

Routine X-rays are done on all cases returning from TB hospitals, all contacts of diagnosed cases, military reservists, new school cafeteria workers, school bus drivers, dairymen, foster children and any new state employes.

Chest clinics are held each Friday by a local chest specialist who provides diagnostic and consultation service to referring physicians. The clinician reads all X-rays taken during the week by the Health Department and arranges appointments for patients who need further clinical services. Periodic checks are made by the department or physicians of all persons discharged from TB hospitals.

Public health nurses are charged with the responsibility of visiting the homes of all active cases of tuberculosis, teaching methods of caring for the patients and precautions needed to prevent spread of the disease.

The Health Department, Dr. van Strien said, often cooperates with local physicians in administering injections, under written orders, to these patients.

Nurses help patients prepare for their hospital stay and help families make preparations for the patient's return from TB hospitals.

Official records show that four of the 977 deaths in 1956 resulted from tuberculosis and tentative 1957 figures indicate that five of the 1024 deaths in this county in 1957 resulted from TB.

Tuberculosis, according to Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer, is a serious, still prevalent disease and is a major concern of the Allegany County Health Department.

The department's program includes services for early detection, diagnosis, treatment, rehabilitation and education of patients and their contacts.

It is planned as a cooperative project of the Health Department, Allegany - Garrett Tuberculosis Association and the Allegany-Garrett Health Department. Services include:

Chest X-rays done by the Health Department or hospitals at the request of physicians.

X-ray surveys among groups of high incidence—with the approval of state and local health authorities.

Epidemiological tracing of the source of cases and investigation of contacts and those who have been exposed to tuberculosis.

Chest clinics held each Friday at City Hall.

Whisky Use Decline Cited In Maryland

County Gets $61,022 In Alcohol Tax

BALTIMORE (AP) — Whisky drinking in Maryland declined in all except five counties during the fiscal year ended June 30.

Comptroller J. Millard Tawes reported Thursday that 22 counties and Baltimore City received $2,098,976 as their half of the State tax on alcohol. That was $60,109, or 2.78 per cent less, than received the previous fiscal year.

Only Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Calvert, Montgomery and Worcester counties received more money from alcohol consumed in their jurisdictions than the year before. Garrett does not participate in the distribution because sale of whisky is not legal there.

The tax is at the rate of 50 cents a gallon.

Tawes reported this distribution of money to the subdivisions for the year:

Allegany $61,022; Anne Arundel $123,014; Baltimore $244,499; Baltimore City $1,027,533; Calvert $11,424; Caroline $6,483; Carroll $8,828; Cecil $28,913; Charles $30,038; Dorchester $10,838.

Frederick $38,801; Harford $17,859; Howard $22,853; Kent $8,243; Montgomery $112,225; Prince Georges $169,120; Queen Annes $14,403; St. Marys $29,320.

Somerset $8,632; Talbot $27,591; Washington $57,652; Wicomico $20,831; Worcester $18,844.

C&A Request On Gas Line Gets Approval

An application of the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company to change the position of its natural gas line across the Potomac River east of Westernport has been approved by the State Commission of Geology, Mines and Water Resources.

Dr. Joseph T. Singewald Jr., director of the Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources, reported yesterday that approval was given at a hearing on the question in Baltimore July 10. He said the permit will be issued when supplemental information that was requested from the company is received. This information was requested from Carl C. Robbins, C&A district manager, in a letter dated July 11.

The department director said the change in the position of the natural gas line is made necessary by the contsruction of the $2,308,254 waste treatment plant for use by the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company and the Tri-Towns of Piedmont, Luke and Westernport.

The six-inch gas line will be laid in and across the Potomac River about 566 feet east of Fourth Street in Westernport.

Drowning Blamed In Man's Death

The 62-year-old Pittsburgh man who toppled from an outboard motor boat into Deep Creek Lake on Tuesday about 6 p. m., drowned, according to Dr. James Feaster, deputy county medical examiner.

Authorities surmised at first that Irvin Thomas Turner may have been struck by his boat as it went out of control when he toppled into the water.

Prior to taking the ride in the boat, the man had eaten his evening meal, Dr. Feaster said. He had trouble with his boat on previous rides and apparently he was trying to get the boat under control and drowned.

Physician's Manual To Be Prepared

Medical Students Assigned To Task

The Allegany County Health Department will publish a Physician's Manual, according to Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer.

The booklet, he reported in the current issue of the Health Department News, is being written by two students from the University of Maryland who began a 10-week training course with the department June 19.

They are Robert J. Dawson, Lonaconing, and Clinton Rogers, Keyser, who were assigned to the project as part of their public health training.

The booklet, Dr. van Strien said, will contain facts and figures about the Health Department which will be of value to physicians in coordinating health activities in the county.

Three Health Department workers received service awards recently, the news letter noted.

They are Mrs. Etta Price, a member of the Health Department laboratory here, 30 years service; J. B. Dowling, chief sanitarian, 15 years, and Miss Mary Rooney, senior clerk in the Medical Care division.

The brucellosis rate is lower in Allegany County, the Health Department noted.

The compulsory blood testing program of cattle in Allegany County, aimed at eradicating the disease, resulted in the award of a certificate showing this county is a modified brucellosis free area for a three-year period.

Cub Outing Set Tomorrow

The annual outing for Cub Scouts of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be held tomorrow at Camp Potomac near Oldtown.

The Cubs do not go go camping and the annual visit to Camp Potomac gives them a chance to see the camp in action. At the present time members of troops of Potomac Council are attending the camp.

Activities for the young scouts will include softball, volleyball, archery, horseshoes and rowboat and canoe rides. Members of the camp staff will be on hand to assist with the activities but each den or pack is responsible for its own adult leadership.

The Cub Scouts are asked not to arrive at the camp site until 2 p. m. since the early part of the day will be used to ready the camp for the group.

The day at the camp will close with a picnic supper at 5:30 p. m. Each family, den or pack should make its own arrangement for food as nothing will be furnished by the camp.

All Cubs, leaders, parents and others interested in this phase of scouting are invited to attend the day's activities.

10 Motorists Nabbed By Radar Equipment

The sensitive radar equipment of the Cumberland Police Department yesterday was responsible for the arrest of 10 motorists, who have been charged with speeding.

The equipment was set up along Frederick Street and at the end of the day 10 motorists were nabbed. The radar equipment, according to Chief R. Emmett Flynn, is placed along streets where complaints of speeding are received.

Blue Cross Can Up Rates 13.9 Per Cent

810,000 Subscribers Will Be Affected

BALTIMORE (AP)—The State insurance commissioner Thursday authorized Maryland Hospital Service Inc. to increase Blue Cross rates by an average of [illegible] per cent.

The non-profit insurance plan officials had requested increases averaging 22.3 per cent.

Commissioner Charles S. Jackson announced authorization of the smaller increases after a study of evidence presented at hearings last May.

The hearings resulted from protests led by Hyman Pressman, Baltimore attorney who called the proposed 22.3 boosts excessive and unnecessary. Pressman, whose hobby is checking the actions of public officials, said he was representing 1,093 subscribers without a fee.

Learning of Jackson's ruling, Pressman said he was "grateful that Blue Cross' request . . . was not fully approved."

"This marks the first time in Maryland that a requested Blue Cross increase was held up pending a hearing and it is the first time that the complete requested increase was not fully approved by the insurance commissioner," said Pressman.

He noted that the decision also included requests by the insurance commissioner that hospitals cut costs, upon which Blue Cross rates are based.

The new rate schedules are expected to become effective in about 60 days. They must be revised in line with Jackson's decision and resubmitted to him for final approval.

About 810,000 Blue Cross subscribers and 40 member hospitals in Maryland are affected.

Blue Shield rates, which cover some non-hospital fees charged by doctors, are not affected.

New Rates Set

These are the new rates approved by Jackson and a comparison with the old rates and what Blue Cross had sought:

Under the group plan, an unmarried person will pay $2.54 a month, a 21 per cent increase over the present charge of $2.10. Blue Cross was seeking $2.60.

Also under the group plan, family coverage will cost $6.00 a month, a 13.2 per cent increase over the present charge of $5.30. Blue Cross asked for $6.40.

Under the direct payment plan, individual coverage is up 13.6 per cent from $2.50 to $2.84 and family coverage is up 12.5 per cent from $5.90 to $6.64. Blue Cross sought $3.30 and $7.20 in these categories.

Jackson said the rate increases he computed "shifted some of the burden of care for the elderly subscribers from the non-group rate to the group rate."

R. H. Dabney, executive director of the Maryland Blue Cross plan, said his organization will do everything possible to "make ends meet" with the limited increase authorized by Jackson.

Is Disappointed

"We naturally are disappointed in the refusal of the commissioner to approve what we felt were minimum necessary increases," Dabney said.

"Our application . . . was prompted by a serious concern for

Garrett County Has Unproven Case Of Polio

Vaccination against polio has proved itself, the deputy director of the State Health Department said in reporting that the only suspected case reported this year is in Garrett County.

Dr. Edward Davens said the Garrett County case is still unproven.

The "remarkable record . . . is unquestionably related to the program of vaccine," he added.

Dr. James Rhyne, Dr. Davens' counterpart in the Baltimore Health Department, was not as certain. He said "We hope vaccine is the answer, but we are not sure yet."

But Dr. Davens cited the number of Maryland polio cases in other years—309 in 1953, 153 in 1954, 169 in 1955. In 1956, the first full year after anti-polio vaccine was introduced, the number of cases dropped to 90, and in 1957 the total was 33.

But the state health official said this is no time to become complacent. He said everyone should be protected with the full course of vaccine — three shots over a period of eight months.

Dr. Davens emphasized the importance of vaccinating pre-school children.
